THE NEWS PAPER MAN

Bit of a priest and a bit of sailor,
Bit of a doctor and bit of a tailor,
Bit of a lawyer, and bit of detective,
Bit of a judge, for his work is corrective,
Cheering the living and soothing the dying,
Risking all things, even dare-devil flying,
True in his paper and true to his clan—
Just look him over, the newspaper man.
Sleep! There are times that he'll do with a little,
Work till his nerves and his temper are brittle,
Fire cannot daunt him, nor long hours disturb him,
Gold cannot buy him and threats cannot curb him,
Highbrow or lowbrow, your own speech he'll hand you,
Talk as you will to him, he'll understand you;
He'll go wherever another man can,
That is the way of the newspaper man.

THE LABORERS OF AMERICA

IN a letter to the so-called international federation of unions the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor now in session at Denver, it is made clear that organized labor in America has no sympathy with the radicalism of the international association. Socialization of industries and the general strike are denounced in unqualified terms. It is set forth that the American federation wishes the labor movement to progress "on the basis that accords with the philosophy of democracy and human freedom with autonomy and freedom for all." This is broad ground to stand upon because it recognizes the rights of others. In America most people are workers whether they be so labelled or not. There are few drones except occasionally some among the idle rich or indolent poor. The average American works, with hands or brain or both, and he desires that his services be recognized. When any group of men, large or small, assumes that they alone represent the labor of the nation they make a mistake. The progress of society is based on the division of labor, each man serving as his talents or ambitions permit, and all elements are entitled to consideration.

THEY EXPECT SOME WHEAT

THE winter wheat crop in Washington for 1921 will be 29,790,000 bushels, or nearly 50 per cent greater than that of 1920, and approximately the same amount greater than the crop of 1919, according to a forecast by G. S. Ray of Spokane, state agricultural statistician of the federal bureau of crop estimates. The conditions of spring wheat June 1 indicated a yield of 17.3 bushels per acre, or a total production of 21,543,000 bushels. In 1920 the yield was 17,862,000 bushels and in 1919, 18,877,000 bushels, according to Mr. Ray's report. The June report shows that indications point toward a combined crop of 51,333,000 bushels of wheat for 1921, as against 37,982,000 bushels in 1920.

THE COMING FARM POWER

"ELECTRICITY can solve the problem of Western farm power," declares the editor of Sunset in the July issue, discussing the acute Western farm problem arising from the fact of the increased cost of oil and gasoline. "The farmer using internal combustion motors as a source of farm power must go on operating the engines, especially if he pumps water for irrigation. Last year the farmer did not worry except about the supply of fuel; he expected record prices for his crops. This year it is different. He knows now that crop prices will be low, some of last year's bills are still unpaid and as a result every dollar that succeeds in squeezing its way out of his pockets is covered with perspiration from the effort. "The prices of all petroleum products are still high and will never be much lower. The increasing demand will keep them up. Higher costs at the well, higher refinery expenses, higher freight rates lift the retail price until the pump farmer of the West finds his fuel bill too high, reduces his acreage or quits altogether. "Yet there is a way out. Electricity will solve the problem. "Where hydro-electric power is available, its cost has not increased in the same ratio as petroleum power, therefore the change from oil to electricity is going on as fast as lines can be built and equipment installed. Even where water power is not now available, farmers are getting together here and there, abandoning their individual plants and planning the erection of central stations equipped with Diesel type engines that burn low-cost crude oil in the cylinders. When Diesel motors are used to operate electric generators, the resulting power can be delivered to the farmer under right conditions far more cheaply than he can generate his own power with an individual distillate engine."

Over at McNeil's Island the authorities say they will treat Gardner like any other prisoner—only a little more so; it will be well for them to look out or he will put the warden in a cell and walk away.

This is no time to try to build an auditorium in Pendleton but it is not too early to think about it and to take steps towards securing a suitable site.

We'll have to admit that Major Moorhouse is giving us some wonderful weather.

MILTON-FREEWATER TO CELEBRATE WITH TWO-DAY CELEBRATION

July 4 and 5 Will See Crowds at Milton for Attractive Celebration of Holiday.

A Fourth of July celebration with all kinds of pep and punch is promised by Milton-Freewater in a big two-day program that is being planned by the Commercial Associations of the two towns. July 4 and 5 are the dates on which the events will be staged. The program will be given at Milton, but both towns are going to cooperate in making the celebration an unqualified success.

There'll be something that everybody will like and enjoy, the committee declares. The merry-go-round will be there for the kids and the young man and his best girl to ride. The water fight promises to furnish diversion for the crowd.

In the way of more serious things, there will be an address on the first day. Sport lovers will be well provided for, too, because there will be a good ball game each day. Street games have also been provided, and included on the bill will be novelty races, foot races and a wrestling match.

In the way of music, the Twin City band will be on hand to furnish entertainment. Parades are to be given each day and an appropriate prize will be given each day for the most attractively decorated car and float. The evening's entertainment will be concluded with a dance in an open-air pavilion. The committee in charge of the affair consists of H. A. Williams, W. J. Maynard, F. C. Simpson and A. H. Mealey.

Several weeks ago the Pendleton Commercial Association decided to hold no celebration here on the Fourth, but business places will be closed all day and people will be given an opportunity to get out to the other towns in the county where special programs are being given. This action was taken on account of the splendid spirit manifested by the towns of the county in boosting the Round-Up. In this way Pendleton business men and the people generally will have an opportunity to repay to the neighboring towns the compliment that they always pay Pendleton at that season when the slogan is, "Let 'er Buck!"

28 YEARS AGO

(From the Daily East Oregonian, June 17, 1893.)

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winn Johnson is suffering from measles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. John Vert left this evening for Portland to attend grand chapter of Eastern Star.

Mrs. C. J. Whitaker will return tomorrow from an extended visit to Michigan.

Miss Kittle Dillon of Foster is the guest of Mrs. R. M. Turner.

The Umatilla Indians are making preparations to celebrate with their red brethren of the Lower reservation. A large crowd will attend among them Chief Peo.

Papering the walls with Austrian bank notes has proved such a good advertisement that several innkeepers have taken up the idea in Geneva. The cost is but little more than that of good wallpaper.

M'CARROLL AND JACKSON WINNERS IN MAT EVENTS

Walter Jackson threw Cliff Gordon twice, Ray McCarroll disposed of Babe Wilson, Dee Hinton pinned the shoulders of Bill Waffle to the mat, and a four-round boxing mill between Buddy Stevens and Buddy Allen resulted in a draw at the athletic show put on at Eagle-Woodman hall by McCarroll.

The main event was decidedly a one-sided affair. Jackson was easily master of Gordon, the latter having nothing to offer except defensive tactics, and they availed him little. He did manage to wriggle loose from tight holds, but at those rare intervals when he had an opportunity to assume the offensive he showed his lack of ability. He was thrown twice, a headlock and scissors being the cause of his downfall the first time, and a scissors and half Nelson being used the second time.

McCarroll was able to master Wilson with little difficulty, although the Boise man was game. The first fall came in 2 minutes a half Nelson and a body scissors being used both times. The second fall was secured in 15 minutes.

A fairly good crowd witnessed the event.
