Picnic Big Success.
 The annual Peoples Warehouse picnic, one of the traditions of the store, proved an enjoyable event yesterday when 100 merry-makers motored to a lovely spot in the Cayuse region. The day was spent in swimming and other sports, and a feature of the day was a bountiful lunch. In a spirited baseball game between the ladies and the gentlemen, the ladies were victorious, proving more skillful in manipulating a trying pun for a bat and a tennis ball in lieu of the usual baseball. The picnic was one of the series given by the store and the custom was originated by Leon Cohen. This year's picnic was the first given since R. D. Sayres took charge of the department store.

after noon they had caught their limit. The fish struck eagerly, they reeled, either flies or bait securing good results. The road to the springs is still rough, but it is entirely passable. They predict some wonderful fishing there this week as the stream is clearing up and the water is not so high as it was.

Mrs. Froome Dies.
 Mrs. Olive M. Froome, a resident of this city for many years, passed away Wednesday evening, June 1, at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Saunders in Seattle. Mrs. Froome had gone to the Washington city in the hope that the change of climate would benefit her health which had been failing. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Nagler and Mr. Nagler, who remained with her during her illness. Mrs. Froome had been ill about a year. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Nagler, three sisters, Mrs. H. P. Peters and Mrs. Chas. Finch of this city, Mrs. E. J. Saunders of Seattle, Mrs. J. Perry of Mason, Nev., and Mrs. Lottie Stinchum of Redding, California. Paffie and Vaughan Finch of Bendleton, Chas. and Earl Peterson of Seattle and Clyde of Walla Walla, are nephews. Funeral services were held Friday and the body laid to rest in evergreen Memorial Park of Seattle.

Hail Damages Wheat.
 Two big wheat farmers were damaged considerably yesterday by hail in the Pilot Rock section, according to information reached here today. The hail was heaviest in isolated spots. On Birch Creek Frank Byrd had a heavy acreage of his wheat badly stripped by big hailstones. He was also damaged by high water, a miniature cloudburst flooding a part of his land. On McKay Creek A. Pecavet was also damaged, according to the report. Hail caused his biggest loss. Birch Creek was up about four feet at Pilot Rock as a result of the rain. The precipitation in the southern part of the country was much heavier than here.

Caught the Limit.
 Jake Welch, Jimmy Rice and George Hartman enjoyed a fishing trip to the Lehman Springs country Saturday and Sunday. They left here Saturday afternoon and had some good luck in Bowman Creek for a short time Saturday afternoon. The next day, after spending the night at the springs, they fished in Camas Creek Sunday morning, and shortly

Rooms for Veterans.
 With only the remainder of this week to make preparations for receiving the veterans of the G. A. R. and other auxiliary organizations when they come here next week for their state convention, the Commercial Association is anxious to secure more rooms to take care of the guests. Pendleton people have signified their willingness to take care of about 100 visitors, but many more are expected to be here. Last year at Astoria there were more than 700 visitors in attendance, and more than half of that number is expected to be here. Anyone having rooms is requested to notify the Commercial Association office so that there may be no question as to the ability of the association to take care of the comforts of the aged veterans.

They'll Play Tonight.
 The Methodists and Baptists will stage a baseball battle tonight at the Round-Up grounds in a regularly scheduled game of the Twilight League program. A slaughter is also expected tomorrow night, too, when the Presbyterian team, prime of President Mac Hoke's heart, and the hard hitting Indians clash for a decision. The season for the league will come to a close June 29. Plans are now under way to hold a picnic during the latter part of the month for the teams and their friends if interest in the games justifies it.

Work for Cowboys' Convention.
 Some of the wickedest horses in Eastern Oregon are being rounded up for the Cowboys' Convention which is to be held at Ukiah this year, July 4 and 5. Albert Peterson was here this morning from Ukiah, and he reports that an organization of boosters there has been formed. A good track has been constructed and enclosed and plans are all completed for the event. Several riders were trying out horses yesterday, Peterson declares, and the exhibitions given promises some real sport.

Enjoy Bankers' Convention.
 Will H. Bennett, cashier of the Inland Empire bank, and J. DeWilde of the American National bank have returned from Seaside where they attended the meeting of the bankers of the state. Mr. DeWilde made an address on financial publicity, "Green Pastures," before the convention. He also met Merle Chessman and Lee Drake, former Pendleton men who were in attendance at the meeting. An inspection of a Canadian torpedo boat at Seaside was an interesting feature of the visit.

Milton Man Honored.
 Paul W. Coe, of Milton, student at O. A. C., has been chosen winner of the Joseph H. Albert prize of $25, to the senior man proving himself most worthy during his college career. The election was held at the last senior meeting at the college under the trying tree. The prize was offered by Joseph H. Albert of Salem and is given to the man ranking highest in qualities of character, service and wholesome influence. A committee of three seniors who are voted on by the entire senior class to decide the winner.

Mother's Condition Serious.
 A telegram received yesterday by the Thompson Drug Co. from A. C. Olson who is at Portland gives the information that his mother's condition is serious. Mr. Olson came here recently from Havre, Montana. His mother has been at Spokane where she was under the care of two trained nurses. About a week ago she was taken to Portland for further treatment, but she is in a serious condition, and her recovery is impossible, according to the message.

Bank Has Picnic.
 Employees and officials of the American National bank had a very enjoyable time yesterday on the annual picnic. About 45 people were included in the party that motored up the river about 12 miles. Several different events were enjoyed by the merry-makers chief of which was an old fashioned basket dinner at the noon hour. It is also reported that Perry Idleman made a bet during the day.

Traffic Violators Fined.
 Six fines were paid this morning in city court as a result of hearings before Magistrate Thomas Fitz Gerald. Fienna Durgan paid an old fine of $2 for driving his car with the cutout open. The other five were J. E. Parker, Richard Roe, R. Rankin, John Doe and L. M. Egan. All except Egan received fines of $2, and his fine was $1.

Goes to San Francisco.
 Gus Lewin, for the past two years prescription clerk at the Economy Drug Co. store, has gone to San Francisco where he has accepted a position. He was in the Golden Gate city for about five years before coming to Pendleton.

New Door Put In.
 "A new door is being put in at the right end of the lobby of the post office, near the money order window, leading from the lobby to the business rooms. The new door is for the convenience of employees and the general public and will prove a step-saver."

Exhibit to Be Shown.
 An exhibit of needlework done by the girls of St. Joseph's Academy will be shown tomorrow afternoon at the academy. An invitation has been issued to the public to see the exhibit between the hours from 1 to 5 p. m.
