Two Editors, Two College Presidents, One Lawyer, Two Business Men Comprise Harding's Staff of Leading Diplomats

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
 (International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 21.—With the appointment of Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, as Ambassador to Japan President Harding has put the bulk of his foreign appointments behind him, and the conduct of American affairs abroad for the next few momentous years at least has been shifted to shoulders other than his.

It was a great relief for President Harding to get the Tokio post filled. It was generally regarded as the most important appointment the President would have to make in the diplomatic corps, because of the delicacy of Japanese-American relations and the great number of problems of an irritating nature which the new Ambassador to Japan will be called upon to face. It is no secret in Washington that the President worried not a little over filling the Tokio post.

Up to to-day the Harding administration has made seven major diplomatic appointments since it came into office four months ago. It is interesting to look at them in bloc. Two editors, two college presidents, one lawyer and two lawyer-business men comprise the chief figures of the Harding diplomatic force. They are: Great Britain—Colonel George McClellan Harvey, of New York, editor, lawyer-business man. France—Myron T. Herrick, of Ohio, lawyer-business man. Japan—Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, lawyer. Italy—Richard Washburn Child, of Massachusetts, editor. China—Jacob Gould Schurman, of New York, college president. Chile—William Miller Collier, of Washington, college president. Spain—Cyrus E. Woods, of Pennsylvania, lawyer-business man.

Outside of the countries with which the United States is still at war, or with which its relations are only partially existent, there remain only a few Ambassadorial appointments to be made, although there are a number in the

Belgium is yet to be filled. Brand Whitlock, beloved by the Belgians, is reported to be very anxious to return home at the earliest opportunity, and it is probable that his wishes will be complied with by President Harding, although there is reason to believe that the President would be entirely willing to leave his popular fellow Ohioan in Brussels if he would stay.

Argentina, where Frederic Jessup Stimson holds forth; Brazil, where Edwin V. Morgan remains over from the old administration and Peru, now occupied by William E. Gonzales, are among the more important posts which the President has yet to fill. American affairs in none of these are
