Mrs. Hatfield Dies

Mrs. Nellie Hatfield, mother of Mrs. John D. Link of Hermiston and P. F. Hatfield of Hermiston, died in Kansas City on Sunday. She had been suffering from cancer and had taken the trip in the hope of finding relief through medical treatment. For the past six years Mrs. Hatfield was postmistress at Troutdale. She is survived by her husband, Mrs. Link, Mr. Hatfield and a second daughter, Mrs. Odin Anderson of Monmouth.

R. W. Ritner Returns

R. W. Ritner president of the 1921 Senate returned last night from Salem where he has been for a meeting of the state emergency board of which he is a member. The board pledged a deficiency appropriation not to exceed $30,000 for the administration of the soldiers' bonus law. The board also went on record to the effect that it would care for any legitimate expenses incurred by the secretary or state treasurer under the act. George A. White, adjutant-general, in a statement before the emergency board said the people had voted for the creation of a $30,000,000 corporation, while the legislature had appropriated only $30,000 for the administration of the act. He declared that this sum was wholly insufficient and would hardly pay for floating the original bond issue of $5,000,000, provide proper office equipment and get the work of the world-war veterans' state aid commission under way.

For Medical Treatment

Henry Thompson of Gibbon has been in Pendleton for several days. He is undergoing medical treatment.

An After-Harvest Vacation

After the harvest is over and before the weather gets any cooler is the ideal time for a little vacation trip according to Theodore Charrier who with Mrs. Charrier was here today. They farm near Helix. They are planning to go to Soap Lake, Wash. for a visit and rest of about two weeks.

Getting Round-Up Information

F. T. Mittauer, in the hotel business in Portland, formerly manager of the Geyser Grand at Baker, and W. R. Southard of Baker, were in Pendleton today on their way to Baker after having been at Marshfield for several days. They were asking for advance information about the Round-Up and expect to be here for the show in September.

Has Attractive Window

Five deer heads mounted attractively, one brown bear rug, two black bear rugs, a mounted brown bear cub and some lynx rugs are included in a window display at the W. J. Clarke Hardware store on East Court street. The mounting of the heads and pelts is the work of H. O. Worthington who does quite a lot of taxidermy work. The display has been receiving much comment from sportsmen who are making plans for the hunting season.

Likes Cabbage Hill View

"I was through Yellowstone Park just a few weeks ago and saw all the sights in that place of wonders, but there isn't anything in the park that can beat the view one gets of the Inland Empire from Cabbage Hill." That is the statement made today by Warden J. Smith, a newspaper man who is on a tour of the Pacific coast states. He was until recently advertising manager of The Times at Twin Falls, Idaho. "I came mighty near running my machine off the road down the trail because I was so busy looking at that view instead of driving," is what Smith had to say. He expects to go to Walla Walla from here where he has friends.

Signs Must Go.

Signs on the state highways in Umatilla county must be down by September 1, says Oscar Cutler, resident engineer, who is here from Athena today. Mr. Cutler says that R. H. Baldock, division engineer, has instructed him to put a force of men to work at removing the signs unless they have disappeared after September 1. The state law provides that there shall be no signs on buildings, fences, gates, bridges, trees, rocks, boards or anything whatsoever within the limits of the state highway or within sight of the highway, unless, however, owners of property give their consent. Mr. Cutler states that with the exception of the 15 miles of grading between Pilot Rock and Vinson there is no highway work underway in this county. The work is being done by state and county, the contract being in the hands of Oxman and Harrington, who have agreed to have the work done by January 1, 1922. The Warren Construction Co. recently finished the short detour at Blue Mountain Station, so that there is now continuous pavement between Pendleton and Walla Walla. Contracts will be let August 30 by the state highway department for eight miles of guard rails on county highways. Some of the guard rails will be for the Pendleton-Cabbage Hill road, and other for the Pendleton-Echo, Pendleton-Milton and Pendleton-Pilot Rock roads.
