HOME DEMONSTRATION IDEAS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Decaying Teeth

Ten million of our school children have defective teeth. A decayed tooth means that the cavity is filled with organisms that are constantly pouring their poisons into the mouth. Toxins formed by these organisms are also taken up by the lymphatics and poured into the blood stream.

Each day we permit, by the presence of a decayed tooth, entrance into the system of a minute dose of poison. A competent dentist should be consulted every six months even if the teeth appear to be in good condition. Brushing of the teeth should be emphasized as this will prevent decay.—E. V. D.

WHEAT SLIPS BACK FOR LOSS OF THREE CENTS

A drop of three cents on both September and December deliveries of wheat was recorded today on the Chicago market, September closing at $1.19 1-2 and December at $1.20 3-4. Following are the quotations received by Overbeck and Cooke Co., local brokers:

Wheat	Open	High	Low	Close
Sept.	$1.22 1/2	$1.23 1/2	$1.19 1/2	$1.19 1/2
Dec.	1.23 1/2	1.24 1/2	1.20 3/4	1.20 3/4
Corn
Sept.	.55	.55 1/2	.54 1/2	.54 1/2
Dec.	.53 1/2	.54 1/2	.53 1/2	.53 1/2

Wheat—With the exception of moderate rally early accompanied by scattered covering by shorts, the market was a weak one throughout the session and closed at bottom figures. Buying by export interests from time to time served only to check the downward tendency temporarily. Liquidation was general and increased in volume as the market got into new ground. The movement of winter wheat is gradually falling off, but spring wheat is taking its place, and arrivals at primary points in the aggregate are very large. The export demand is good, so is the domestic milling inquiry, but buyers have little difficulty in satisfying their wants without bidding up prices. The long side of the future has lost its attractiveness for the time being at least, we believe it will be good policy to make sales on bulges.

AMERICAN NURSES DEDICATE INSTITUTION IN TOUCHING CEREMONY

Building is in Memory of 284 Nurses Who Gave Their Lives During Late World War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(U. S. S.)—Of all the permanent memorials of the World War that Americans have left in France none gives more promise of growing in importance than the new Florence Nightingale Training School for Nurses established at Bagatelle, in the scenic Bordeaux suburb of Talence. It is dedicated to the memory of the 284 American nurses who gave their lives in the war and was given by the nurses of America through small individual subscription.

The school was founded by Dr. Anna Hamilton, who on June 5 last, when the cornerstone was laid, sat quietly in the shade of a great elm and modestly acknowledged the shower of felicitations from Americans and French men and women of prominence on the fruits of her twenty years' struggle to raise the standard of nursing in France.

Seldom has there been witnessed in France a Franco-American ceremony more touching. The scene was set in the park of Bagatelle, an estate given to the nurses by Mademoiselle Elizabeth Bonnet of Bordeaux. Under a great fifty-year-old tree and flanking the cornerstone was a stand, draped in American and French flags, erected by Major Frederick W. Patterson, of Baltimore, head of the Graves Registration Services in the Bordeaux area.

Rear Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, American Naval Attache in France, who came from Paris, and the blue-jackets of the U. S. Destroyer Childs, ordered from Cherbourg especially for the occasion, represented the American Navy. A handful of the sailors remained aboard their boat to "show it to thousands of eager French people who filed on board. At Bagatelle Admiral Magruder was in charge of the dedicatory ceremonies. Speaking in such good French that it provided a very pleasant surprise to the French people, he thanked the French nurses for their ministrations to the American sailors who were in the nearby hospital during the war.

Sailors were lined up on one side of the stand and uniformed nurses on the other. They took part in the singing of "The Marseillaise" and "The Star Spangled Banner," played by the Band of the one Hundred and forty-fourth French Infantry Regiment.

The gathering, which included more than one hundred Americans, who came from Paris and other distant parts of France, listened to speeches by Colonel Robert E. Olds, of Minneapolis; Dr. Kendall Emerson, of Worcester, Mass., and many other Americans and Frenchmen and Americans. Miss Helen Scott Hay, of Savannah, Ill., laid the cornerstone.

The Mayor of Talence was present, with members of the County Council, many of whom delivered speeches praising the American people for their continued interest in the well-being of France in her post-war struggle.

At a dinner in the evening, served by the uniformed nurses in a garden of the estate, bronze commemorative medals were presented to all the Americans by the French nurses.

WOMEN IN HOMES AND SOCIETY

Countless women devote their whole lives to their homes, while others are in the business world, or find happiness only in society. Whether you are a home woman, you know how hard it is to "drag along" day after day, suffering agonies, caused by some female derangement that has developed from overtaxing your strength. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly half a century has been considered a standard remedy for woman's ills.

Be Prepared

Do not wait until some member of your family is taken with a severe attack of bowel complaint and then seek for medicine, but be prepared. Buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy so as to have it at hand ready for instant use. Buy it now.

There's No Friend Like an Old Friend

An old friend will always help you in time of need. It is the same with Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is an old and tried friend in many thousands of families and like other old friends, can be depended upon in time of need.

Stomach

When the quantity of food taken is too great or the quality too rich, your stomach may resent and especially so if you are constipated. Eat slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, eat sparingly of meats. Let fully five hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the stomach, after eating your supper, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets, and in most cases your stomach may be avoided.

Worth Considering

We take it for granted that your digestion is troubling you. Do not imagine that you are the only one suffering that way. There are thousands of others and as a general rule, unnescessarily. Your case is much the same as that of a great many others who have been cured by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. Give them a trial. You are certain to be more than pleased with the benefit derived from their use. Do it now. They only cost a trifle.
