PATRONAGE ROW ON AMONG REPUBLICANS

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(By I. C. Martin, U. P. Staff Correspondent)—Collection of "Promissory Notes" issued by some enthusiastic politicians before, during and after the republican convention last June is causing trouble in republican party circles.

These "Promissory Notes" were in fact vague assurances of federal jobs. They were not made in a way to violate the federal corrupt practices act, but apparently many workers took them to be good and are now holding the makers for payment.

That, in substance, is the bottom of the situation which was exemplified in the quarrel between Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and Attorney General Daugherty over patronage.

As explained by republican politicians here, too many promises were made by too many persons. These promises were mostly vague and were born perhaps of the enthusiasm of the moment. But now it develops that a good many more folks have expectations than there are places.

Daugherty, as President Harding's chief political adviser, has been more or less in charge of the situation. He has been of course in sole charge of the many federal jobs, and Attorney Generalships and U. S. marshalships which come under the department of justice. He has in some cases appointed men whose selection was a great disappointment of other republican politicians, who had given other candidates assurances.

After it became known that Frelinghuysen and Daugherty had hot words in Daugherty's office over New Jersey patronage, many republican members of congress began to discuss their differences with Daugherty.

EVER BEARING ORANGE TREE IS DISCOVERED

TAMPA, Fla., June 13.—(A. P.)—An ever-bearing orange tree which citrus fruit growers believe is destined to revolutionize the orange industry of the state if not of the entire country, has been discovered by horticulturists in a small grove at Avon Park, near here, and to protect the specimen its purchasers have placed around it a heavy wire fence twenty feet in height and stationed guards day and night.

The tree has been in bearing continually eight years but until recently its existence was known only to the owner and several neighbors who, according to citrus experts, did not realize its value but regarded it merely as a freak of nature. Several of South Florida's largest citrus growers have organized a syndicate, purchased the tree, leased the ground upon which it stands and already are taking steps to develop its possibilities by propagating it through budwood, with the expectation of having 250,000 trees ready for setting out in groves in 1923.

The ever-bearing tree is about fifteen years old but its origin is a mystery. Like the famous Temple orange tree discovered some years ago on the estate of the late W. C. Temple, one time National League baseball manager, the new specimen stands alone as the first of an entirely new branch of the citrus family and its owners believe it will bring forth stock tree to the parent tree and, as in the case of the Temple tree, be worth millions to the men who had the foresight to grow its possibilities.

Apparently authentic records show that for eight years the tree has blossomed and borne fruit continuously and that at no time during that period has it failed to have blossoms and fruit at all stages of maturity. In outward appearance the fruit is a Valencia except that it is slightly more oblong than that variety. The meat in texture and flavor is that of a perfect Valencia, the variety that brings the top price in the markets.

The ever-bearing Florida lemon has been common for many years but citrus experts here declare they never before have known of an ever-bearing orange.
