OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

AVOID ALL 'P'S' THEREFORE KISSES

CHICAGO, May 31.—(U. P.)—"P's" mean kisses. Therefore eliminate them from your vocabulary if you desire to be saved from the "kissing bug" said a warning promulgated at Northwestern University.
 In these care-free times the co-eds have been warned that a puckered mouth is too kissable to be safe.
 And this warning has put the sub-debs in a quandry. In order to be safe she must eliminate from her daily meals her favorites, because of their "P's" and consequent puckered lips.
 If she desires soup she dare not ask for it by that name. She must order it in the name of bouillon. Her fish meal too, must be confined to salmon and cod. To order perch or pickerel would bring her too close with in the clutches of the kissing bug.
 Likewise to say "Pardon me" and "Beg your Pardon" would imperil the girl. She must say instead, therefore, "Excuse me" and be sure and eliminate the p-leases.
 Conservative co-eds are promulgating a revision of their mother's motto "watch your P's and Q's" to "watch your 'P's'".

While waiting one night for the field marshal to join them, the old men had discussed the war.
 "I sometimes wonder if it was really necessary to sacrifice so many lives for naught," remarked one, not noticing Hindenburg had entered the room.
 Hindenburg answered him.
 "If the war had gone according to my idea, it would have closed much earlier," he replied, with dignity. "I saw years ahead what would come. I knew what the consequences would be even in 1914, 1915 and a longer time in the past when I was condemned to inactivity. I then followed all events carefully and always studied the war. I knew in advance the outcome of Verdun and saw the time when they would call me. All happened as I expected. They came and fetched me, and later I have more than once wanted to say as I worked over maps: Schluss, Schluss (the end, the end.)"
 "But there was pressure from too many sides. And, in the last analysis, I am only human, and was already an old man."
 The old men were moved. One ventured to ask:
 "And what about Ludendorff?"
 "Go," merely replied Hindenburg.
 "That was a judgment, as far as the old men were concerned. It spelled Hindenburg's feeling toward the man who mixed politics with strategy, who unlike Hindenburg, wasn't all soldier."

OLD MEN TALK WAR AT THE SKAT CLUB

BERLIN—(By Mail to U. P.)—That Hindenburg months and months before the war's close saw the handwriting on the wall and often wanted to call a halt is the story that comes from the inner recesses of his private "skat" club in Hannover.
 This same story casts a sidelight on his feeling for Ludendorff—a feeling that is generally admitted not to be very cordial.
 Hindenburg, living in his pretty,

FRANCE FAVORS DELAY IN COUNCIL'S MEETING

PARIS, May 30.—(A. P.)—Great Britain in replying to Premier Briand's recent communication regarding meeting of the supreme allied council, insists upon the desirability of meeting this week. She accepts France's suggestion that experts examine the Silesian question, but holds that the council should meet first and not wait for the experts report, as France has suggested.

Happy Canyon exhibit now shown with prices plainly displayed

The congratulations of hundreds of people who viewed our displays at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Carnival were prompted only by the attractiveness and individuality of the garments shown. The usual appeal of Penney everyday prices, always in evidence in all our regular displays, was missing.

To emphasize the service our organization is able to offer we are arranging our Happy Canyon display in our show windows with a price tag on each garment.

After admiring these garments at the show purely on their merits we are sure you'll be interested in finding the answer in our windows to the ever present question, "How Much?"

OFFICE CAT

BY JUNIUS

Some of the signs at Bingham Springs make one meditate. There is the one which says "No Fire Here," and which tells the truth because we couldn't find the sign of a blaze anywhere. Tom Murphy sounded like a "column left" as the procession turned to the right down Alta street.
