ARCADE TODAY

THOUSANDS IN BATHING RITE

Scenes of unrivaled beauty will be a feature of Sidney A. Franklin's initial independent production, "Not Guilty," which associated First National releases at the Arcade Theatre today.

Director Franklin is a lover of the beautiful, and while his previous successes with Mary Pickford and Norma Talmadge as the stars have been noted for their wonderful settings, it is claimed that his current production will far outstrip them.

Many of the scenes for "Not Guilty" have their locale in India along the shores of the Ganges. Thousands of native Hindu women will be seen bathing in the Sacred River. The world famed temples of that country will add great beauty to the production, especially the scenes showing the Taj Mahal, the pure white marble mausoleum built at Agra, India, by the Mogul Emperor Shah Jehan, in memory of his favorite wife. The colorful tea houses built over the picturesque harbor at Rangoon are another feature of the production, as are the curious pearl boats.

Luxurious interiors are also included in the story, among them being a reproduction of a fashionable New York gambling house, and the ball room of a famous old world hostelry.

FAMOUS DANCERS APPEAR IN BIG INCE PHOTOPLAY

Classical dancing on the motion screen is coming into its own.

This year's crop of the followers of the pantomimic drama demanded rough and ready action, spectacular scenes and thrills as supplied by cowboys and society melodramas, but a group of classical dancers—too highbrow! was the general verdict.

Today, however, audiences have come to appreciate true art as it is expressed in the better types of productions. Realizing this growing understanding of artistic interpretation, Thomas H. Ince has included as a special feature in "Mother O' Mine," his latest dramatic offering for the Associated producers, which comes to the Alta Theatre today, one of the most beautiful classical dancing scenes ever projected on the screen.

The famous Belcher dancing girls were secured for this incident of the production, and it is said that in "Mother O' Mine" they are making their first appearance before the camera. The Belcher School is one of the most renowned dancing institutions in America, its pupils being in every instance graduates of other schools of interpretive dancing and highly advanced in the terpsichorean art.

In the coming production, they are presented as a part of the entertainment program of a metropolitan hotel ballroom. The scene in which they appear is said to be a masterpiece of photographic accomplishment. Clothed in feminine robes, bare headed and bare legged, they dance under and through the sparkling mists of a dozen or more silver fountains while multi-colored lights, plays on the scene, produce startling beautiful rainbow effects.

The remainder of the ballroom program depicted in "Mother O' Mine" is notable for the many novel and interesting effects that have been introduced by the members of the Ince staff, several of whom are widely experienced in the staging of chorus numbers and colorful ensembles.

RED CROSS DOCTORS TO INVADE CANADA WILDS

SASKATOON, Sask., Aug. 16.—(U. P.)—The white and scarlet emblem of the Canadian Red Cross is to shine out in the most isolated districts of Western Canada. Every farm house, regardless of location, is to be within easy distance of a hospital doctor or Red Cross nurse. New settlers, many of whom are locating on the fertile lands along the Canadian National Railway, are to have quick medical assistance in case of illness.

The movement had its inception in Saskatchewan. Through cooperation of the Canadian Red Cross and the provincial board of health adequate funds, nurses and doctors have been provided. Small outpost hospitals under supervision of qualified attendants already have been established at points not previously close to medical facilities.

It is all a part of Canada's general health campaign. War on tonsils and adenoids in Western Canada, according to statistics, has brought the health of children up to first rank among nations of the world.

Co-operative hospitals, maintained by a very slight tax on land, are operated in many districts. Farmers may go to these hospitals and have all the attention provided by medical science for $1 a day.

Red Cross outposts are to be the last link in the good health chain that girds Canada's prairie provinces.

NATION PREFERS HOME LIFE SAYS OHIO MAN

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR $200,000 TO DEFRAY CONFERENCE EXPENSES

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 16.—Only the inability to build homes fast enough to supply the demand keeps a big majority of American families from owning their own homes, declared James A. Devine, secretary of the Ohio Building Association League, when told that hotel men in the United States had predicted the passing of the American home.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—(A. P.)—The president asked congress for $200,000 to defray the expenses of the disarmament conference.

F. G. Rothwell, national secretary of the hotel men's organization, at a convention just concluded, stated that "the renaissance of cliff dwellers is coming." He declared the old fashioned American home is passing along with the horse and in due time will be exhibited along with the stuffed dodo bird and the war of the ark. People are moving into hotels, according to Rothwell.

Not so, according to Secretary Devine, of the building and loan organization. "Ohio is soon to witness the greatest home-building boom in its history," he declared. "Every effort of the eight hundred building and loan institutions in Ohio during the next year is to be turned to home building." Devine declared that the home shortage in Ohio has reached serious proportions.

"The public will realize within the next year just what inestimable value to any community is a well-organized building program, Devine said the American home would never pass out of existence. "Instead the nation is becoming one of home owners," he declared.
