CORSETS LOSE OUT IN FASHION'S RACE

LONDON, June 22.—(U. P.)—All stars abandon, ye who wear smart frocks.

That is the command issued on the threshold of a new dress season and the woman who intends to follow Fashion's decreed will roll up her corsets and give them to the charlady to light the fire with.

If she keeps them round her form, she can't get the "correct" line, which Paris says must be long with easy movement at the hips.

This is to be a "swish" year, but a non-ruffle one. That is, soft satin is to be the popular fabric, while ruffles and other rustling silks are to be given a rest.

Mayfair salons are already bright with gaudy colors. Mustard tweed coats have silver braid for decoration, while vivid jade is modelled as a suit with a high collar of blue and white checked satin. The old tartan plaid is everywhere in evidence and the color epidemic is spreading also to hats. Quite the favorite color for headgear is tomato red and every other tone of red, including scarlet. In fact, the woman whose wardrobe does not include a red hat might just as well have no hats at all, so far as being fashionable is concerned.

MRS. ORTHWEIN TELLS HER STORY TO JURY

CHICAGO, June 22.—(U. P.)—Mrs. Cora Orthwein, who is on trial for the murder of Herbert Zeigler, testified that Zeigler was in a drunken frenzy. She left him at a cabaret and later he came to her apartment and battered down the door. She feared he would kill her. They fought, he striking her, and then she shot him to save herself, according to her story.

MEN WANTING HIGHER SALARY MAY NOT BE INSANE THIRDS JUDGE

NEW YORK, June 22.—(U. P.)—Alton Mann, suing to have his brother declared incompetent, charged that the latter frequently asked for salary raises. The judge could not see this as a sign of mental disorder.
