MRS. FAWCETT HONORED

Of interest to the Pendleton friends of Mrs. Mary E. Fawcett, who was in Pendleton for the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs convention in the following from the Portland Oregonian:

Mrs. Sherman T. Edwards was hostess recently at a luncheon at which she honored Mrs. Mary E. Fawcett, whose marriage to H. C. Campbell will be an event of the near future. Mrs. Fawcett was dean of women at Oregon Agricultural college for several years and made a wide circle of friends among the faculty members and student body. Her friends in Portland are planning many affairs for her. The marriage will take place at the residence of Mrs. Edwards.

EN ROUTE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bender passed through the city yesterday in their car bound for their home in Pendleton. They have just returned from an extended trip through southern Idaho, where they visited with relatives. Mr. Bender is the owner of the Troy Laundry in Pendleton.—Baker Herald.

ARE IN PORTLAND

A group of Pendleton people arrived at the Benson yesterday by machine from the Round-Up town. The car contained Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Bentley, C. T. Parr, Carl Couley and H. R. Lamley. The visitors said that the road was in fine condition with the exception of 12 miles, which was rather rough. The trip was made in a day's run and without inconvenience.—Oregonian.

RETURN TO PENDLETON

Mrs. James Johns, Jr. who has been visiting relatives in Bridgeview, South Dakota, and her daughter, Miss Helen Johns, who has been in Brooklyn, New York during the winter and summer, returned to Pendleton yesterday. Miss Johns who is a graduate of University of Oregon has completed a post graduate course at Pratt Institution and specialized in library work, in which she will be engaged this fall and winter.

MRS. HARDING VISITS

Mrs. George Harding and children, Robert and Jean, of Sprague, Washington, were in Pendleton today en route home after a trip to Yellowstone Park. Mr. and Mrs. Harding made the trip recently, Mr. Harding returning home a short time ago and Mrs. Harding visiting relatives in La Grande. She formerly lived in Pendleton and will be remembered as Miss Mayme Reith.

MRS. ROBINSON HONORED

Honoring Mrs. Donald Robinson, a recent bride, Miss Blanche Moens and Miss Gabriella Moens are entertaining a few friends most informally this afternoon at the Moens farm home. The guests motored out for the afternoon and remained for tea.

RETURN FROM LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Hohart and little daughter, Hilda May, returned last evening after a sojourn at Wallowa Lake. They enjoyed the trip greatly and say that the weather was very cool, the temperature reaching the freezing point at night.

VISITORS DEPART

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shaw, who have been guests of Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chaney, have departed for a trip to Salem and Corvallis. Their home is in Yakima, Washington and the visit here was a part of an automobile tour.

MRS. MATLOCK RECOVERS

Mrs. Guy Matlock who has been convalescing at St. Anthony's hospital after an operation for appendicitis, has recovered and yesterday returned to her home.

MOTOR TO WALLA WALLA

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett's mother, Mrs. Eliza J. Burchill, motored to Walla Walla this morning to spend the day.

RETURN FROM BINGHAM

Miss Mary Johns and Miss Kate Stanfield have returned from Bingham Springs where they have been spending a few days.

GUEST AT HARTMAN HOME

A guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman is young, Wesley Hartman, of Portland, nephew of Mr. Hartman.

IS IN BAKER

Mrs. L. C. Campbell is spending a few days visiting in Baker.

HOME DEMONSTRATION IDEAS FOR HOUSEWIVES

- Following is the sec SHIRDLU H
- Following is the second and last of a series of instructions for canning by the cold pack method the first having been printed in Monday's issue of the East Oregonian:
- Fill with liquid—Wipe around top of jar with clean cloth, then put on wet rubber.
- Fill jar with hot water and 1/2 teaspoon salt to quart jar for vegetables, or with hot sirup for fruits.
- Adjust cover and partially seal.
- (1) Screw top jar—Screw on tight and then reverse a quarter of a turn.
- (2) Glass top jar—Fasten top spring only. Leave side spring loose.
- (3) Vacuum seal jar—Adjust cover and spring.
- Process—Place jars on false bottom in hot water bath, have water at least one inch above the top of jars. Do not begin to count required time until water boils. Water must boil all the time. When required time is up remove jars immediately.
- Final sealing—As soon as taken out of boiling water, examine rubber. Complete the seal by screwing cover tight or adjusting shoulder spring.
- Testing—Invert to test the joints for leaks.
- Storing—Label, protect from light to prevent fading.—E. V. D.

every place where he owes money that it will be impossible for all debts, including this $3,500,000 of outside money, to be paid in full.

"But the $6,000,000 will reduce the $3,500,000 of outside money to one-half of its present amount, I believe, and it will enable the merchant to get the big part of what is coming to him. What must be done is to have considerable co-operation practiced by all.

"In the big commercial districts, financial interests are figuring that five years will be required before conditions can be normal. I believe that we can reduce that time by at least two years and maybe three. This year will give us an excellent start, and next year will take us forward to approximate freedom of indebtedness. So I figure that comparatively our condition is encouraging."

This Year's Crop Helps. The production of this year's crop is going to be sufficient to put the farmers back close to a normal basis according to another banker. All debts won't be paid. And there may be a shortage of machinery on the farms, this man thinks, but Mr. Average Farmer will be mighty close to freedom from debts. He will have to borrow to produce next year's crop, and of course, that will require a lot of capital before another harvest. So conditions can't be normal yet with this crop, in this banker's opinion, but a big stride toward normal conditions will have been taken.

Four Years to Pay. Another banker inclines to the opinion that three years, probably four, will be required to recover from the conditions that have been prevailing for about one year.

"A big crop is being produced this year, and it will bring in a lot of money," he said. "But the trouble is that all of this money has already been spent. The wheat costs about $1 to produce, and a profit must be made by the farmer before he can liquidate.

"We were four years in creating the conditions that finally resulted in the depression that we now feel and have felt for quite a long time. My own opinion is that an equal length of time will be required to get back to a normal state.

"One of the big difficulties that stands in the way of adjustment is the continued high cost of production as compared to the low prices received by the farmer. It is true that little machinery has been purchased during the past year and in my opinion it will be at least two more years before much more is purchased. The reason for this is that more equipment was bought when machinery was highest than had ever been bought before, and now, under the hour of necessity, the farmer will practice economy. Combines, binders, plows and wagons will last for years, with intelligent care, and Umatilla county farmers will see to it that theirs last as long as possible. Laying off of equipment can be expected until machinery prices recede, or until crop prices go up.

"Skilled labor used on farms will have to come down, too. Help in harvesting is too high yet."

Versatility Helps. The versatility of the county is a big aid in such conditions as exist at present, one of the men pointed out. The Milton-Freewater district with its million dollar income of fruit and hay, the west end with its diversified crops, and the big wheat yield of the reservation section are all elements that combine to make the county fortunate. In addition, the livestock interests are diversified and extensive. The west end of the county will be in better condition this fall than for a number of years, bankers agree. The very heavy crops produced on the lighter lands will assist farmers to get on their feet to a degree they have not experienced for several years.
