

People Here and There

Melvin G. Winstock, who has been a business visitor in Pendleton for several days, left this morning on a short business trip to Pilot Rock.

Norris Jones, son of the late Owen P. Jones of Baker, was in the city last evening enroute from La Grande to Portland where he will visit for several days. Mr. Jones is a student of the medical department of the University of Oregon.

The Idaho State Life Insurance Co., with headquarters at Boise, has a quarter of a million dollars loaned in this county on farm property. The business of inspecting this property brings Mr. H. M. agent of the company, to Pendleton. He will remain about a week on his tour of inspection.

W. D. Whitcomb, of the accounting firm of Whitfield & Whitcomb, who has been in the city the past several days on business, returned to his home in Portland last evening. Mr. Whitcomb expects to go to California where he will join Mrs. Whitcomb who has been visiting there for the past few weeks. Later Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb will take a trip east.

J. H. Givins will leave tonight for Seaside where he will join members of his family on their vacation.

Charles J. Schumann, who has been in the city on business in connection with the new museum which is being erected here by the Portland Museum Company, returned to Portland today.

While they were in Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren of Boise were spotted by John Bailey, and he played hostess to the Gem State visitors by showing them points of interest in the city. They left last night. They are touring Oregon and California.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY OFFICES AND OFFICERS

Marriage License Granted.
 Paul Child came out of his hiding place today when the first marriage license granted since July 21 was issued at the office of R. T. Brown, county clerk, to Milton Herbert Smith, a boiler maker, and Elythe Powell, a clerk, both of Umatilla.

Peterson Bound Over.
 Tom Peterson, arrested Sunday by the sheriff's force back in the mountains, charged with the theft of goods from the home of Mrs. J. B. Baker of Umatilla, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury yesterday afternoon in the court of Judge J. M. Schanney. His bond was fixed at $200 which he has not raised, and so remains in jail.

Aged Man Taken.
 A man giving his name as John Dall was captured by forces of the sheriff early this morning out in the open country about 1-2 mile south of Pilot Rock after reports had been received that he was acting in a peculiar manner on his march through the county. He avoided most of the houses, but in one instance he compelled a rancher to hand over a quantity of flour at the point of a gun. He carried a 25-35 rifle, and when captured, was lying close to a log fire, his rifle within easy reach of his hand. The rifle was taken first and then Dall was awakened. He was taken to the state hospital this morning.

LEGION WILL HELP IN GETTING LOAN MONEY

Pendleton Post of the American Legion has started making preparations for taking care of the needs of ex-service men in the territory contiguous to Pendleton when it comes time to make applications for loans or the bonus under the new state law recently approved by the people at the special election.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Legion held last week, P. I. Idleman was selected as the local representative to take care of the work of furnishing information to men when they make application for either the loan or the cash bonus.

The American National Bank has turned over offices room and has granted Idleman leave of absence from his duties with the bank long enough to permit him to take care of all this work which it is expected will require at least two weeks.

The bank will perform the same service through its branch banks at Helix and Pilot Rock. At Helix, Fred Jones will assist ex-service men, and at Pilot Rock C. W. Paulus will have charge of the work in an advisory capacity. It is expected that between six and a dozen houses will be built in each place as soon as loans can be made. This construction work is expected to have a decided effect in decreasing the present housing shortage that exists in each place.

Present indications are that it will be impossible for the applications to be made before the latter part of August or the first of September.

Trench maps which were printed for military use on strong canvas are now being used to make inner soles for tennis shoes.

GIRL ASSERTS RIGHT TO CHOOSE HER OWN

HEIKIMED, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Mike Pollock, of New Haven, Conn., for the present, at least is a disappointed wooer. Paula Mialoiki of Jordanville, was the object of Mike's affections. Some years ago, when Paula's parents lived in the Connecticut city, the suitor took a fancy to the then sixteen-year-old girl. This he made known to the girl's parents, who without Paula's knowledge, agreed at a future time, that Mike should become their son-in-law. Meantime Mike saved his earnings bought a house, arranged the details for the wedding, even to the flowers and music. Recently the suitor ten years Paula's senior, came to Jordanville to claim the hand of the young lady. She resented the family plan and went to the sheriff for protection. Mike's demands upon the sheriff were met with advice to wait until "all" were ready for the ceremony.

Suits On Notes.
 Three suits have been filed in circuit court in which promissory notes are the basis of contention. The Home Packing Co. has sued Thomas C. Chubbart to recover judgment for $27.28, alleged to be due on a note. George W. Hays represents the plaintiff. A note of $250 would be collected by the Bank of Freeport in a suit instituted against J. T. Tobin and Lavonia Hoot. Peterson and Bishop are the plaintiff's attorneys. J. B. Perry, acting for the A. and C. Adjustment Co. has sued L. W. Perry for a judgment of $220.00 on accounts. There are three causes of action.

COUNTY COURT NAMES THREE ON BUDGET BOARD

A. C. McIntyre of Helix, Carl S. McNaught of Hermiston and James H. Sturges of Pendleton have been designated by the county court to act as the county budget committee under provisions of the law adopted by the recent legislature.

The law, which applies to all taxing bodies including city councils, county courts, school boards, etc., authorized the naming of bodies to go over estimates of funds needed to carry on the work of the various departments of government and to recommend tax levies. In the case of the county the county court, as before, will have the final decision in the matter of taxation, the budget council acting in a purely advisory capacity.

An important provision of the law, however, is that all proposed tax levies must be acted on by the council before the county court has the authority to act.

FAMOUS TENOR

When a small blood vessel in his throat burst while he was singing in "E Hale d'Amore" in the Brooklyn Academy of Music. Recovered from this mishap, Caruso was stricken with pleurisy.

During his indisposition, Caruso was the object of devoted attention by his wife, formerly Miss Dorothy Beaudin, of New York, whom he married in 1918. One child was born to them. Caruso had a son by a former wife, a singer named Ada Ciochetti, with whom he had been associated in opera at Treviso and Bologna.

Caruso's repertoire in America included the following: (Italian) "Aida," "Rigoletto," "La Boheme," "L'Africaine," "La Fanciulla del West," "La Traviata," "Les Huguenots," "Fedora," "Madrienne Lecouvreur," "Cavalliera Rusticana," "Pagliacci," "L'Amore del Tre Re," "La Ballo in Maschera," "Lodoletta," "Marta," "L'Elisir d'Amore," "Mann Lescaut," "Madama Butterfly," "La Fanciulla del West," "Lucia di Lammermoor," "La Gioconda," "Il Trovatore," "Don Giovanni," "Germania," "Tris," "Lacerta Borga," "Pascia," "La Furbata del Destino," (French) "Les Pecheurs de Perles," "Armide," "Faust," "Julien," "Le Prophete," "Carmen," "Samson et Delila," and "Moulin."

The famous singer was the guest of honor at a silver jubilee celebration, on the 25th anniversary of his operatic debut, in November 1915 at the Metropolitan at which prominent New Yorkers, including the Mayor and other officials, made of his great artistic achievements. He received an illuminated parchment from 25 families holding boxes in the $7,000,000 "Golden Horseshoe," a flag from the City of New York, several medals and numerous gifts from his fellow artists.

Mr. and Mrs. Caruso resided in New York City during the opera season. They had a summer home on Long Island and another residence, Villa alle Panchie, at Florence, Italy.

MERCY SHOWN WEAK MINDED WIFE SLAYER

BENTON, Ark., Aug. 2.—(U. N. S.)—Audrey Nance, farmer, wife slayer, probably will spend the remainder of his life in the state hospital for nervous diseases instead of paying the death penalty for the murder of his wife, whose despondent body was found in the woods near here.

"Yes I killed her," Nance is said to have told visitors to his cell in the Benton county jail, "and as soon as I can get poison I'll join her at the pearly gates. She is waiting for me. I kissed her goodby before I cut her to death and promised I'd meet her."

Nance volunteered for service during the world war. He was discharged because of epilepsy. Officers declare he is mentally unbalanced.

GIRL EDITOR OF TELEPHONE MAGAZINE SECURES LOCAL COLOR BY UNDERGOING ONE YEAR OPERATING A SWITCHBOARD

By HAZEL BLAIR.
 (Written for the International News Service.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 2.—Three months actual experience as a telephone operator following her graduation from the Journalistic department of the Missouri State University, in order to obtain useful information for her new job as associate editor of the Southwestern Telephone News, is the unique record made by Miss Mary Sue Patton, of St. Louis. She has held her present position for more than a year and attributes her success in it to the knowledge she gained as a "hello girl" at the switchboard of the Olive street exchange, St. Louis. In short, she knows just what sort of material the girls want to see in the monthly magazine and just how to obtain from them what they do know.

The position Miss Patton holds was made for her in the nature of an experiment by the company officials, following their attempt to get one of their girls who could write. They were afraid the average college girl would not get the right slant on the position, hence the giving of such an experience to Miss Patton.

Miss Patton was graduated from college with a bachelor of arts degree in 1919, and went to Canada to do newspaper work. Later she returned and took the journalistic degree. She was then told of the need in St. Louis for such a position if she would work

LITTLE GIRLS DONATE TOYS FOR ARCTIC KIDS

WISCASSETT, Maine, Aug. 2.—Hortense Barleigh, nine year old, and her two little friends, Mary and Roxana Neil, all of Dorchester, climbed aboard the Bowdoin, MacMillan's Arctic ship, when it pulled into the harbor and gave Mr. MacMillan a boxful of dolls and toys which had been made by members of the Girls' Friendly Society of All Saints' church, Dorchester, Mass., of which the Rev. Simon Blunt is rector.

The dolls Hortense gave to Mr. MacMillan are but a few of hundreds that have been contributed from all over the country.

Operating Improves When She Quits

Then, as she tells the story, "I was sent for to work on the switchboard in St. Louis. I went with fear and trembling and reported to the schools, only to be turned down. However, that matter was fixed up and I started on the most strenuous work I have ever attempted. Covering the widest story in the world could not compare with it and I generally ended the day in a state of tears. Only my determination kept me there. Finally I arrived at the place where I was a real operator and I certainly had more respect for that than for the girls who had answered my 'hello' over the telephone. The girls came to know me just as one of themselves and I liked them. It all stands me in good stead now. In return I have written for their magazine fairy stories of a sort that puts into fanciful shape some of the things they do each day. I have endeavored to give them imagination in their daily tasks and ambition.

"There is no way that helps to hold a position as high as much as by working with those of the ranks first. It gives you understanding that is valuable. My friends tell me the system is better since I quit operation and became an editor—maybe so."
