Hide of the Opened.
 Hidden the his new high school building at Milton-Freewater which will be constructed soon will be opened to cost $200,000 and will be one of the finest high schools in the West when it is completed.

Back from Vacation
 Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kestor and Philo Kestor have returned from Cave Lake in the Blue Mountains where they spent a fortnight. A heavy coat of fog brought back by the boys on a remembrance of the pleasant time spent the vacation. Incidentally, Rudy said to have caught up on sleep and Jim satisfied his appetite for "bath."

Have Hunting Picture
 A picture containing 22 coyote pelts secured by Albert Peterson has been presented to George and Averill for their office. Peterson was a United States hunter and worked under E. J.
 Averill when the latter was predatory animal inspector for Oregon and Washington. The pelts in the picture are arranged on a canvas to spell "U.
 S. Hunter" and Peterson and his dog are in the foreground.

Able To Get Rifles
 That the Pendleton National Rifle Club will be able to get Springfield rifles for club shooting is the welcome information that has been received by R. A. Hottecher, secretary, from the war department. Repairs can also be secured for the present Krag model rifles and the 6,000 rounds of ammunition will be provided to the members. Steps will be taken immediately to secure a range and target so the club may enjoy some sport this fall. A requisition for the Springfield rifles will be sent in immediately to the war department.

Sparks Start Fires.

When No. 13 passed Saturday evening, sparks from the locomotive started two grass fires. One was at the corner of Clay and Railroad streets and the other at State and Railroad.
 Both blazes were extinguished by the fire department without any property loss.

Kestor Returns Home.

R. L. Kestor, district attorney, returned home Sunday morning from Seaside where he has been for several weeks following an operation. His health is greatly improved as a result of the operation. Mrs. Kestor will remain on the beach for several weeks before returning home.

Attend Funeral

Among out-of-town friends who came to Pendleton today to attend the funeral of Miss Ruth Hart, who lost her life on the steamer Alaska, are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Egan, of Walla Walla, Mr. and Mrs. George Burt, of Portland, Mrs. W. H. Davis of Portland and Miss Edna Minder, of La Grande.

Will Send Exhibit

Gilliam county farmers are much interested in the coming Northwest Grain and Hay Show to be held here September 19 to 24, according to an article in a recent number of the Central Globe Times. Gilliam county has a record crop this year and farmers are planning to carry off some of the $1000 prize money at the fall show.

In Police Court

Walter Redburn and John Doe were fined $10 this morning in police court by Acting Judge John Bailey on charges of being drunk. Jess Bowman received a fine of $15 for being drunk and disorderly. L. M. Addington forfeited $5 for driving a car without a license. Two vagrants received suspended sentences on condition that they get out of town.

Swamy Found Over.

J. P. Swamy, charged with selling opium, was found over to await the action of the federal grand jury this morning when he was arraigned before S. A. Newberry, commissioner of the federal court. His bond was fixed at $150. Swamy's arrest was effected several days ago by the police. One of the witnesses was recently released from jail under suspicious circumstances.

Bob Hanks Round-Up

R. W. Fletcher, pioneer Pendleton-in, is spending a few days in Portland with his family. "I drove down from Pendleton with my family," said Fletcher. "We are visiting my wife's mother, Mrs. Eleanor Cameron of Irvington. Yes, I can pretty nearly qualify as a pioneer of Pendleton. I have since the year 1884. I was with the railroad for some years, after which I put in 12 years as circulation manager of the East Oregonian. From there I went to the People's Warehouse as general manager. One of the things of which I am most proud is the organization of the Cowboy's Mounted Band at the Round-Up. Fletcher's family band and orchestra comes pretty nearly being one of the institutions of Pendleton. Six of my children play in the band. The tourist who comes to Oregon by train has no conception of the amount of travel to and through the state. On our way to Portland we met over 500 cars between The Dalles and Multnomah falls. Between Multromah falls and Portland it looked as if we were meeting a continuous procession of cars."—Oregon Journal.

Sulphur Increases Yield.

This year's sulphur demonstrations have shown remarkable results, says Fred Bendon, county agriculture agent. At Hermiston where it has been considered rather doubtful regarding the results, big increased yields have been secured this year when applied on the fur soils. O.
 L. C. Dyer's farm where fifteen hundred pounds of sulphur was applied early last spring a slight increase was noted in the first cutting. The second cutting was weighed by Sept. 11. K. Dean showed a 49 per cent increase. Mr. Dean reports that even on the experiment station where sulphur was applied two years ago, and where no result was noted last year, 25 per cent increase is now being secured. At Stanfield most of the sulphur was put on too late to note any marked increase up to date this year.
 Continued increased yields, however, have been secured from applications which were made in 1920. At Pendleton, Athens, Pilot stock and Weston from 25 to 50 per cent increased yields have been secured this year from areas where sulphur had been applied.
 No results have been noted at Em-pine. Some of the most marked increases were secured from the fields of Bob Blomgren, Carl Bratcher and E. E. Truett at Weston.

REDUCTION OF WAGES WILL BE FOUGHT IN UNISON BY THE MINERS

Anthracite and Bituminous Miners to Join With Mine Workers in Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 15.—(U. P.)—United resistance against any reduction of miners' wages by the union miners of the country loomed today as the outstanding feature of the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America which will open in Indianapolis Tuesday, September 20. For the first time delegates from the anthracite and bituminous coal fields will be prepared to join hands in the formulation of demands for the next wage contract between the miners and operators and present a united front in combating wage slashes.
 For the first time in many years the wage agreements in the bituminous fields and in the anthracite fields will expire in the same day, March 21, 1922. Heretofore the bituminous wage agreement expired on one date and the anthracite agreement on another date, and the miners in each branch of the industry were not in position, therefore, to give the same degree of support to the other in the negotiation of their agreements as they will be next spring.

John L. Lewis, International President, has made the statement on several occasions that the United Mine Workers of America will not permit any reduction in the wages of the mine workers and this fact lends greater significance to the coming convention at which the details of the wage policy of the miners' union will be worked out and ratified.

Convention to be Smaller.

It has been the custom of the anthracite miners in the past to frame their wage demands and have them adopted by a tri-district convention, comprising the three anthracite districts, after which they were reported to the national convention of the union for approval. This year, however, this procedure has been reversed. Anthracite delegates to the national convention will prepare their demands for approval by the national convention and the tri-district convention for ratification will be held afterward. Thus, any general policy with reference to wages that may be adopted by the national convention will govern the miners in their negotiations in the anthracite region as well as in the bituminous fields of the country.
 Ellis Searles, editor of the United Mine Workers Journal, said today, that all other questions to come before the national convention will be subordinate to the one great proposition of preparing for the negotiation of wage scale agreements in the bituminous and anthracite branches of the industry.

The number of delegates to attend the convention this year will be smaller than that of two years ago, when the convention was held in Cleveland. At that time there were 2,044 delegates. This year the number will be approximately 1,500. At the Cleveland convention action was taken favoring nationalization of mines and the adoption of the six-hour day and the five-day week.
 These same subjects will undoubtedly come before the September convention for further action.

WOULD MERGE WORLD'S GOLD INTO RESERVE

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(U. P.)— Merging the world's gold supply into a single reserve one is the solution of the international financial situation according to Alfred Owen Crozier, Crozier and authorities on money matters and international law declared he thought the Washington conference would develop into a new permanent association of nations and a natural concentration of the world's gold would follow.

Such a "super reserve" would cause the stabilization of international finance and commerce and prevent sudden inflation and deflation of domestic currency; self financing, through the interest profits of the world bank; nation's associations and prevent future wars through curbing their financing. "The entire world's gold supply totals $8,000,000,000," said Crozier, "the United States holding about half."
