Albanian Leader Declares Versailles Treaty Creates Standing Menace to Peace.

By EDWARD C. STRUTT. International News Service Staff Corempondent.

BOME, Aug. 26.—A prominent Al-banian citizen, Sotir Gjika, who has just returned from a visit to his native country, has favored me with the following Matement on the Balkan stu-

The Balkan peninsula, even after the world war, constitutes a standing menace to the peace of Europe. The fundamental trouble is that the bungling re-arrangement of the Balkans, as It has emerged from the various peace treaties, places Serbia in a position of undiscussed and undeserved suprem-acy over the other Balkan peoples.

Such an arrangement therefore, be regarded as lasting, because it is not based on justice and utterly disregards the claims of thousands who have shed their blood for a patriotic ideal. Nevertheless, with the exceptions of occasional violent disturbances which take place in Jugo Slavia between opposing tendencies and factions, it may be said that a state of calm prevails at present throughout the Balkan peninsula.

Tis An Ominous Calm. "But 'tis only the ominous calm that precedes a storm: for the down-trod. on Albania, which they intend to cut den peoples, Albanians, Montenegrins, up and share among themselves. When the Villain Pursued Him

This man jumped from the roof of a house when villains, who sought his life, pursued him. He dought a telegraph wire with the crock of his umbreila and made his way to safety. This was a stunt in a detective story being filmed in Berkn. And the fellow who risked his life to do it

Greeks and Serbs withdraw beyond he frontier-line of 1912, respecting in uture the Albanian frontier as laid down by the conference of London, Albania would be only too glad to maintain an attitude of strict neutrality, devoting itself entirely to recor structive work in the common interest of all Balkan people. In no case however, would Albania abandon to their fate those of her children who have remained under foreign domina

"Frontier Warfare Ceased."

"In spite of the bellicose spirit which is one of the characteristics of all Halkan peoples, it may be said that mparative calm now reigns through out the peninsula. Frontier warfare between Albanians and Serbs has censed, as also has the guerrilla fighting between comitajis and Serbiaanan garrisons in Macedonia. The situation has also somewhat improves in the district of Kossovo, which has always been the scene of fierce en-counters between Albanian insurgents and Serbs. But the latter have not given up their policy of systematic massacres and denationalization, ruthlessly suppressing as many Albanian patriotic as fall into their hands.

"There are about one million Alba-nians in the district of Kossovo, and their presence constitutes an insur-mountable obstacle to the realization of Serbia's ambitious designs in Ma-cedonia and in Northern Albania,

"As regards the situation in Montenegro, it is extremely grave, and it is no exaggreration to say that the independence of this unfortunate heroic little country is irremediably compromised. Official Europe ap-pears to have definitely accepted the accomplished fact, namely, Montene gro's forced annexation to Jugoslavia Montenegro can only hope to reac quire its lost liberty by a general up beavel of Balkan peoples against Ju of driving back the Serbs within their
