EYES OF EX-EMPRESS SAW MANY TRAGEDIES

BRUSSELS, June 7.—(U. P.)—Forming the sole remaining link with the reign of the late King Leopold of Belgium, the ex-Empress Charlotte of Mexico attained her 51st birthday today.

This winter the aged Princess, who was the late King Leopold's sister, was within an ace of paying the last debt of nature. In fact, at the end of January the doctors almost gave up hope of saving her, but the iron will that stamps every member of the Saxe-Coburg family carried her through, as much as medical skill, and she is now tolerably well, although her entourage admit she is likely to pass away at any moment.

The ex-empress has probably lived through more royal tragedy and court scandal than any other European princess. Her husband, the ill-fated Emperor Maximilian, was shot by Mexican insurgents almost a year before the fall of the empire, and his wife was only 27. She returned, nerve-shattered, to Belgium where her brother, King Leopold's generous provision enabled her to live in comfortable retirement.

Family troubles in the household of the late king swept round her, however. Leopold's illicit loves; the sale of his dead queen's diadem; the lawsuits of his two elder daughters; the wild tales surrounding the death of his son; the death-bed scandal with the royal patronage, etc., all helped to increase the sadness of her life.

Now in her sylvan retreat at Bouchoit, the aged ex-empress knows little of how the world wags, and is more or less a prisoner in her own castle with its spacious grounds. She knows that the war is over. At the actual outbreak of hostilities, the news was hidden from the old lady for a long time, a deception which was aided by the fact that of all the royal chateaux in Belgium, her castle alone was respected by the Germans, on account of her German origin.

Lila "Hands" It to 'Em

Lila Lee is a handy thing about a movie studio. A sculptor once said she had perfect hands and fingers. Ever since she has been lending them, photographically speaking, to actresses not so kindly treated by nature.
