SKI JUMPERS

will be held over the same course. Icy Snow Good for Landing.

The warm weather last year made the course sticky and the going rather heavy, so that no new records were set up. However, I. Larson, a sturdy son of Norway, who now lives at Aberdeen, Wash., leaped away with high honors by a jump of ninety-five feet. He also won the honorary prize for style and length of leaping and an extra prize of a silver trophy, which must be won two years in succession to become the property of the winner. This is one reason for the intense interest in the tournament this season. Larsen must win the cup again and will make every effort to take the trophy home with him for permanent keeping. This trophy is given for the best all-around man in the tournament.

Leaps do not count unless the contestants retain their footing, and many of the jumpers have difficulty maintaining an upright position after the leap. Icy smooth snow is ideal for good jumping, but wet snow causes so much friction when the jumper lands that it is liable to throw him off his balance.

Preparations have been made to handle even larger crowds at Paradise Valley this summer than ever before, and it is assumed that a large gaily list of jumpers will be on hand.
