Bulk of Oregon Wool Either Sold or Consigned. PORTLAND, July 2.—(A. P.)—The bulk of the Oregon wool clip has either been sold or consigned. Before shearing time it looked like a dull dragging market this year, but the recent market has proved wrong. Buyers have not been as active as in former years yet considering market conditions in general the movement has been very satisfactory.

To date between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 pounds of Oregon wool have been sold. The Shauko section is cleaned up and the sealed bid sales at Condon and Pilot Rock have disposed of most of the wools grown there. Hopper wools are being sold or consigned. The Lakeview clip is out of first hands and Willamette valley wools are being sold at the usual rate.

There is a tendency on the part of buyers to reduce prices somewhat, not because of any decline in the wool, but on the theory that prices at this advanced stage beyond the easiest parts. This is also the case in Montana where buyers are offering 15 to 19 cents for the same grade of wool that contracted for earlier in the season at 26 to 27 cents.

A somewhat stronger tone in the wool market is reported by J. F. Everett, director of the wool marketing department of the American Farm Bureau federation. He estimates that 70 to 75 per cent of the supplies in the country are now operating and some of the mills have sufficient orders to require capacity production until cold weather. Recent sales of Texas wools, he says, were at an advance of 1 to 2 cents per pound. More than 20 wool warehouses have applied to the bureau of markets for government licenses, which entitle them to issue bonded warehouse receipts.

Foundation Laid For Better Conditions

NEW YORK, July 2.—(A. P.)—Dun's Review today says: A general commercial revival having failed to develop during the first half of the year, it is not the time now to look for decisive improvement in conditions. Even in active periods, July brings interruptions to business through holidays and vacations. Inventorying and suspension of work for repairs and other restraints add their weight this year. The combined effect of these forces appears in a further slowing down in basic industries and primary markets and a large retail distribution of seasonal merchandise is only a partial offset. That some plants are well engaged, all things considered, is encouraging, but iron and steel output remains at extremely low ebb and textile production has receded again in some divisions.

The fundamental cause of the restriction of manufacturing, which extends to many lines, is found in many cases, persistent disinclination to do more than cover immediate requirements and current needs are limited. The practice of economy and retrenchment has become no small factor in the present situation and the sharper competition for orders finds reflection in the not infrequent offerings of goods at lower prices.

Results of the six months just now ending have proved disappointing to those who had expected economic recovery and have necessitated modification of some views regarding the probable duration of the readjustment. The record, however, is not wholly unsatisfactory, for progress had been made in correcting the artificial and unsound status of business and the foundation is being laid for stronger conditions in the future.

P.)—Dullness such as usually precedes a protracted recess characterized yesterday's stock market operations. The tone was uncertain throughout, oil, motors and their accessories and some of the obscure specialties making declines, while rails, equipments and food issues were disposed to improve. Mexican petroleum fell another five points to 98, a new low for several years, and Pan-American Petroleum and General Asphalt also gave way to renewed pressure, but these were recovered later when shorts covered. United States Rubber, Studebaker, Harvester, American Woolen, Famous Players and Sears-Roebuck sustained additional losses of one to 3 1/2 points, and sugars were again affected by domestic conditions and tariff possibilities. Minor rails fared better than seasoned issues. Canadian Pacific and Reading reacted moderately under professional offerings. Sties amounted to 135,000 shares. The turn into the mid-year effected no perceptible change in the money market. All call money, including loans into next Tuesday, were made at 6 per cent and many July maturities were extended at prevailing rates. Sterling and most continental exchanges were lower during the morning but registered variable recoveries on moderate purchases of British and French bills, even the German rate showing improvement. All liberty issues except the 3 1/2% hardened and the bond list as a whole reflected better investment conditions, speculative rails adding to recent gains. Total sales, par value, $11,475,000.

Holidays Forces Wheat To Hold Steady Price

CHICAGO, July 2.—Aversion to carrying ownership risks over a triple holiday in a weather market pulled wheat prices down after an early bulge. The close was heavy, 1 1/4 to 2 1/4 cents net lower, with July $1.22 1/2 to $1.22 3/4 and September $1.21 3/4 to $1.22. Corn gained 1/4 to 1 3/8c and oats 1-8 to 1 1/4c. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to the lower.

At first the market responded readily to continued dry hot weather northwest and to predictions that unless general rains came soon northwestern crops would be greatly reduced. Upruns in price however increased the disposition of many holders to even up before the adjournment of the board until Tuesday. The market lacked support during the last half of the day and finished near the bottom level reached.

Nebraska advices of corn curling in the fields and of hot winds in South Dakota had a bullish influence on the corn market.

Smallness of receipts strengthened oats. Provisions were governed chiefly by the action of the hog market.
