CHILD TRAINING AT HOME

This is No. 24 of the fourth series of articles issued by the National Kindergarten Association, 8 West 46th Street, New York City. They are appearing weekly in these columns.

Child Activity

By Mary F. Wilson, Teacher of Manual Training, Westboro, Mass.

Children like to be active. Of course there are things that the child must do whether he likes to or not, but there is much of entertainment and development that he can gain through the activities which he craves.

Training comes through activity. The use of tools may furnish endless opportunities for helpful, happy activity. The remark of one little girl who used to visit me is significant, "I like to come up here, because I can do things."

Because the child does enjoy creating and doing, he learns unconsciously, and how much there is to be learned through the use of the fingers! Skillful hands, concentration, observation, forethought, judgment, are developed and best of all, respect rather than scorn for manual labor is implanted in the child when she is young and impressionable.

Whenever the child makes he something which, from his viewpoint is worth while.

Not long ago I bought a playtime circus for a boy; it consisted of several sheets with the outline of different animals. I gave him a box of the best colored crayons, a pair of compasses and some paste. With a little supervision, he cut out together and colored one animal at a time and then he began a picture for his room by pasting them on a strip of neutral tinted paper about ten inches wide. He was delighted with the occupation. It called for careful execution with compasses, appreciation for shades of color, imagination, and best of all, he felt that he was creating something worth while.

Of course there are children who are not interested in making toys or household objects, but any child should learn to use his hands by having certain regular home duties and responsibilities. Even a small child feels the pleasure of self reliance and self-respect that come from responsibility for some regular duties. A child of three or four can put away and care for his own toys even when it might be easier for his mother to do so. Ownership entails responsibility and it may also develop generosity; for without possessions, how can we share? As soon as a child has a little responsibility placed upon him, he begins to develop self-confidence and self-respect; he becomes an intelligent individual who thinks for himself and feels for other people, who senses and respects the rights of others.

Only as our children are taught to appreciate the feelings and regard the

INTEREST IS AROUSED IN SUGGESTED RENAMING OF FAMOUS HILL SITE

When Judge I. M. Schamp suggested that a more appropriate name be secured for Cabbage Hill and asked for help from residents of the county, he certainly "started something."

Miss Dorothy Frazier's suggestion is "Cayuse Hill."

Col. Charles W. Furlong doesn't have a name suggestion of his own, unless Wampanoac Hill would serve, but his idea is to learn what the Indian name was and use that.

"I think it would be a mistake to apply any of these poetic, high sounding names to the hill," the colonel said. "If the name is changed, it should be distinctively western. The more historical significance that can be crowded into it, the better."

FIVE OUT AT PLATE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 4.—(A. P.)—Although outbid by the Sacramento team, Seattle won 5 to 1 yesterday. Sacramento could not hit Geary with men on the bases. Five men were forced out at the plate. Geary hit a home run in the ninth with two men on bases.

OUT OF TOWN LADIES ENJOY AFTERNOON FETE

(East Oregonian Special) WESTLAND-MINNEHAHA, June 4.—Mrs. C. M. Jackson entertained at each Saturday, May 25. The ladies motored out from Hermiston and enjoyed a delightful afternoon with Mrs. Jackson.

Mrs. U. G. Shipley accompanied by her daughters Violet, Helen and Lavelle spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Connor of Stanfield.

Mrs. Letha King and her son Maurice and daughter Marjory were guests at the Prior Shaw home the past week. Mrs. King was enroute from Albany where she had been in attendance at the Rebekah assembly.

Mildred King, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Shaw, for the past few months returned to Weston with her mother.

Mr. Ware of Eugene stopped off at the Eugene ranch to visit a few days with his brother, Mr. James Ware. Mr. Ware has gone on to Idaho to look after property interests there.

Mr. and Mrs. Southward who were recently called to Eugene owing to the illness of their daughter, Mrs. Ed Munn returned home Tuesday. While they were at Eugene, Mrs. Munn who was ill with pneumonia, died leaving a husband and three little children. Mr. and Mrs. Southward brought the two youngest children home with them but the oldest one is ill at a hospital with pneumonia, but expects to come up later.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Starr had as week end guests Mr. Jacob Striffl and Mrs. Wornen of Big Eddy and Mrs. Myrtle Williams of The Dalles. They motored up leaving Big Eddy Saturday morning, arriving at Hermiston before noon and after supper they, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Starr, took a spin on up to Pendleton. The highway helps some!

The returns from the eighth grade exams were slow reaching us out of the way people, but have finally been heard from. Garold Shipley and Lum Ibea the class from Westland both made a passing grade and will enter the Hermiston high school in the fall. Virginia, Rodda the only one writing from the Minnehaha school passed with the exception of one subject which she expects to complete at the Spring Medicine

Now Needed by Nearly Every One to Purify the Blood and Build Up Strength.

Few come to these trying spring days without weariness, debility, that "fired feeling," caused in large part by impure, de-vitalized blood. Change of season often "takes all the strength out of me," as many people say.

The tonic and blood purifier needed is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Quickly dispels that exhausted feeling, enriches the blood and benefits the mental, muscular and nervous systems. In a word, says a druggist, "Hood's Sarsaparilla is our most dependable restorative." Only the best tonic and purifying ingredients used—roots, herbs, barks and berries such as physicians often prescribe. A record of 44 years successful use. It will do you good. Try it this spring.

A mild laxative, Hood's Pills.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

IS THE IDEAL SPRING MEDICINE.

June exam. Mrs. W. A. Hamelme will go to Pendleton Friday to attend the graduating exercises of the Pendleton high school. Her niece, Miss Helen Williams is a member of the graduating class.

D. Clark representing the Yakima and Columbia river nursery company, spent Wednesday and Thursday in the neighborhood in the interests of the nursery.

Many farmers, especially in the Westland neighborhood are putting up their first cutting of alfalfa.

The team of Wm. Heath ran away Saturday breaking up the mower and causing considerable excitement. Mrs. C. M. Jackson and little son Billie are in Pendleton, being called there by the serious illness of Mrs. Jackson's sister, Miss Daisy McPherson.
