BOYS OF NAVY MAKE HIGH RECORDS DURING YEAR IN ATHLETICS

Princeton and California Divide Honors With Tars for Best Work Done During Season.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—(By Henry L. Farrell, U. P. Staff Correspondent) Misshipment of the United States Naval Academy are entitled to puff a big chest out in their "tight-jaced" jackets.

The Navy wrote big letters on the intercollegiate sport calendar for the 1920-1921 season.

The Annapolis rowing crew not only won the undisputed championship of the water, but it proved itself one of the greatest eights ever developed in the United States.

In addition, Navy won the boxing, fencing and gymnastic titles and beat the Army at football, which was perhaps the sweetest of all the season's triumphs to the future admirals.

Princeton had a big year, one of the most successful in Nassau's history. The Tigers won the eastern football championship, the tennis and water polo crowns and a tie with Dartmouth for the golf title. They also lay claim to the sprint rowing championship.

California looms large also on the records with a legitimate claim to the western football championship, a clear title to the track and field title and a second in the Poughkeepsie rowing regatta.

Rowing and track and field athletes furnish the only clear titles to a national championship. The other lines of sport furnished only sectional titles. The following gives the results of the season in the case:

Football—Princeton.
Boxing—Navy.
Track—California.
Baseball—Penn State.
Basketball—Pennsylvania.
Soccer—Pennsylvania.
Cross Country—Cornell.
Hockey—Harvard.
Swimming—Yale.
Fencing—Navy.
Golf—Dartmouth and Princeton.
Tennis—Princeton and Harvard.
Water Polo—Princeton.
Wrestling—Penn State.
Boxing—Navy.
Gymnastics—Navy.
Lacrosse—Lehigh.
Trap Shooting—Yale.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Gotham has a corner on home run holsters now that Irish Meusel has shaken the dust of Quaker town from his heels to become a giant.

New York's array of four-ply circuit breakers is nothing if not impressive with:

Babe Ruth, king of home run hitters of all times.
Frank Baker, erstwhile monarch of home run hitters.
George Kelly, larruping leader for National League honors.
Emil (Irish) Meusel, runner-up to Kelly for the 1921 title in the senior league.

What with the lively ball and the Polo Grounds on which to crash it, this quartet ought to make something of a record in heavy cannonading by October 1.

Our office, gat, rings from a nap in the sun to join in the chorus of protest over the crusade against personal liberty with the remark that even the back fences aren't what they used to be.

The Herman family is quite well represented in fistic society.

There is Pete Herman, a Herman by adoption though born Giulotto, bantamweight champion of the world and a native of New Orleans.

Babe Herman, another bantam of parts, aspirant to the title held by the Crescent City lad, who discovered California at San Francisco.

Kid Herman, the Pekin, Ill., veteran, who was fighting at his top speed in the days when Ad Wolcott and Joe Mandot came to the front, and who still tosses mean rights and lefts.

Willie Herman, of Paterson, N. J., recently graduated from featherweight ranks to the lightweight division.

Bob Martin, who has gone back to Terra Alta in the Brier mountains of West Virginia to rest till the hand he broke on Frank Moran heals up again, is going to be very much in demand when he gets back into fighting harness.

Promoters throughout the country have stamped Manager Jimmy Bronson with offers for Martin's services, and the ex-milkman can be a very busy money-earner if he wants to fight often enough.

One of the next matches Martin will appear in will probably be in Balt-more September 3, during what will be known in that section of the county as "Buddy Week." There's going to be big doings for the soldier boys in the Mountaintop City and one of the main attractions, if present plans do not go awry, will be a match between Martin and Fay Keiser, also an A. E. F. boxer.

This match will excite more than a lot of interest among the members of the A. E. F. and the boxing fans in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, and the District of Columbia, and should draw a record crowd for that section of the country.

There may be something of a flurry in the defeat recently of Bill Tilden by young Vance Richards in the Connecticut state singles championship at Providence.

The Yonkers flash took the lanky Philadelphia info camp in a most surprising and altogether convincing manner. His victory, too, was clean-cut and he won by a score that left no doubt about the class of tennis he played.

Tilden, admittedly has been off his game, and this is mentioned without the idea of taking anything away from Richards. But would it be strange or surprising to see the International champion go down to defeat in the coming national singles championship. Those who have watched his efforts since he returned from abroad believe it would not.

Bill the II. has been in condition and in the harness over too long a stretch. He has played consistent tennis for over a year and traveled many thousands of miles. It isn't to be wondered that he may have come to the period of staleness that overtakes every athlete who keeps at any game persistently without a letup. The question is: Can Tilden glide through his period of staleness in time to be on his game for the Davis cup matches and the national tourney? Time and the balance of Dame Fortune's scales alone can tell.

NO CRIME TO THROW BALL GAME, CLAIMED

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—(U. P.)—The "Black Sox" defense claimed it is no crime to throw a ball game. Henry Berger, the defense attorney, told the jury the state failed to show where the former White Sox stars, charged with throwing the 1919 world series, had transgressed the law. "The state failed to prove the men threw the series," Berger declared. "Even if they had, there is no law against it." Berger claimed the trial was the outcome of a feud between Ban Johnson, president of the American league and Charles Comiskey, the White Sox president.

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

ARCADE TODAY

William Faversham, in his second big Schenck Picture, "The Sin That Was His," will be the feature attraction at the Arcade theatre today.

This story, by Frank L. Packard, has as its central figure a gambler called "Two Ace" Raymond, once educated for the priesthood, but at the time the story opens he has drifted so far he is a cold and cynical atheist. A dying pal entrusts him with a bag of gold to be delivered to his mother in St. Marlean, Quebec, and Raymond starts off on his mission.

Arriving at the designated place, he is met by the brother of the dead man, who attempts to secure the gold. In the ensuing struggle the man is shot and killed by his mother, who had intended the shot for Raymond, thinking he was a burglar. Fearing that he will be suspected, Raymond flees the place and stumbles upon the unconscious form of Father Aubert, a priest who had arrived in St. Marlean on the same train as Raymond. Fr. Aubert had been injured by a falling tree branch.

In desperation, Raymond changes clothes with Fr. Aubert, who is then accused of the shooting. The gambler continues his masquerade, which is accepted by the simple villagers. In the days that follow the constant association with the better things of life effect a transformation in Raymond's very soul, and the story comes to a close in a climax that has seldom been equalled for dramatic power.
