

News Notes of Pendleton

CALENDAR OF EVENTS
 June 27-August 5—Summer Normal School.
 July 10 to 16—Ellison-White Chautauqua.
 September 22, 23, 24—Annual Pendleton Round-Up.

Morrow County Harvests.

J. N. Scott returned Saturday evening from Morrow county where he has been for several days making an inspection of his wheat. Harvest is on generally there, he reports, and yields are proving satisfactory. Some fields are turning out as much as 20 bushels of wheat with the average about 20 bushels. Mr. Scott will return to Morrow county Wednesday to take care of his crop there.

Cars in Collision.

A misinterpretation of signals on the part of Mrs. M. L. Watts of Athens resulted in a collision between a car driven by her and a machine of W. C. Rhinehart's. Mr. Rhinehart was at the intersection of Riley and Matlock streets on the right side of the street. He had signaled for a turn to the left and was slowing down to permit a car to come off the hill when the Watts car smashed into his machine from the rear. The door was damaged on his car, and the fender of the Watts car was bent. No one was hurt.

Surprise Relatives.

Joe Boyd was so thoroughly surprised the other morning that he was temporarily unable to express himself when he was confronted by his brother-in-law, H. A. Kettel, of St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Kettel and daughter are driving to California on a vacation trip and they are here for a visit with Mr. Boyd, who is a brother of Mrs. Kettel. They had not seen each other for 18 years, and the reunion is proving very pleasant. Mr. and Mrs. Kettel will remain for several days before resuming their trip.

May Move Battleship.

That the navy department has under consideration the project of moving the old battleship Oregon from its present mooring place to Portland harbor is the information that has been received by Mayor George A. Hartman from Senator Robert N. Stanfield and Representative Willis C.

Hawley. The letters came as a reply to the resolutions recently adopted by the city council urging that the historic old ship be transferred to Portland. The cost of making the move is the chief obstacle now, according to the navy department, and a part of the cost probably will have to be borne either by Portland or the state.

Will Begin Harvesting.

Harvest on the Strand ranch in the Holtzman region will begin July 20 says George Strand who was in Pendleton yesterday. Mr. Strand says crop conditions are very good.

Traffic Violators Fined.

Fines of $5 each were assessed against Jack Southland and Delos Sloan this morning in police court by Magistrate Thomas Fitz Gerald. The charge in each case was driving a car with the cutoff open. Both men paid.

To Take Vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Parkes expect to leave tomorrow for the hills where they will live until September. Justice Parkes will return about once a week when he expects to take care of court matters that may demand his attention as justice of the peace.

Leaves on Buying Trip.

Mrs. Rose Campbell of the Campbell Millinery shop, is now on a buying trip to Portland, San Francisco and Seattle. She will purchase fall and winter models and will be absent from Pendleton for about three weeks. While in Portland she will visit her son, A. B. Campbell.

Tickets Are Sold.

As a special concession season Chautauqua tickets are being sold today for $2.72, the original price, so that local people may hear the Stefanon lecture tonight and other numbers on the program for a sum only slightly larger than what would be charged for the lecture alone.

To Dance Saturday Night.

A "hard times dance" which is expected to prove one of the biggest affairs of the year will be given at Lehman Springs Saturday night. The informal invitations issued for the affair are that suits shall be of the hard times kind, and some mention has been made of not going home until morning. The roads to the springs are said to be good now for a trip.

Will Live in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver P. Morton, formerly of Pendleton, are leaving Phoenix, Arizona, to make their home in Los Angeles, according to word received today by Mayor Lee Moorhouse from his daughter, Mrs. Morton. Mr. Morton, who has been employed by the Holmes Wooten Co., is now special assistant to the attorney general and his headquarters will be in the California city.

Miss Davis Here.

Miss Lucile Davis, of Portland, arrived here yesterday and will spend a month in Pendleton working under Miss Esther Kelly, social service worker, who is employed by the Umatilla county Red Cross. Miss Davis, who has for some time been interested in Red Cross work, is doing the work here as a means of gaining instruction in social service work. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of Chi Omega, women's fraternity.

Rebuilding Warehouse.

Work started today on the rebuilding of the Myrick Elevator company's warehouse which was destroyed by fire on June 23. A decision to rebuild was made at a meeting of the stockholders of the farmers who own the property Saturday afternoon. The elevator will not be replaced at this time, but it is thought that the warehouse will be ready for business by August. The Huntington Construction Co. of Walla Walla secured the contract for the building which will be 10x23x24 feet and will cost with equipment about $18,500.

Washington Promises Aid.

That the state of Washington will cooperate with Oregon and furnish financial aid toward the work of securing data on the possibilities of the Umatilla Rapids as a source of power is the information that has been received by the Pendleton Commercial Association from John H. Lewis, consulting engineer, who in cooperation with the state engineers of the states is now making a survey of the power site. Mr. Lewis also gives the information that valuable data has been collected recently during the flood stage on the height of the river and the volume of water that the river carried.

Park Improvements Started.

The task of making improvements of the campers' park which will make the place suitable for handling the vast crowds that will be here for the Round-Up is already under way. Bids for the larger jobs will be let Wednesday evening by the city council, and at present the smaller jobs that may be let without the necessity of securing bids is being done. Holes for the poles that will carry the wires for extra lighting facilities are being dug, and a trench for the water pipe is being opened. Increased toilet accommodations are also planned. Once the bids are let it will be only a short time until the work can be finished.

Breemen Have Losses.

The spray used in fruit orchards has caused heavy losses this year to bee keepers of the Milton-Freewater district, says H. A. Scullion, bee expert of O. A. C. and Fred Bennion, county agent, who held a demonstration in the east end on Saturday. Fruit growers are planning to pay bee keepers to move the stands from the orchards during the spraying and thus save the bees. Fruit men can afford to do this, Mr. Bennion explains, as bees are a great aid to pollination. Tomorrow afternoon a bee keeping demon-

Jenkins Makes Showing
 Jenkins Club wheat, grown from clean seed, is making a fine showing in this county says Fred Bennion, county agent who conducted a tour of the clean fields on Friday. Mr. Bennion says that many farmers who grow the mixed Jenkins Club are planning to replace it with this variety from clean, certified fields.

L. A. Hunt Is Manager.
 L. A. Hunt, now county agent of Morrow county, was chosen as manager of the Oregon Haygrowers' Association at a meeting of the directors held here Saturday evening. The association is made up of Umatilla and Morrow county hay growers. The Oregon and Washington associations will handle their sales through a joint sales agency but in territory not common, Mr. Hunt will be in charge of the sales. His headquarters will be in Hermiston and he will resign as county agent.
