FOOD RELIEF WORKER FINDS CENTRAL EUROPE IS RISING TOWARDS STABILITY; U. S. RESCUES 10,000,000 CHILDREN

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(U. S. A.)—J. H. Walls, Dubuque, Ia., American Relief Administration representative who has returned after five months' survey of the Hoover organization's feeding operation in Central and Eastern Europe, expressed optimism today concerning the economic and political future of the nations who owe their existence largely to the generosity of the American people who contributed $23,000,000 during the European Relief Council drive.

"In general, the aspect today of Central Europe and the Baltic is one of recovery," he said. "The recovery is, perhaps, not as rapid as it might have been if men and nations had been ideally wise, but it is substantial and promising. Although in some places there are distressing conditions, it is entirely a mistake to suppose that Europe is sinking. The contrary is true. Europe is rising."

"There are still some international wrangles, such as Upper Silesia and the Polish-Lithuanian dispute about Vilna; Austria, not yet adjusted to her new place in the world-order, is still suffering business stagnation. But economic conditions are improving, the economic barriers between states are being broken down by commercial treaties; the railway systems are getting back to normality. Order has been restored everywhere. The responsible authorities in all these countries are respected."

Mingles With All Classes.

"My investigation in Central Europe and the Baltic took me into Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia. In all of these countries I had the privilege of talking with the principal government officials, including Chancellor Wirth of Germany; Premier Witos, of Poland; President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia; President Hainisch, of Austria; Finance Minister Hegerudus, of Hungary, and the leading men of the Baltic republics. I also made it a point to get the views of the most prominent bankers and business men of the various countries. Beyond that, I have seen labor leaders, presidents of universities, workmen, peasants, refugees.

"I made it a point to enter the homes of the poorest people in the cities and the huts of the most needy peasants in order to get the worst of the picture as well as the surface view. It is true that there is still a great deal of hardship and cruel poverty. I saw life in its most distressing form in Vienna, in Budapest, in Warsaw, in Cracow, in Vilna.

"I have seen people living in old dugouts along the old Russo-German line. In the eastern section of Poland, in the belt which the Poles secured by the treaty of Riga, I have seen peasants who had been driven into Russia in the great Russian retreat returned to find their primitive log huts gone or in a state of ruin. They are making a desperate effort to live, perhaps two or three families crammed into a shack that looked like a ruined barn, without work animals, milk cows, proper agricultural implements.

Grass Soup Sustains Life.

"The principal element of food which they were able to get themselves when I was there was a grass from which they made a deadly-looking soup. I was told their condition was improving then because the grass was longer. But even those people, and more especially their children, were reached by the American relief administration.

"Perhaps most Americans do not entirely realize the manifold and ramifying effects—the vitally important effects—of the vast feeding operations of the American Relief Administration. The first thought is, naturally, that millions of children have been saved from death, disease or permanent weakness by the great operation which has covered thirteen countries, fed at different times probably 10,000,000 children, supplied, roughly, a billion and a half meals and expended over a hundred million dollars. But, in saving these children there have been other effects of far-reaching importance, economically and politically. Among these collateral effects may be mentioned the following:

"The spread of bolshevism in central Europe and the Baltic, the tendency of political violence, anarchy and chaos, have been effectively checked in a very large measure by the feeding operations of the American relief administration.

Children Are Important.

"The sovereign importance of the child has been impressed upon those countries by the American Relief Administration with such force that the children of many European countries are assured, forever, better care and more beneficent rearing than has ever been the case in the past or would ever have been the case in the future. Effective methods of child-help have been taught. Out of this work, in practically all the countries in which it has been conducted, are being created permanent organizations, usually affiliated with the government, for child-welfare work.

"The people of some of the countries served have been taught organization, co-operation, self-reliance, business methods. In every country aided by the A. R. A., a big native organization. These people have learned qualities which will not only be valuable to themselves but national assets. It may be added, too that the comprehensive, impartial distribution of relief to people of all races and creeds has taught tolerance and brotherhood, has brought hostile classes and races and creeds together for the common good.

"Because of the vast quantities of food provided for the children there has been more food for the adult population, although the children have been served first. The general health of this generation and those to follow has been benefited. The feeding of unfortunate members of the intellect-

Boys and Girls

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY ARE GOING TO BE BIG GALA DAYS FOR THE KIDDIES

Rex Ellis and Edwin R. Schiller are giving the treat.

They are taking advantage of the visit of Mr. Hedges of the Red Cross Life Saving Corps, who will be at the natatorium Friday and Saturday to instruct the Pendleton boys and girls in life saving and how to take care of themselves in the water when they get into difficulties.

Mr. Manuel Friedly, acting Mayor of Pendleton, has taken off the admittance fee to the natatorium during these two days.

After the life saving demonstrations they are going to have a swimming and athletic contest, and give prizes for the best boy and best girl diver in Pendleton.

THEN AT 6:30 IN THE EVENING

a big aeroplane exhibition by Captain Charles R. Parmalee, the famous war aviator, who will do all kinds of dare-devil stunts, such as flying upside down, tail spins, nose dives, whipstalls, wings-over, etc. Arrangements have been made for Douglas D. Clark, the intrepid air dare-devil of the Pathe Film Company, to give exhibitions of wing-walking and do other aerial gymnastics, while the plane is going at the rate of 100 miles an hour. This is the man you have seen in the movies changing from one plane to another in midair, from a plane to a racing automobile, and to a speeding express train; hanging to the landing gear of the plane by his toes, etc.

Oh, say, fellows! How many of you have ever been up in a plane? Well, Mr. Schiller and Mr. Ellis have arranged with Captain Parmalee to carry passengers. It will cost Dad and Mother $5.00 each to take a ride, but any boy or girl wishing to take a ride can do so by only paying $3.00, as Mr. Schiller and Mr. Ellis will pay the other $2.00.

ual class of students, of professors—a branch of the work—has sustained, through a difficult period, the mental strength and capacity of the very nations which will need those qualities most.

Friendship of Nation Won.

"The friendship of the peoples of the countries served by the American relief administration for the United States has been securely won by the feeding operations. There is a genuine and sincere gratitude to the American people for their great act of human brotherhood. The children will not forget.

"The child-feeding operation has been a great impetus to the scientific study of child-nutrition, especially in Austria. If America will take advantage of the lessons learned, if America, having aided the children of so many countries, will turn her attention more earnestly and effectively to her own children, making use of the knowledge acquired in Europe through American generosity, the cost of the whole relief operation will be a trifle compared to the benefits America herself will derive.

"The American relief administration has been upholding democracy in Europe. The new democracies resulting from the war—Poland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Germany, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Finland, all threatened with force of disintegration, some more, some less—all faced with the hunger that breeds political violence, revolution, chaos—have been stabilized, strengthened and very measurably made secure by the feeding operations. The chief officials in some countries told me with perfect frankness that the American feeding had been their political salvation and in all countries even the most cautious and guarded officials admitted it was a very material aid. Private citizens were more downright and positive. "The American feeding saved us from bolshevism," was their general view."

UNMASKING OF SWINDLE PLOT CAUSES NEAR PANIC

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(U. P.)—The unmasking of the alleged Charles W. French plot to line the nation's bank vaults with bogus securities, narrowly averted a panic, according to the district attorney's office. An examination of the papers seized in the Milwaukee apartment of Alva Harshman, French's secretary, who confessed, revealed $3,000,000 in worthless notes and securities.

Cleveland Millionaire Wanted. The arrest of Z. W. Davis, former millionaire of Cleveland, was ordered following a conference between Harshman and District Attorney Cline. Harshman's cache showed $200,000 worth of notes Davis signed and $2,500,000 worth of notes Harshman signed, endorsed by the Development Securities Company, which French headed. Cline thinks French's action was interpreted by him in time to prevent a panic in bank vaults and in over 40 industrial centers.
