GOMPERS IS REJECTED PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR

ADMIRAL SIMS WILL NOT RESIGN FROM U. S. NAVY

Reprimand for His London Speech Regarded as a Closed Incident by Naval Official.

HAS CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT HARDING

Admiral's Demeanor as He Emerged Left Impression Conference Was Cordial.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—(A. L. Bradford, U. P. Staff Correspondent)—That Sims regards Secretary of the Navy's reprimand as a closed incident, is indicated today. His friends described his emotions as follows: (1) He has no intention of resigning from the navy; (2) He is not bothered by the reprimand, nor does he feel "squeezed"; (3) He is sorry he embarrassed the administration, but holds the same opinions regarding Great Britain and Sinn Fein, as he stated in his speech. Sims resumed his station as president of the naval war college at Newport, R. I.

Took Sting From Reprimand. WASHINGTON, June 25.—(A. L. Bradford, U. P. Staff Correspondent)—The president's conference with Admiral Sims immediately after the officer had received a reprimand publicly from the secretary of the navy for his London "jackass" speech, is believed to have taken some of the sting from the reprimand. There is no official authorization for such an assertion, but the admiral's demeanor as he emerged from the white house lent the impression the conference had been cordial despite his official naval rebuke.

The national government paid two-thirds of the cost of initial construction which amounted to $20,000 the county paying the remaining portion. The cost of maintenance, however, was left to the county.

BAPTIST CONVENTION CONDEMNS 'MOVIES'

DES MOINES, June 25.—(U. P.)—Northern Baptists convening here, leaning toward the "blue law" and its enactment are reported as favoring prohibition of movie films and denunciation of the dance halls. "Movies are steadily growing worse," the report said. "It is admitted on all sides that the present movie is a grave moral menace. Pictures are often gross, suggestive, portray crimes, highway robbery, assault, murder, caricature ministers and make light of religion. They are constant excitement of sex curiosity. The conference recommended a strict censorship and a united strike, until the films are purged. 'The dance hall,' the report said, "even under the best of conditions, needs watching. REFUNDING ALLIED WAR DEBT IS OBSTACLE TO SO-CALLED BONUS BILL

Republican Leaders do not Discuss Bill; Say it Would be Unwise to Push Measure.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—(U. P.)—The question of refunding the allied war debts is declared to be an obstacle in the way of the so-called bonus bill for ex-soldiers. Other obstacles which have arisen to the veterans adjusted compensation act, may delay the passage of the bill several months, senate leaders declare. The republican leaders are reticent in discussing the measure, and merely say it would be unwise to push it at this time.

It is expected that Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, who is handling the bill in the senate and other advocates of the bill that the funds for paying veterans compensation will not begin until after July 1922 and will be derived from the interest on foreign loans. The unexpected attack by Senator Borah on the bonus bill is also said to have had an influence in the change of plans. If the bill is pressed, it might make such legislation unpopular with the country. President Harding takes no definite position on the measure, but reported that he favors compensation.

BOXED APPLES SHIPPED THIS YEAR MUST BE LARGER THAN LAST YEAR

No Summer Apples Less Than Two and a Fourth Inches in Diameter to be Accepted.

Fresh apples shipped from the Milton-Fresno district this season must be 25 per cent larger than those shipped last year, according to an agreement of all the leading shippers yesterday as an outgrowth of the thirping demonstrations held by Fred Bennion, county agent and C. L. Long, horticultural expert from O. A. C.

The shippers, including the Lamb Fruit Co. and Milton Fruit Growers' Union, decided that the Winesap, Johnathan, White-Winter and Grimes Golden apples must total 290 to the box, with 175 for fancy and C grade apples. The minimum number for Stagnum, Winesap, Arkansas Black, Elmer Newton, Rome Beauty and Ben Davis apples was set at 163. To encourage the growth of larger apples, the shippers agreed on a special differential for 36, 134 and 162 and larger apples. No smaller apples less than two and a fourth inches in diameter are to be accepted.

The thirping demonstrations, which took place in the orchards of W. C. Hopson, J. F. Slover and W. Mumford, showed the fundamental principle of showing in relation to size, color, market value, and the vigor of the tree. Three trees were thinned with a distance of eight to 10 inches, three with a distance of seven to three inches and three with a distance of three to four inches. Three trees were left unthinned so that a check may be kept. When picking time comes, apples will be picked separately and the market value placed on the different lots.

Mr. Bennion says that the set of apples is considerably heavy this year. On the trees where the eight to 10 inch thirping was used, 2,210 apples were taken off. Shippers are glad to raise the standard of the size of the apples. Mr. Bennion says, as they have had trouble disposing of the smaller fruit in the Eastern market. This spring 1,100 trays of five tier apples were left in the market. Several hundred cars were dumped and several hundred were sold at 50 cents a box.

DENVER, June 25.—(U. P.)—Samuel Gompers, a 71 year old veteran, scored the greatest triumph of his career when for the fortieth time he was elected president of the American Federation of Labor. In an election replete with dramatic interest, age won over the younger element seeking to wrest control of the federation by electing John L. Lewis, 41 years of age, head of the United Mine Workers of America. Lewis was snowed under by Gompers' votes before balloting was half taken.

The coal strike of 1915 was made the leading issue by Gompers' supporters, who attacked Lewis for his action in calling off the strike.

The official vote was Gompers 25,022 and Lewis 15,324. Amid cheers, Gompers arose to address the convention. "The defeat of Lewis gives me no pride," said Gompers. "The real gratification is that the newspapers owned by the multi-millionaire, with a circulation of 8,000,000, cannot control the labor movement. SLIGHT DECLINE IS NOTICED IN JULY WHEAT

July wheat closed a fraction of a cent lower than yesterday's price, while September wheat closed a cent and a half higher in the Chicago Grain Market today. July wheat closed at $1.30 1-2 and September wheat at $1.25 1-2.

Following are the quotations received by Overbeck & Cooke, local brokers:

Table with columns for Wheat, High, Low, Close and Corn, High, Low, Close. Includes prices for July and September contracts.

Wheat. Open, High, Low, Close. July $1.21, $1.23, $1.25, $1.24. Sept. 1.24, 1.24, 1.23, 1.25. Corn. July .82, .83, .81, .82. Sept. .82, .83, .82, .83. Wheat—The trade today was largely in the way of covering contracts over week end and some selling took place early, based on messages from the seaboard reporting very slow export demand, while later in the day shorts were disposed to give in to a few very numerous and serious damage reports coming from the northwest. The damage reports are practically of a death and the prediction is for clear weather over Sunday. A significant feature of today's developments was the firmness in spot premiums and advancing of bids to arrive in face of claims that there will be an early movement of new wheat. With the cash situation showing such remarkable strength on the eve of new wheat movement it seems more than likely that the future market must respond to reverse crop reports coming from the northwest.
