CAPTAIN M'MILLAN TO PILOT STEAMER THROUGH UNCHARTED WATERS EAST OF BAFFIN LAND

Explorer of Perry Expedition to Chart Untraveled Lands Said Abundant in Natural Resources

WISCASSET, Me., July 16.—Donald Baxter McMillan navigated his little Arctic schooner Bowdoin into the bay here on his way to Baffin Land from Boston. He will explore for educational purposes primarily. What he finds east of the third largest island in the world may change the geographies and maps of that section of the globe.

He is captain of the small craft—it is so small that wise fishermen and old deep sea salts shook their heads uncertainly. The Bowdoin is a very flat-bellied craft of five tons, is 88 feet over all, 20 feet beam and draws 3 feet 3 inches of water. A tiny boat to break through the ice fields of Baffin Land and the Arctic Circle, said the old sea dogs.

Built Especially for Ice.
Captain McMillan believes the Bowdoin is the greatest craft ever built for Arctic service. She is specially constructed to resist pressure of ice floes. Her skipper believes she will roll between the floes by the pressure of the ice itself. He said:

"It's just 100 years since any white man attempted to get through Hecla and Fury Straits up to Ellesmere land. That is about long enough to let the land east of Baffin Land remain undisturbed. So we are going up there. This little boat will push out from here on July 26.

"There are upward of 1000 miles of uncharted coast up there which must be put on the maps with the rest of the known lands of the world. Then we must make special study, besides of topography and of the natural resources of this vast country.

Will Enrich Science.
"It is known to contain at least two large lakes just alive with wild fowl and teeming with fish. We believe the expedition will greatly add to the scientific knowledge of the world in respect of the Polar regions.

"We will give close attention to the study of the geology, the zoology, the ornithology, meteorology, terrestrial magnetism, botany and ethnology of the uncharted land. Parts of it sighted in summer seem to be vast, flat prairies, with tall, waving grass. Esquimaux I have talked with on my Arctic trips know nothing about the land.

"No white man has ever been there. We will winter in the vicinity of Fury or Becla Straits. We will make special efforts to get to the Magnetic Pole on the north side of the Boothia Peninsula, located by James Ross in 1820. We will have a representative of Carnegie Institute with us for the special purpose of magnetic observations.

A Bowdoin Graduate.
Captain McMillan, a graduate of Bowdoin College, Boston, for which he earned his vessel, was with the last Perry expedition which finally located the North Pole.

His feet were frozen at the eighty-fifth parallel and he was kept out of the dash for the pole. He has been college professor, school principal and yachtsman for years.

His boat will fly the burgee of the Boston Yacht Club as he sets sail for Hudson Strait to begin the circumnavigation of Baffin Land. He figures on passing two years there.

Fifty thousand miles of navigable water is provided by the River Amazon and its tributaries.

Tire Retreading

We use the DRI-CURE method of re-treading old casings. This is a process where-in the tire is rebuilt by using the same methods used in its manufacture in the factory. The tire is cut down to its carcass (the cord or fibre base) reinforced in all weak spots then a new tread is cured on from virgin rubber in our steam moulds. This gives you a new wearing surface for less than half the cost of a new tire. Come in and let us show you tires now undergoing this process and the finished product.
