Car of Gas Arrives.
 A carload of gasoline arrived in Pendleton today for distribution among farmers of this section. It is being unloaded by Fred Hennion, county agent and his assistant, Frank Groves.

Harvest Much Delayed.
 Because of yesterday's rainfall it will be two weeks before harvesting can be resumed during the morning hours says David Nelson, who farms near Pendleton. Mr. Nelson says that the moisture will be noticeable during the morning hours and it will be afternoon before the grain dries out sufficiently to be threshed. Mr. Nelson says that it is probable that harvest can be resumed by this afternoon. Wheat on his ranch is averaging very well, some of it going 40 bushels to the acre, he states.

To Take Training.
 Lester Norman, advertising man for the Tribune, will go to Portland tonight where he will study advertising for four months under the direction of the Vocational Training Board.

Labor Commissioner Here.
 C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner, is in Pendleton today for the purpose of checking up on the work done by his department. Routine matters required his attention, he said this morning. His headquarters are at Salem.

Dr. Sturgis to Leave.
 Dr. Cyrus Sturgis, who has been here for several weeks as the guest of relatives, will leave tomorrow morning for Spokane on the first lap of his return trip to Boston. Mrs. Sturgis and son will not return east for several weeks. They expect to go to Long Beach before going home.

Had Tonsils Removed.
 Cyril Proebstel, deputy county clerk, is unable to be at work today following an operation Saturday evening for the removal of his tonsils. He expects to be back within a short time.

Range Conditions Improved.
 The heavy rain that fell yesterday over Umatilla county and Eastern counties was of vast benefit to the livestock industry, cattle and sheep men declare. The range will be very much improved by the precipitation which amounted to 1 inch in Pendleton and was general in its scope.

Crapshooters Fined.
 John Reynolds, Orval Bogard, Hodson Kid and L. B. Bogard were fined $20 and costs each yesterday afternoon in the justice court at Adams on charges of vagrancy. They were apprehended by members of the sheriff's force Sunday when they were discovered participating in a "crap" game.

Gets Record Yield.
 The best yield that the ranch on which he is farming has ever produced has been secured this year by William Eldridge, young farmer who operates northeast of Hell. He has 340 acres of wheat which turned off about 40 bushels to the acre. He was here today taking care of business matters.

Found Roads Slippery.
 A motor trip from Lena to Pendleton yesterday afternoon disclosed the fact that the roads were rather slippery after the rain of Monday morning. John Brosnan reports. He is a livestock man and he gets his mail at Lena which is a station between Heppner and Pendleton on the upper part of Butter Creek.

Goes After Prisoner.
 Deputy Sheriff E. B. F. Ridgway has gone to Caldwell where he will secure F. H. Pratt who is under arrest there on request of the sheriff's office here. Fisk made a getaway from Umatilla county last fall. Tried on a charge of stealing a diamond ring, he had been found guilty, and while awaiting sentence, on a visit to see his wife, he slipped away. A quiet search has been made for him ever since.

Injured By Truck.
 Abraham Showaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Showaway, was seriously injured July 4 when a truck driver drove a truck over his body at White Swan, Washington, during an Indian celebration on the Yakima reservation which the young man was attending. He was internally injured, and his back was hurt. Mrs. Showaway, his mother, has been at his bedside since the accident. Young Showaway was unconscious for 10 hours, but he is much better now.

Kansas People Visit.
 Frank Scheer and Otto Piker, brother and brother-in-law, respectively of Policeman J. W. Scheer arrived Sunday to be the guests at the Scheer home. The brothers had not seen each other for 10 years previous to the reunion here, and it had been 20 years since Mr. Piker and Billy Scheer had visited. Both men are from Paola, Kans. They are returned from a tour of Yellowstone Park. They drove as far as Baker and took the train into Pendleton. They expect to remain a week or ten days.

Agreement to Hold.
 Suit to set aside a contract between the officials of the John Day Irrigation District association and John I. Lewis, former state engineer, brought by the Northern Pacific railroad, Shynthe Bros. and other land owners, has been denied by Judge Gilbert W. Phelps in a decision that was rendered Saturday afternoon. Another angle of the case has been settled in the decision, whereby the election of two new directors whose names were written in at a recent election is declared legal, and the directors, who have been refused places on the board by the old board, are declared justified to be seated.

To Take Vacation.
 Miss Grace A. Gilliam, county treasurer, plans to enjoy a vacation. She will leave Pendleton Thursday and will go to Portland where she will spend three or four days. Her journey then will be to points in Southern California. During her visit she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. T. H. Agnew of Pasadena and Miss Esther South, formerly prominent in musical circles in Pendleton. Miss Gilliam will be gone a month. It is her first real vacation since she took the duties of county treasurer. During her absence, the office will be in charge of C. K. Cranston.

"ADAMLESS EDEN" FOUNDED BY CORNELL WOMEN GRADS WHO "MAN" THE NEW PARADISE

Intensive Farming Engaged in by Members of Fair Sex Who Believe in Unpolluted Air.

BY KENT WATSON
 (International News Service Staff Correspondent.)
 DE SOTO, Mo., July 26.—The "Adamless Eden," fifty-five acres in area, has been created near here. "Manned" entirely by Miss Alice L. Peck, of Lafayette, New York, and Miss Anne P. Fisher, of St. Louis, Cedarbrook Farm is becoming famous throughout the great Southwest.

The novel idea of having an utterly "manless" farm was born at Cornell, of which university the owners of the place are graduates. The science of farming is bringing dividends with good health, both Miss Peck and Miss Fisher declare.

Out over their vast expanse of unpolluted air, the two women look with pleasure upon growing crops that yield up young fortunes each year. Located in a valley at the foot of the Ozarks, the "Adamless Eden" is one of the most fruitful sections of Missouri.

Berries and fruit especially thrive in the soil of the Ozarks. Money gained from such crops, the two young women have proven to pioneer farmers of the section, rolls up a larger bank account than would ordinary crops.

Miss Peck, a trained horticulturist, is the "man" of the place. She supervises the work of growing the crops, while Miss Fisher, a specialist in domestic science, does the canning of jams and jellies that bring shekels rolling into the coffers of Cedarbrook.

Ten acres of the little farm are given over to the growing of fruits and berries, eighteen acres are of woodland, with fifteen sowed in oats and corn. The remaining twelve comprise pasture and a yard for the farmhouse.

A small dairy is the pride of Miss Peck. There hold forth the denizens of tested purebred Jersey stock.

Wear Army Clothes
 The care of the poultry yard falls to Miss Fischer, who permits nothing but purebred Barred Rock pullets and roosters to peck food from the gravelly pen in which they live and produce. While Miss Peck has been busy, during two years of residence on the farm, in influencing De Soto farmers to introduce modern methods into their farm work. Miss Fisher has shown housewives the latest and most modern methods of canning and drying vegetables and fruits. Diversity always is preached by the two women.

The detail of farm labor is performed by the two young women attired in army trousers and regulation shirts. After the chores of the day have been completed, Misses Peck and Fisher take "Elijah" and go for a ride. "Elijah" is their Ford car.

Nature is the hallmark of good health is the philosophy of the "lady farmers." They serve their meals under the canopy of heaven and sleep on the front porch throughout the year.

"Joy comes from healthful work," declares Miss Peck. "There is no lethargy here next to nature. My health was poor when I decided that I would live longer on a farm. Nothing succeeds like profiting in health."
