ANOTHER WOMAN ESCAPES

Mrs. McCumber Avoided a Serious Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time

Georgetown, Ill.—"After my first baby was born I suffered so with my left side that I could not walk across the floor unless I was all humped over, holding to my side. I doctored with several doctors but found no relief and they said I would have to have an operation. My mother insisted on my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon found relief. Now I can do all my own work and it is the Vegetable Compound that has saved me from an operation. I cannot praise your medicine too highly and I tell all of my friends and neighbors what the Compound did for me."—Mrs. MARGARET McCUMBER, 27 S. Frazier St., Georgetown, Illinois. Mrs. McCumber is one of the unnumbered thousands of housewives who struggle to keep about their daily tasks, while suffering from ailments peculiar to women with backache, sidaches, headaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness, and if every such woman should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial they would get well.

LEW CODY HAS MANY LOVES IN NEW FILM

Lew Cody, the famous love-making star of the screen, finds all sorts of amusing and serious adventures in "Occasionally Yours," a Robertson-Cole super-special, which opens at the Arcade Theatre for a one day showing today only.

This is Mr. Cody's third starring vehicle for Robertson-Cole and presents him in a role equally as interesting as the characters he portrayed in "The Beloved Cheat" and "The Butterfly Man." The story of the picture is one of romance, yet full of realism, and entertains while it instructs. It is the type of screen play that will linger long in the memory.

Mr. Cody is surrounded by a cast of the first water. Betty Blythe, a leading woman of the screen who has won recognition for her ability as an actress and for her beauty, plays the leading feminine role. As a vivacious young widow she is at the very peak of her art.

Elmer Fair, the winsome, dark-eyed Southern lass, who scored a success as the invalid girl in "The Miracle Man," plays an ingenue lead.

Other members of the cast are, Lillian Hambeau, mother of Marjorie Hambeau, William Quinn, Barney Sherry, Lloyd Hamilton, Dorothy Wallace, Cleo Ridgely and Yvonne Garfelle.

In the new picture Mr. Cody has enlisted the services of several four-legged thespians. "Boots," a bull-pup of unusual intelligence, adds a high percentage of clean-cut amusement and certainly deserves a place among the canine stars of the screen. "Julius," a mouse, fond of high priced hosiery and powder-puffs, delights as a precocious rodent. A couple of hard-working rabbits complete the menagerie.

"Occasionally Yours" was adapted to the screen by H. Tipton Stock from a story by Elmer Forst.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS FAVOR DISARMAMENT

NEW YORK, July 7.—(U. P.)—Nearly 19,000 delegates attending the sixth world's Christian Endeavor convention listened to the suggestion for starting a campaign for international disarmament and recruiting the depleted pulpits of the world. The session was informal. All corners of the United States were represented, and many foreign delegates attended.

Our experience has been that parents are disappointed when they select footwear for their children that is cheaply constructed. Shoes cannot be made too good for youngsters. The rough, abusive wear that young folks give shoes demands the toughest leather, the strongest seams and sensibly shaped shoes. That's why we highly recommend "Little Pals" in preference to all other kinds. Although they cost a few cents more, that slight extra cost means double wear.

PLYMOUTH PREPARES FOR TERCENTENNIAL

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 7. (U. P.)—This ancient town is a buzz-saw today with preparations for the coming tercentennial pageant scheduled for July 13-15.

Sewing machines are humming as the women of the town fashion the costumes to be worn by the 1400 actors in "The Pilgrim Spirit" as the pageant will be known.

The men are engaged in constructing elaborate "properties," which include a replica of the Mayflower and a Norse galley.

Maine and Massachusetts waters are again navigated by "redskins" en route here in birch bark canoes to take part in the unusual production. The lines for the pageant have been written by Professor George P. Baker, Harvard's most widely known authority on the drama. The story begins with the early explorations of the Norsemen and ends with the world war. Thrilling scenes of action and scenes depicting the early struggles of the settlement will be enacted. Old hymns will be sung, old spinning wheels spun and ancient practices observed.

SECRETARY OF TREASURY OBJECTS TO BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, July 7.—(U. P.)—Secretary of the Treasury, Mellon, in a letter to the senate and house voiced his opposition to the proposed bonus for the veterans of the world war, declaring "the country is in no financial condition to shoulder further responsibilities." "To pass the bonus bill," he said, "would be to incur undetermined liability and to impose additional financial burdens upon the country."

AMMUNITION DEPOT DESTROYED LONDON, July 7.—(U. P.)—The Greek army in Asia Minor may be compelled to suspend operations against the Turkish nationalists as the result of the destruction of the main Greek ammunition depot at Smyrna. An Athens dispatch stated that the city was damaged and many persons killed and wounded by the explosion.

An army airman flew across the Grand Canyon several times recently and also flew down into the gorge. He has been detailed by the War Department to study the air currents in and over the canyon and to locate possible landing fields there. This is believed to be a preliminary to establishing a commercial airplane service in that vicinity.
