He never made the major league And never dreamed of ranking with when he was playing ball, didn't grieve at all;

When he was plusted count, but He played the game for pleasure and the didn't fuss or fret

When he was young and supple and had strength to spend and spare. He'd strike out with the bases full, but didn't rave and swear; And he didn't fling his but away or sit around and sob Because he couldn't steal a base or hit like Tyrus Cobb. When he was playing tennis, his was not a topnotch game

His play was ordinary, but it pleased him just the same,

He was happy and contented if he conquered now and then (Copyright, 1921, by Edgar A. Guest.)

Every time he missed in service ball went in the net. But today he's fat and forty and his stomath's in the way

And he's listed with the golfer's and he's learning how to play; There is age upon his shoulders, and there's stiffness in his bones, But he wants the pro to teach him how to drive like Bobby Jones, his brow with sweat is damp. In a way that is convincing, that he'll never be a "champ."

PENDLETON TAX RATE LOW

HILE the carnival is underway and the boosting spirit is dominant it may be worth while to mention the little fact that Pendleton has the lowest total tax lexy of any town of its size in the state. Figures on this subject have been compiled by the Oregon Voter of Portland and the showing for the 18 principal towns of the state is as follows, the figures representing mills:

Albany, 49. Ashland, 53.4. Astoria, 60.2. Baker, 44.2. Eugene, 53. Grants Pass, 67.1. Heppner, 55. Hood River, 70.5. Klamath Falls, 52.5. La Grande, 42. Marshfield, 64.1. Medford, 61.7. Oregon City, 58.4. Pendleton, 41.5. Portland, 44.8. Roseburg, 39.8. Salem. 48.6. The Dalles, 49.5.

It will be seen from the foregoing that Roseburg is the only important town in the state having a lower rate than is paid in Pendleton and Roseburg is a smaller town than Pendleton. If you want to escape high taxes invest your money in Pen-

 JUDGE WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

RRESPECTIVE of political affiliation, the announcement from the White House that President Harding has reached a decision to select William H. Taft to succeed the late Edward Douglas White as a member of the supreme court will meet with hearty endorsement from people in all walks of life. Ex-president Taft occupies a position in the mind of the public that is peculiarly his alone. He filled for one term the highest office that is in the power of the people of the country to bestow on a man and he reaped no very great share of popularity. As a matter of fact, he has been severely criticized by members of his own party, and in many respects he has refused to bind himself to the program advocated by the party that placed him in the White House. But in all the difficult situations through which he has passed he has held the respect of both friends and enemies by his courage and by his refusal to put personal gain and popularity before what he thought was right. His is preeminently the judicial temperament, and it seems fitting that his broad vision, his knowledge of the world and its problems should be assured to the service of his country in the high office which is apparently to be offered him.

"FEEDING THE MARKET"

T is said that very few Umatilla county wheat men are signing up on the 100 per cent pooling plan offered by the Oregon cooperative organization. There are various reasons for this and one of them is that some of the abuses complained of elsewhere and which the cooperative plan seeks to remedy do not exist here as greviously as elsewhere.

For instance, one prime purpose of the cooperative selling plan is to "feed the market" gradually and not allow the market to be depressed by dumping of too much wheat on the market immediately after harvest. This is a matter of genuine import-ance to the grower but in Umatilla county the problem has not been as serious as elsewhere because of local conditions. Many farmers have been in financial position to hold their wheat and have often done so for years past. Sometimes they have gained. sometimes they have lost, but the practice has worked against excessive dumping. Another factor in the situation is that local banks are strong and therefore are usually in position to carry a farmer if he sees good prospects of higher prices ahead Through their aid the farmers are enabled to "feed the market" as they desire. In this respect our farmers are more fortunate than are the growers in regions where production is light, where farmers are usually poor men and the banks are not able to render the service that is provided in this county.

With the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Carnival under-way, the federation of woman's clubs and high school commencement coming next week, the G. A. R. soon afterwards and Pioneer's reunion occurring at Weston in the meantime the schedule of local events is almost filled to capacity.

* Most any one can have an illegal marriage or a sensational divorce suit and gain a lot of publicity while the humble citizen who lives happily with his family and helps wash the dishes gets no limelight at all.

The Salem Statesman says that although Col. Harvey has made an ass of himself he will make a good ambassador to England. Rather a low estimate on the ability needed in the diplomatic corps.

CIRCUIT RIDER STUDENT

gene, May 27.—He is a parson with a hundred pulpits, a missionary in sev en-league boots, a circuit rider with a circuit ten thousand miles long, a pertpatetic preacher, a roving exhorter,

He is a University of Oregon student also-this man who is always going from somewhere to somewhere else. He is Mr. John W. Hoyt, Sunday School missionary, with headquarters at Ashland, Oregon. He is a student of botany, Here again distance is no obstacle. He studies by correspondence under the University extension

"My work is unique," he writes "I travel 15,000 miles each year in religious welfare work for children and adults in Southwestern Oregon. I have seen a missionary in this region for eight years and in this way have trials in a "Circuit of Ten Thousand Miles. I have slept out hundreds of nights and every camp has for me a million wonders in blology, botany and goology. I am a millionaire in experience, though not in dollars. Though I have been a lover of nature all my life, and from coast to coast, I still find the mysteries of nature inchaustive, and tion from me. worth while discoveries.

"I am making a special study of botany just now. The real assistance Maggie Campbell, Dolph Eddy, Latu given by the University of Oregon extension has come as a great surprise to me. I am a correspondent student Arthur Horn, Roy Halloy, Melvin Set end of my days.

GREEN CAPS ARE BURNED. One event of Janior Week-end at the University of Oregon, which was largely attended by high school students from all over the state, was the burning of the green caps worn by the frashmen. They filed by a burning barrel and tossed their emerald headgear into the flames. For the remaining month of school they will be pernitted to wear hats.
