

People Here and There

J. M. Keoney, formerly secretary of the Cunningham Sheep and Land Co., also a part owner of the company, is in Pendleton today on business.

"By George, this cold drinking water in Pendleton seems mighty good to a man who has got used to drinking the warm water in California." That was the comment of a man who has arrived in Pendleton after a sojourn in the southern state.

"People are seeking inspiration rather than amusement in reading during the present age," says Frank Rogers, who for 35 years has been a book salesman and who is in Pendleton representing the Roycrofters of East Aurora, N. Y. Mr. Rogers says that readers now enjoy instructive books and that there is a big demand for private courses, especially those teaching mental efficiency. "Another element demanded by readers today," says Mr. Rogers, "is 'punch.' People are looking for the book that stimulates and holds the interest by its very vital element."

RAIL LANE ABANDONED.
PORTLAND, July 23.—It has been announced that one of the duplicating rail lines up the Deschutes canyon into Central Oregon will be abandoned, in an effort to reduce the general road operating expenses. They are the Oregon Trunk and Bend branch of the O.-W. The probable date of abandonment has not been announced.

WILL SEARCH FOR BIRTHPLACE.
PERKINSVILLE, Md., July 23.—(U. P.)—President Harding reached here before lunch. He was greeted by Eason, Ford and Firestone. He shed his coat and started splitting wood for the luncheon fire. The quartet will attempt to find Edison's birthplace, which Edison believes is somewhere in the vicinity of the camp. The president ate a hearty lunch in his shirt sleeves.

A Vermont judge fined his daughter when she appeared before him charged with violating a city ordinance. Court attaches said the judge later wrote a check for the amount of the fine.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY OFFICES AND OFFICERS

To Collect on Account.
A grocery bill amounting to $442, alleged to be the unpaid balance of an account due one Stephens, Athena merchant, is the issue in a suit against Edgar Forrest. The bill was incurred in 1918-19 according to the complaint. Homer I. Watts and C. E. Prentiss are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Survey to be Made.
A survey of the roads, both state highway and county, will be made in the immediate future to determine the location for road signs. Through the co-operation of the Eastern Oregon Auto Club and the highway department, signs are to be in place before Round-Up. H. H. Baldock, division engineer, provided 35 Old Oregon Trail signs which will be placed between Pendleton and the state line. These were turned over to the club by the county.

To Recover On Check.
A check passed in 1920, alleged to have been worthless, is the basis of a suit that has been filed in circuit court by the J. C. Penny Co. against Andy Bushman. It is alleged that a check for $125, drawn in favor of the defendant and signed by Narcissus Bushman, was cashed by the plaintiff's company, and that the check was worthless. Recovery of the amount with interest is sought by the plaintiff. Keator and Randall and Peterson, Bishop and Clark represent the plaintiff.

Inspect New Road.
Members of the county court this morning made an inspection trip over the recently completed road over Cabbage Hill, and the commissioners are very enthusiastic about the road. "If this highway improves in rainy weather as rapidly as it has during the dry weather we have had since it was completed, then we certainly are going to have one of the finest stretches of road in Umatilla county," is the way the commissioners feel. A car in good mechanical condition can be driven up the five per cent grade without the gears ever needing to be shifted, the authorities declare.

FIREMAN DIES FROM INJURIES.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—(U. P.)—Charles Riggs, of Seattle, a fireman on the Steamer Admiral Farragut, who was burned when escaping steam filled the engine room from a bursted pipe, is dead.

AMERICANS WIN.
HARVARD STADIUM, Cambridge, Mass., July 23.—(A. P.)—The combined Harvard-Yale team captured the fifth set of the field games from the Oxford-Cambridge team of England. This victory puts the international series score three to two in favor of the Americans.

Pershing Done in Oil

Here is Philip A. de Laszlo, English artist, and his portrait of General Pershing. It is acclaimed as the best portrait ever made of the general. It will be presented to the city of Philadelphia by the McFadden family of that city. De Laszlo has started sittings of President Harding.

NEWS NOTES OF PENDLETON

Dr. Boyden Here.
Dr. Guy Boyden is here today, having just returned from Seattle where he attended medical clinics. Dr. Boyden will leave on Monday for Portland to engage in his partnership with Dr. Klister.

Hay Meeting Today.
A joint meeting of representatives of the Oregon Haygrowers Association and the Washington association is being held today to draw up a contract between the associations for the employment of a mutual sales manager to act in common territory. Among those present at the meeting are President Duke of the Washington organization, J. H. Price, its manager, Lee Easley and P. L. Jewett, directors of the Oregon association, and L. A. Hunt, manager of the Oregon association.

Deeds Are Made.
The real estate market in Pendleton is brighter than for some time in the past, says E. T. Wade, local dealer. Mr. Wade says that considerable property is changing hands. During the past few days a house and lot on Aura and Alta streets were sold by Frank McNeilly to Otto Koepfen. Alice Topitt sold her property on Court and Marie to Henry Wolf of California, and E. T. Wade sold lots 6 and 9, section 19, to Mrs. Paul Wisler. Mr. Wade conducted all the transactions.

20 Attend Meeting.
Twenty-nine women attended a meeting held yesterday at Weston Mountain by Mrs. Edith G. Van Deusen, home demonstration agent. Some were so anxious to attend that they rode horseback from Reed and Hawley mountains, among those from this region who attended being Mrs. John Wrope, Mrs. Carl Reutcher, and Mrs. Alex McCorkell. At the meeting a fireless cooker was made as well as dress forms. Mrs. Charles May and Mrs. Roy Hyatt were trained as workers to make dress forms. A pressure cooker demonstration was held and chickens were cooked. These were served as a part of a delicious luncheon at noon. Mrs. Norborne Berkeley accompanied Mrs. Van Deusen and was a guest at the meeting.

FILM BEAUTY SAYS PARIS DOES NOT DICTATE STYLE FOLLOWED BY AMERICANS

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(U. P.)—The Hollywood movie colony has sounded a warning: "Keep them above the ankles." Just tell Mrs. Lydia Hoyt that Paris does not dictate the American women's styles," said piquant Betty Compton, voicing the film colony's opinion on the New York society leader's assertion that Paris had decreed the return of the long skirt. "Movies set the American style. Movie actresses must exercise care and good taste in costumes, for millions of critics watch every gown and every pose. But for that very reason millions of women copy the best movie styles. Short skirts are neat, attractive and sensible. Movies intend keeping them above the ankles."

AMUSEMENTS

With a hunch of new plays, new scenery and costumes, the Kelly Troupe will be here Monday and all week and if the return engagements in Baker and La Grande are fair estimates the big tent should be full every night. Phil Berg, "Able," and Art "Silvers" Hunt, still furnish most of the fun-making and in the new comedies are making a real hit. An addition to the cast since leaving Pendleton is the Richard Sextette, folks who deliver something new and different in harmony. The new plays are chosen from some of the best comedies that have been released in the last two years and with the new costumes and lighting effects will surely please everyone present. It is a family show and the prices remain always the same. TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY ONE OR TWO room furnished apartment for rent.—402 Tustin St.

It's a wise bird that lights on the smart woman's hat this coming fall season. The Owl—Minerva's bird—gives the latest "hoot" in fall millinery. This smart Joseph model bears the bird of wisdom as though it were on Minerva's helmet. The beak forms the peak of the turban, the bright eyes shine out from their natural colored feathers as though announcing their knowledge of fashion's decrees.

Summer Drinks

A great deal is added to the delight of cooling summer drinks if they are served in appropriate glassware.

FOR ICE TEA

We have a special jug. This is made with a large top which permits plenty of ice; yet the jug is covered, which makes the drink easy to serve. Ice tea glasses are tall, graceful glasses—which hold just the right amount. Ice tea straws also add to the serving of this pleasing beverage.
