LEAVE FOR PORTLAND.
Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Edgar Norval, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kendall and Miss Daisy Morrison, of Helix, passed through Pendleton yesterday on their way to Portland.
MISS ALSTOCK HERE.
Miss Bernice Alstock, who represents the University of Oregon Women's League, is a delegate to the state convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs. Miss Alstock will be remembered as a member of the University of Oregon girls' glee club having its recent appearance in Pendleton, and as one of the soloists in "When the Clock strikes Twelve."
RECEPTION IS DELIGHTFUL.
The presence in Pendleton of Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, was the inspiration for one of the most interesting social functions of the convention days when a reception was given in her honor in the club room of the library last evening. Scores of folk assembled three after-nooning in the lecture hall, a talk by Mrs. Winter, and preceding it they shared the delight of two lovely vocal solos by Miss Mary Wylie, contralto, of New York. Miss Wylie, who charmed Pendleton hearers during a concert here several months ago, has studied with Oscar Seagle, Jean de Reszke and Frank La Forge and has been coaching with Pillar Marin in New York. She sang last evening "Song of the Kisses" (Bemberg) in French and "Lindy Lou," and was compelled to respond to a repeated encore, for not only is Miss Wylie's voice remarkable but her personality and manner are a delight, indeed. She is a sister of Mrs. S. H. Forshaw of Pendleton. Mrs. F. E. Boyden played her accompaniments last evening.

In the receiving line during the reception hour, were Mrs. Winter, Mrs. Ida B. Callahan, of Corvallis, state president; Mrs. E. T. Wade, president of the Pendleton Woman's Club, Mrs. Norborne Berkeley, president of the Current Literature Club, Mrs. Westbrook Dickson, president of the Thursday Afternoon Club, Mrs. J. T. Richardson, who is head of the Pendleton Delphian Club.
In the room a wealth of wild flowers added charm and brilliant California poppies vied with blue bachelor button blooms to deck the tables from which ices were dispensed, the refreshments being presided over by Mrs. John Van Zante, of Portland, Mrs. Collins Ekins of Prineville, Mrs. E. Evans of Portland, Mrs. R. H. Houston of Corvallis, Mrs. William Bell of Roseburg, Mrs. Charles Hines of Forest Grove, Mrs. Colon B. Eberhard of La Grande and Mrs. Alexander Thompson of Portland. They were assisted by Mrs. James Maloney, Mrs. Jessie Hiestand, Mrs. W. C. E. Pruitt, Mrs. James Estes and a score of Pendleton matrons and maids.
Mrs. Winter departed last night for Tacoma where she is to attend the convention of the Washington Federation of Clubs.
WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED.
A simple but charmingly appointed marriage service took place last evening when at eight o'clock Miss Ivis Jessie Gustafson became the bride of Raymond Ernest Morgan of College Place, the vows being exchanged at the home of Mrs. Rebecca Lugar in the Latz Apartments. The couple was unattended and Rev. W. H. Thurston of College Place, officiated.
Pink and white peonies and roses were used with a profusion of foliage in the room where the ceremony was performed and a wedding bell of flowers was suspended overhead. The bride was an attractive picture in her gown of white, worn with a veil caught to her coiffure by rosebuds of pink. Her bouquet was a cluster of carnations and roses.
About twenty-five friends, many of them from College Place, witnessed the service, and an informal reception followed. A buffet supper was served the same color scheme predominating in its dainty appointments. A group of maids assisted in the serving.
Congratulations were showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Morgan who are to make their home in College Place.

The play, "The Futurists," presented yesterday at the state hospital by nine members of the Current Literature club, was greatly enjoyed by the audience which filled the auditorium. SACRAMENTO, June 2.—(U. P.)—California's map may be changed following the intended survey of the eastern boundary of the state near the Gila river.
