Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

HEART'S DESIRE.

What is it that the heart desires,
And yet men sigh from day to day,
Beyond the peace of happy fires,
And frown where merry children play,
The kettle's merry song?
And tell their tales of woe,
And what can gold and silver buy
Because they have not come to fame
Of all the pomp of fame supply and have no lands or gold to claim—
Oh, why should this be so?

Which man need mourn for long?
With health and laughter where he dwells,
What is there in life's luxuries, and
no man should sigh for thing else,
all the drowsy ways of ease
Who sits by happy fires,
That man should sigh to miss?
And hears the kettle's merry song—
If but the home he keeps is glad with laughter, why need he be sad,
Or seek a greater bliss?
He has his heart's desires.

IN OREGON

THERE have been those who thought people had forgotten all about the war and its meaning. There has been some basis for such a belief, it must be admitted. But the people of Oregon have not forgotten. Reports thus far received from the voting yesterday shows a splendid majority for the soldier aid bill. Even though times are hard and money scarce our people have stood as they stood in 1918, loyally behind the men who did the fighting. Nor is that all. It has been shown conclusively by sentiment expressed over the Albers' case that this commonwealth is staunchly against anything smacking of disloyalty. Though the department of justice at Washington has wavered the people of the Webfoot state hold to the old fashioned notion that there is but one suitable place for a disloyalist and that is a jail.

THEY'LL HAVE TO WAKE UP

THE reduction of 10 per cent in the freight rate on perishable vegetables from the west is in the right direction. It was found from experience that the high rates that have been in effect have simply stifled business. In many instances fruits and vegetables were allowed to rot because the freight rate would amount to more than the value of the product. People do not realize it but high freight rates are doing more to hamper business than do high taxes. There is need of reform in railroad methods so as to provide lower handling costs. In the west the call is for electrification of the roads. We are now paying freight rates based on the cost of coal and oil for fuel when a superior source of power is allowed to go unused. There are two courses open, either the railroads must make use of this cheap power and give lower rates or the public will be forced more and more to quit the railroads and rely on public highways and motor transportation.

THEY HIRED SUBSTITUTES

SINCE George Harvey was appointed as ambassador to England it has been recalled that at one time he made a speech in Charleston, S. C., in which he said that though his civil war relatives were all northerners and hated slavery, none of them would fight against the south. He recalled that 11 relatives hired substitutes, as allowed at that time, and that the twelfth went to jail rather than pay for a substitute.

It is said that the Charleston speech of Col. Harvey made no hit with the southerners who heard him. They naturally looked with disdain or contempt upon a northern family that went to war by the substitute route.

Had all the north been made up of people like the relatives of Ambassador Harvey the rebellion would not have been quelled. The union would have been divided and we would have had two republics instead of one. Along the Mason and Dixon line there would now be a string of forts and each country would have to go armed against the other. Slavery would have been continued in the south and between north and south there would be a feeling of bitterness probably equal to that existing today between England and Ireland. Instead of a great world power the United States would now be composed of two countries hopelessly divided and each viewing the other with jealous rivalry.

As an exponent of Americanism at the court of St. James Colonel Harvey leaves much to be desired.

A report from the news bureau of the American relief expedition, handling the European relief fund says that "two carloads of flour donated by Milton and Pendleton counties, Oregon," have reached Warsaw; let's hope that in getting this food to the suffering Poles the relief workers have had better luck geographically than they did in remembering where the flour came from.

Strawberries are down to less than 10 cents a box here and in Portland the market is even lower; bad for the grower but the long suffering consumer is having an inning.

OLD AGE, HIS MARK!

Oliver Wendell Holmes, in the charming discourses of "The Professor at the Breakfast Table," refers to an unmistakable sign of old age. It is three parallel lines between the brows. We can detect the first traces of disease by signs just as plain.

When a woman suffers from backache, nervous depression, dragging-down pains, and those ailments peculiar to women, it is plain that she needs a woman's medicine. What other could she more wisely resort to than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for half a century has proved the natural restorative for these troubles?

28 YEARS AGO

(From the East Oregonian, June 8, 1893.)

R. N. Stanfield is here from his Butter creek ranch. He says there will be a fair fruit crop with the exception of peaches and apricots—grain could not be better.

The wool market is very depressed. Nominal quotations run from six to 12 cents.

W. M. Tunner's tunnel on the Welch place has been run 90 feet into the hill and it is claimed that fire opals have been struck beyond a doubt. Mr. Tunner believes there is platinum in the mine also.

G. W. and A. W. Rugg of Nye, are here today.

George Frosome is here from Athens today.

Warning to Reckless Drivers

The regular danger signals had no effect on one reckless driver at this corner in Seattle. So others are being warned more effectively by the sign telling of the accident.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 8.—(U. P.)—Five hundred thousand acres is the Canadian government estimate of the new land that will be placed under cultivation in Manitoba this year. This large increase is expected to make the present the banner year of the province in farm production.

ANTS THREATEN BUILDING

WICHITA, Kan., June 8.—(A. P.)—Hordes of ants, driving upward from the earth through the tubes, are threatening destruction to the $100,000 Exchange building at the stockyards here. Oaken lumber stored under the building has been practically consumed and the ants have driven their way up along pipe lines to the woodwork of the west end of the structure which they have tunneled as far as the second floor.

CHINESE TO BE HELPED

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(A. P.)—Purchase by the government of $5,000,000 worth of food for distribution by the Red Cross to the starving Chinese was proposed today in a bill offered by Representative Miller, republican, Washington.

U-97 ONCE TERROR OF UNDERSEAS LIES SUNK IN LAKE MICHIGAN

Four Gun Crews of U.S.S. Wilmette Are Touring Chicago Spending $100 Prize Money.

CHICAGO, June 8.—(A. P.)—U-97 of the German navy, once a terror of the underseas, lies today in 150 feet of water 20 miles out in Lake Michigan while four gun crews of the U. S. S. Wilmette are touring Chicago, spending $100 prize money, the price set on the former kaiser's submarine.

Thirteen shells from the four-inch rifles of the gunboat sent the U-boat down just as the Wilmette turned to deliver another broadside from her port batteries. Twelve of the 13 shots scored direct hits, riddling the submarine. With smoke pouring from gaping wounds, the stuck her nose beneath the waves and slipped from sight in less than a minute.

Captain W. D. Wurtzbaugh, commandant of Great Lakes naval training station, who witnessed the sinking, accompanied by his staff and army officers from Fort Sheridan, distributed the prize money, $40 to the crew of No. 1 port gun, who scored five hits in five shots and $60 among the crews of the remaining three guns. The U-97, which sank seven allied ships, was 230 feet long. She was among the first 10 which surrendered to the allies at Harwich, England, after the armistice.

"GOLF CABINET" MAY BE NEXT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(A. P.)—A "golf cabinet" may be the next innovation in the white house circle. At least President Harding is to resume golfing relations with the "golf bloc" in congress, interrupted when he left the senate. He will play at the Chevy Chase Club with a group, including Speaker Gillett of the house and Senators Hall, Hitchcock, Edge, Kellogg and Freylinghuysen.

SPOKANE MAN PUTS KICK IN ICE CREAM

SPOKANE, June 8.—Ice cream with a kick to it is the invention of a Spokane chemist, W. Paul Heath of the Hazelwood company. It is nothing more or less than carbonated ice cream, according to Fred Martin, manager of the Hazelwood. The carbonating, he said, gives the cream a snap and vivifies the flavor beyond that of the ordinary product.

A Washwoman's Love Token

A washwoman's love for her 12 dead children and late husband prompted the erection of this marble tomb. It cost $1000, the savings of Mrs. Filomena Taurillo of Newark, N. J., from her earnings as washwoman since her arrival here 20 years ago. The tomb is in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, near Newark.
