Orchid-Like

It is now the proper thing for lady to resemble an orchid when she is simply gowned in night lingerie. A satin-striped night robe of lisle striped orchid chiffon is striped with satin. It's sleeveless and slightly gathered in front and orchid ribbons hang softly down the front.

120-FOOT BOORING MAST WILL ANCHOR AIRSHIPS

LONDON, Sept. 2.—(I. N. S.)—Work has begun at the London Airport, Croydon, on the task of erecting a 120-foot airship mooring mast. The mast is to stand on concrete foundations, and tests in bringing airships to anchor are to be carried out with it.

A mooring can be made at the mast—the ship floating in her own element and swinging freely head to wind—by the use of a handful of skilled men.

The safety of these masts can be judged by the fact that the R-33 has been out at Pitham Airdrome at a mast since February and has suffered no ill effects.

MILLION LETTERS ARE SPEEDED UP BY PILOT

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 2.—(I. N. S.)—One million letters have been carried in ten months by Eddie Hubbard, United States aerial mail pilot, operating between Victoria and Seattle.

This service was inaugurated to speed up delivery of Australian and Oriental mails, with the particular object of assisting business houses on the Pacific Coast.

"SHOW ME" READS FEW BOOKS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 2.—(I. N. S.)—The "show me" is a mystery, but each person in St. Louis averages reading only three books a year, according to a report submitted to the City Commission by Librarian Arthur E. Bostwick.

In Taffeta

Silver threads among the blue-taffeta is harmonious enough to suggest this popular melody in clothes. It is a gown worn by Irene Castle and it is created from heavy taffeta, with border of silver threads and pressed flowers. The underskirt is of fine lace and its finishing touch is the spray of silk flowers with flowing ribbons at the belt.

CHURCH EMPTINESS IS DUE TO FREEDOM OF WOMEN, SAYS PASTOR

British Student Holds That Great Religious Movement Impends the World Today.

BY EARL C. REEVES

(International News Service, Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—It is the emancipation of women that has emptied the churches.

The world is not going to the bad. On the contrary, a great religious movement impends.

Dr. R. P. Horton, of Hampstead, cuts into a national discussion on "Why Has England No Time for God?" with the above explanation of one of the mysteries of the day, and a most reassuring argument concerning the world's moral state.

"A contributory cause to the apparent indifference of religion today is the change in the status of women.

"Women are not now so religious as men.

"Throw Off Restraints."

"In the past women were the support of the church. The emancipation of women has tended to make them throw off the restraints and practices of the church, and I think you would not find that the churches are so empty because the women are absent. The sudden assumption of position in the world has brought a reaction which is very disturbing.

"But only for a moment. I have strong conviction that the world will right itself. I am surprised that the war has not produced in England a greater spiritual and moral collapse, and I gather great hopes from this fact.

"People are not nearly so bad as we are inclined to think.

"Anticipate Religion Movement"

"Personally I anticipate a great religious movement, not in the form of a revival, but in a change of religious forms which will make the religion that is taught fit the new ideas and wider knowledge of our time.

"I can see no indifference to the great questions of life, and of the soul and of God, but only signs of maladjustment between the old ways and the new knowledge.

"The improvement in life and habits today is due to a religious life which has not come much to the front. There is a greater sobriety and greater decency, and London is almost a reformed city compared with what it was when I first came here. This is due to a religion which works not through the churches, but through education, literature and many other spheres."

BAD ROADS IN MEXICO HAMPER AUTO SALES

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2.—(I. N. S.)—Mexico is rapidly becoming a motoring country, and for this reason greater attention is being paid to the roads of the country.

Highway improvement is to be considered at a National Good Roads Congress, which will be opened here on September 5 with an address by President Obregon.

Organizations in all parts of Mexico will be represented, including chambers of commerce and automobile clubs.

Few countries are in greater need of road improvement than Mexico, and here are few countries in which the needed materials could be more easily obtained.

Bad Roads Are Nightmare
There are some good roads out of Mexico City, but in many places the motorist, on leaving the streets of a city plunges almost at once into a nightmare of bad roads.

Road building has been neglected for years. Many roads which could be made important links between business centers are little more than trails, washed by rains on hillsides and deep in dust or sand in the lowlands.

As good roads will stimulate the buying of American motor cars, automobile men are taking a lively interest in the forward movement. According to figures gathered by the American Chamber of Commerce here, Mexico is second only to Canada in the buying of American automobiles, tires and accessories, even under present conditions.

Improvement in the highways is expected to put Mexico at the head of the list as a buyer of motor cars, and automobile men are looking forward to great things.

Because the prospects for the automobile business in Mexico appear to be so bright there are frequent rumors that leading American manufacturers of motor cars, trucks and tractors are preparing to build branch plants here.

According to figures prepared here, Mexico's purchases of motor cars, tires and accessories from June 1 to June 30 exceeded $7,500,000. This would be at the rate of $90,000,000 a year, but automobile men say that even greater things may be expected if there is no interruption in the present advancement in Mexico.

BRAZEN BOOZE BARKERS AMAZE ILLINOIS TOWN

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—The brazen nerve of bootleggers has been displayed at Grant Park, fifteen miles east of here. Two strangers drove up in an automobile, alighted in front of the Mineral Springs Hotel, lighted two kerosene torches and began the speli of carnival "barkers."

"Here's the place to get your booze!" they cried.
A crowd quickly congregated, and the supply of "home-brew" was soon exhausted. Mayor Harry Deek and several deputies arrested the hoodlums.

ROMANCES ARE LEFT IN BOOKS BY READERS

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Sept. 2.—(I. N. S.)—Romances found between the leaves of numerous books in the public library here were never dreamed of by the books' authors.

In many books returned to the public librarian by patrons are found old letters, pink-tinted notes, fresh-looking letters never mailed, lace handkerchiefs, cigar bands, samples of dress material, postcards, kodak pictures and telegrams, all forgotten by the

WHETHER SNAKES MILK COWS RAISES DISPUTE

WOOSTER, OHIO, Sept. 2.—(I. N. S.)—A heated argument as to whether it is possible for snakes to milk cows has involved Wayne County and other interested farmers.
The controversy started when a farmer reported that several of his cows had been milked by large snakes.
A local doctor said such a thing was impossible. Now every other farmer in the county is recalling instances where snakes have been known to milk cows.
