POOR OLD DOBBIN IS HEADED FOR MUSEUM

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(U. P.)—“The horse will be virtually only a subject for the natural history museum in the United States within a decade,” F. W. Fenn, secretary of the national motor truck committee, National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, declared today.

“This animal, which has served mankind for ages, is disappearing so rapidly as a result of his displacement by motor machinery that even now he is a curiosity in the larger cities.”

“The value of the horse has depreciated to such an extent that thousands of farmers are holding onto them merely because they can't sell them, and when those they own at present lose their usefulness, they will be replaced by automobiles and tractors.”

“Of course, the racehorse will remain with us, but in numbers he is negligible.”

Fenn said the forthcoming report of the N. Y. board of health will show there are approximately 10,614 less horses and 1784 fewer stables in New York City today than in 1919.

“Other localities besides New York report similar reductions in the horse population,” he said. “Registered stallions in Wisconsin decreased from 2477 in 1918 to 1638 in 1920. Ohio had 565,000 horses in 1917 and only 562,000 in 1919. One hundred and sixty horses were recently sold in Portland, Oregon, for chicken feed.”

“There were approximately 25,000,000 horses in our country two years ago. If these could have been disposed of, automobiles and motor trucks substituted, the value of the wheat that could have been raised on the land then required to feed horses would have been sufficient to pay our national debt, including the Liberty Bond issues to date.”

To send back to her home on the Rhine the German widow of an American doughboy, wearer of five battle clasps and cited for valor, the American Legion of New York is raising a fund of $250. The veteran met his bride while with the army of occupation and through illness left her practically penniless upon his recent death.
