STYSON AND HANLEY LEAD TEAM IN MATTER OF HITTING ABILITY FOR THIS SEASON, SPELL FINDS

Outfield Has Higher Percent of Hits But Hanley Made More of Them; Olson Ties, Cary.

First place for hitting honors on the Pendleton baseball team goes to Styson, mappy outfielder who yields a wicked stick for the Bucks. Figures that has been compiled from the official records by Manager Marshall Spell show that in the matter of percentage Styson is ahead, but he has not secured as many hits as Hanley.

Six members of the team have averages of 250 or better, and all of these men have played in at least three games. The team's batting average runs close to 250 per cent, and a total of 43 hits have been made in the four games played.

The record is as follows:

Player	Games	AB	H	Pct.
Styson	4	12	8	66.6
Hanley	4	16	8	50.0
Peterson	3	14	7	50.0
Olson	4	17	6	35.3
Cary	4	17	6	35.3
Gordon	3	12	2	16.7
Williams	4	14	2	14.3
Huey	4	16	2	12.5
Duff	2	5	0	0.0
Cahill	1	4	0	0.0

Styson has not been chalked up with as many "at bats" as the rest of the players who have participated in four games. The reason for this is that he bats in fourth place, and he can usually be depended on to hit the ball into the clouds somewhere. Several times he has been caught out, but a runner scored after his fly was caught which credits the batter with a sacrifice.

Hanley hits 'em either high or on the ground. His drive over the left field fence in Sunday's game was one of the longest ever seen here, though Styson did about as well early in the season when he knocked one clear over the grandstand behind center field. Peterson is also a long distance batter, but the characteristic of his stick work is the force which he hits. If they're up in the air they travel well, and if he fails to raise them, they're usually so hot that a fielder has a bunch of red pepper to handle to keep Pete from being credited with a hit.

Bill Cary usually belongs to the long distance gang when he connects, but he often hits on the ground. Olson, who is tied for fourth place with Cary,

Neither he nor his mechanic was injured. De Palma set the pole position for the start of the race. Roscoe Slaters made the second best time with an average of 98.25 miles per hour.

Cosmo Hamilton, from whose novel the picture was adapted, saw "Midsummer Madness" in the Famous Players-Lasky projection room in New York and sent the following telegram to Mr. De Mille:

"It is the most utterly satisfying, beautiful and human thing, all alive and throbbing, that has ever been created for the screen. I am proud and happy and cannot thank you enough."

ARCADE TODAY

BYGONE STYLES CLOSELY COPIED

The clothes worn in the 1860 period of "Milestones," the new Goldwyn picture, which comes to the Arcade theatre for three days, commencing today, were copied from pictures in old copies of the London Illustrated News of that period. They were all made especially for this picture in the designing and dressmaking shops at the Goldwyn studios in California.

High choker collars for the men and hoop skirts for the women characterize the scenes. Some of the women found considerable difficulty with their hoop skirts at first, but Alice Hollister, who plays the part of Gertrude Rivard, was right at home. She had previously acted in pictures calling for hoop skirts.

Mrs. Hollister is well known to film fans through her admirable work, both abroad and in this country. She returns to the screen in "Milestones," after an absence of two years on account of illness.
