

GREEK TARTAR'S NEW CODE OF HEALTH TEACHES THAT MAN IS COMPOSED OF 3 PERSONALITIES

Man Cannot Function Fully Until All Are in Harmony Says Message From Middle East.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8.—(A. P.)—A new gospel of health, that man is not one but three, and that he cannot function fully until his three personalities are in harmony, has come here from the middle east on the tide of Russian and other refugees from far countries.

This gospel is proclaimed by a small dark man of mystery, a Greek Tartar, G. I. Gurdjieff. He has contributed to the meager intellectual life of the city a new throb.

The outward and primary of his teachings begins with dances borrowed from the Mosques of Persia and the temples of India. He puts some of his patients on bread and water for months at a time but requires them, all the while, to carry on the most violent exercises which conform to the music of a piano.

Gurdjieff's teachings have some similarity with the ancient Greek conceptions of the development of mental force and bodily grace and activity.

He is persuaded that his teachings will change the art of living. He has gathered about him a group of converts who say they are going to spread his theories westward, some going to the United States. He says that he was taught by Russian physicians and psychologists.

"In harmony there is health," declared Gurdjieff. "The western world of medicine and psychology has never grasped the truth that man is not controlled by one personality, but by three, and when these three are not in harmony a man says he is 'sick.' A sick man, a man with that tired feeling, is like a horse and carriage without a driver. The man is not master of himself.

"Civilization has led man away from himself, physically and spiritual. Too much use of the head has deharmonized him. Man is composed of three parts, just like a machine. One part thinks, one feels, and one eats and sleeps. If man thinks too much, or eats too much, or sleeps too much, he falls ill.

"My plan is to first put the three back into a common unity, and then gradually develop a fourth personality which controls the other three. If this fourth personality or dominating consciousness is not developed, the three men in the same body never establish contact with each other, and the anarchy we call sickness destroys him."

MEN IN BOAT WILL TRY TO CIRCLE GLOBE

NEW YORK, June 8.—(U. P.)—A modern version of "Three Men in a Boat" will be presented by Captain Muner Tonnin and two companions, who will leave this month for a voyage around the world.

The trip will be made in an open lifeboat, equipped with a sail. The only shelter will be a canvas cover for the bunks. The boat will carry 14 weeks' provisions.

The route will be New York, England, Gibraltar, Suez Canal, Sumatra, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, California, Panama Canal, and back to New York. They believe the voyage will require 14 to 18 months.

Tonnin's companions are Othar Pettersen and Heige Westering. All are members of the Norwegian Masters' and Mates' Association.

OPIUM IS SMUGGLED IN.
HAVANA, Cuba, June 8.—(A. P.)—Seizure by Havana customs inspectors of several valuable contraband shipments of opium has given rise to the theory that a strong smuggling organization is working through the Spanish port of Barcelona. The drug captured has been found in the baggage of passengers arriving from that port.

One consignment which was found in a warehouse here is valued at about $250,000.

ITALY WANTS GERMANY TO GIVE ASSISTANCE

ROME, June 8.—(Henry Wood, U. P. Staff Correspondent.)—Fresh complications for the Allies in the very near future are now rapidly brewing in the intense propaganda being carried on in Austrian Tyrol for annexation to Germany.

The supreme object to be attained by this is to give Germany and Italy a common boundary—something that has been the dream of Italian and German statesmen ever since the two countries attained their national unity.

As a signatory of the Versailles treaty, wherein she has pledged herself to oppose any annexation of German-Austrian territory to Germany, Italy, officially at least, is obliged to maintain a negative attitude in the intense propaganda which is now under way in Austrian Tyrol.

However, Italian statesmen and politicians are unable either to deny or conceal the fact that if, by one means or another this little strip of Austrian territory lying just north of the Italian border at the Brenner pass and just south of Munich should become a part of German territory, the advantages to Italy would be almost incalculable.

One of the eternal nightmares from which all Italian statesmen suffer is that of the manner in which Italy is at all times at the mercy of England because of the latter's control of the Mediterranean. Italy as a maritime power is dependent for her national existence on her ability to keep up sea commerce with the rest of the world, especially for the importation of coal, wheat and other essentials for her life.

Yet with England controlling both the western entrance to the Mediterranean to Gibraltar and the eastern at the Suez canal, she could at any moment cut-off Italy from all commerce with the rest of the world and reduce her to starvation and terms in a very few weeks.

The thesis of nearly all leading Italian statesmen has therefore always been that Italy's national safety and existence depended upon connection with some northern country that could always insure an outlet for her commerce through the northern seas as well as an inlet for importations. Manifestly, the country best situated to do this is Germany, and this was one of the principal considerations in Italy's membership in the Triple Alliance before the war as well as the principal motive back of all Italian statesmen who hesitated in the matter of Italy's taking sides with the Allies during the recent war.

The treaty of Versailles reduced the territory which separates Italy from Germany to an almost inconsiderable strip. The population is overwhelmingly German and it is amongst this population that Germany is carrying on an only too welcomed propaganda for annexation to Germany.

The lack of common frontier both the German and Italian economists point out constitutes the greatest barrier to reciprocal economic development and relations of the two countries, which would require a customs union. The propaganda now being advocated is that the Tyrol could be formed into an autonomous province and annexed to Italy for the sake of the common frontier and reciprocal economic advantages.

The propaganda to this end is being carried on in such a manner that the situation created thereby can hardly escape much longer consideration by the Allies.

Why some men seem to have all the tire luck —

YOU probably know a man whose car is a hobby with him. He knows just why it's the best little old car there is of its class.

And he'll stand up for that car against the world in any kind of an argument.

Year by year an increasing number of men feel the same way about U. S. Tires.

For a while they may try "job lot" stuff, "bargains," "big discounts" and "rebates."

But usually it doesn't take long for a man to sense the economy of the standard quality tire.

For years U. S. Tire makers have been building quality tires for sane tire users—for the car of medium or light weight no less than for the heavy car.

The tire buyers of the land have responded with a mighty U. S. Tire following.

The U. S. Tire makers meet the responsibility for supplying this nationwide following with characteristic energy.

Ninety-two U. S. Factory Branches are established, covering the entire country.

Find the U. S. Tire dealer who has the intention of serving you. You will know him by his full, completely sized line of fresh, live U. S. Tires—quality first, and the same choice of size, tread and type as in the biggest cities of the land
