FARMING METHODS IN MANY STATES CHANGED DURING PAST DECADE

Increases Shown in Some Crops While Others Are Not Grown so Extensively as Formerly.

CHICAGO, May 27.—(A. P.)—The face of agriculture in the middle and

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Beware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headaches, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin in the trade mark of Bayer. Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

south west, the chief farming section of the country, has undergone some remarkable changes in the past ten years it is shown by reports from state agricultural authorities gathered here.

The decade is indicated as one of the most momentous that have passed over American agriculture. Improved methods of farming are given credit for much of the transformation.

In some states production of their old time crops has fallen off as attention focused elsewhere. Meantime production per acre has increased while other states, by advancing their own acreage have helped to wipe out a slack that might otherwise have resulted. New crops have sprung to the fore here and there. In several states the character of farming has almost been made over.

Texas has forged to the front until its agricultural chiefs claim more wheat grown there than in some other states where wheat is well nigh the principal crop. They declare their grape fruit and oranges, grown in the Rio Grande Valley, equal to the best.

In wheat, Kansas, which holds the lead, has increased its acreage nearly 100 per cent in the last ten years. The increase is 1,196,999 acres. Oklahoma, which last year stood fourth in wheat production, meantime increased its planting by 1,334,999 acres. Iowa the banner corn state, enlarged its wheat crop 43 per cent.

On the other hand Minnesota, which stood second in spring wheat last year cut its wheat production 25 per cent in ten years, while North Dakota, which stood first in Spring wheat in 1920, also recorded a reduction to make way for other crops.

While Kansas was nearly doubling its wheat acreage, it dropped 2,362,000 acres from its corn planting. Oklahoma, which likewise saw greater advantages for itself in wheat, cut its corn acreage by 2,582,000. Nebraska, which stood third in corn production last year, slightly reduced its acreage in the decade, and Missouri, which stood fourth, cut off 1,285,000 acres. Meantime Iowa was enlarging its corn production 12 per cent. Minnesota, which yielded 50 per cent, South Dakota made one of its chief advances in corn production.

Wisconsin is reported changing in the decade from a grain growing state to a leading dairy state.

Michigan made notable strides in the livestock industry as did Iowa, South Dakota, Indiana and other states.

Many farmers have been unable to go on a basis of 12 months' production instead of only through the growing season. It is reported for instance from South Dakota, where diversified farming as in Arkansas and elsewhere, has made great progress in ten years.

Among other developments of the decade might be named these: Kentucky has almost quit raising hemp. South Dakota farmers are paying less attention to flax. Sugar beet acreage increased 700 per cent and alfalfa 76 per cent in Nebraska. It made great gains in Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Nebraska and elsewhere. Kentucky raised three times as much tobacco, while Ohio cut its tobacco yield 30 per cent. Oklahoma's area in crops increased nearly 2,000,000 acres.

Gunmen who barricade themselves in houses and fight Chicago police will now have to contend with a portable fort of armor steel which can be handled easily by two men. The shield is composed of two sheets of hardened steel, joined in an obtuse angle and with holes cut through to accommodate guns. It is rolled on big casters.
