HOME DEMONSTRATION SEASONABLE SUGGESTIONS FOR BUSY HOUSEWIVES

* Poor rubbers are at the root of much of the sorrow and failure in home canning. Never use poor rubbers and never, no matter how good they look or how poor you feel, when canning vegetables and meats of any kind. * What is meant by good rubbers? Good rubber rings are not necessarily white, red or black. * One way of testing a rubber is to stretch the ring all round the edge and then lay it on a fresh unstretched ring. The stretched ring should have spring back so as to be of exactly the size of the unstretched one. Another test is to fold the ring and press between thumb and finger at the fold. If the rubber cracks or if the crease remains, the rubber should be discarded if it is to be used in canning meats or vegetables. It is economy to throw away a dozen or more rubber rings as compared with throwing away canned foods. Canned foods represent not only money but time, fuel and precious human energy as well. When the housewife loses canned goods, she often loses courage as well and will not try again.—E. V. D.

SHORT SKIRTS TAKE TOLL OF MEN'S SIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—(I. N. S.)—Short skirts and silk-clad ankles of women have distorted men's eyesight until now 90 per cent of the male population is afflicted with the strangest of new optical diseases, which science has designated, for the purpose of identification, as "ocularis delectare." Furthermore, short skirts are said to be the cause of many traffic accidents which occur today.

At least that is the information from Dr. R. C. Augustine, president of the American Optometric Association, who has discovered the new affliction. Are apparently has nothing to do with the disease, for both old and young will suddenly, like a bolt from a clear sky, be stricken. Dr. Augustine claims that many are stricken while crossing the street—both pedestrians and automobile drivers.

The following diagnosis by Dr. Augustine discloses the symptoms of the disease: "The male of the species, thus affected suddenly loses all sense of time and place—home or otherwise. His vision, distorted, is entirely filled with silk-clad ankles, and he bumps into other pedestrians, or his street car crashes into something or the other that it shouldn't.

"So far science has found no cure for this," says the specialist. So common is the affliction that optometrists all over the country are discussing it at various state conventions. "Ocularis delectare," translated into English means to "lure the eyes away," according to Dr. Augustine.

Permanent Muscular Strength cannot exist where there is not blood strength. Young men giving attention to muscular development should bear this in mind. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives blood strength and builds up the whole system.

An everbearing Valencia orange tree, which is destined to revolutionize the orange industry, has been discovered by horticulturists in a grove at Tampa. The tree is about fifteen years old and has been bearing continuously eight years and apparently authentic records indicate that at no time during that period has it failed to have fruit and blossoms at all stages of maturity. Everbearing Florida lemons have been common for many years.
