EXECUTIONS IN MEXICO HAVE BEEN REPORTED

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 7.—(By Louis P. Kirby, L. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)—Chapters from the story of medieval times are being enacted in some of the states, if the stories coming here are true.
 It is asserted that eighteen persons were executed without trial in Puebla. The chief of police of that city, Arturo Camarillo, is under investigation. It is asserted that this official has ruled with a high hand, assuming power of life and death over a certain element.
 All of the men executed, it is said, were criminals, or persons whom the police believed to be criminals. But their summary fate has caused the circulation of other stories of Carrillo's methods, which forced the present inquiry.
 From Chihuahua comes a story that the Governor, General Ignacio C. Enriquez, has used something similar to the lettre re cachet to take into custody Alfonso Gomez Luna, a lawyer of some distinction. Jose Gomez Luna, brother of the lawyer, asserts that it was a secret arrest, due to the lawyer's defense of Francisco Madrid, editor of La Tribuna, an obscure publication in Chihuahua, which found fault with the governor. As the Gomez Luna family has influential connections here a great stir is being made.
 The charges that Governor Enriquez has acted despotically surprised the capital. He is looked upon as the most enlightened and progressive governor in Mexico. He is a graduate in engineering of the University of Illinois.
