Cattle Man Returns.
 Frank Hilbert, Ukiah stock man, has returned from Portland where he recently sold some cattle. Conditions are decidedly unfavorable for the cattle industry, according to Hilbert. Cheap production and cheap transportation are necessary for the grower to break even, and he says that neither conditions exist. The train on which he shipped had to be detoured over the northern route on account of the tunnel fire.

Veteran Laid to Rest.
 The body of another veteran who lost his life in France was interred at Walla Walla Monday afternoon when funeral services were held for John Conrad Wertz. The veteran was a member of the 96th company, 5th regiment, 2nd battalion of Marines and he was killed in action October 3, 1918. The services were in charge of the Reverend Mr. Lane, pastor of the Methodist church. His wife died two months before he enlisted in the marine corps. Among those who survive are a small son, Robert, his father, Conrad Wertz of Walla Walla and sister Mrs. W. F. Irwin of Pendleton. Mrs. Ray Chikoshank, a sister-in-law of Tacoma, attended the services. Ferry L.

Idleman represented the Pendleton post of the American Legion.

Pendleton Is Featured.
 Four scenes of Pendleton appear in the current number of The Round-Up, a magazine issued by the Standard Oil Co. The cover picture is a representation of a scene in the Round-Up, and three other pictures show various street scenes of the city.

State Treasurer Here.
 O. P. Hoff, state treasurer, spent the day here visiting old friends. He will leave in the morning for Baker where he will spend several days before returning to Pendleton where he, as a member of the board of control will assist in making an inspection of the Round-Up.

To Have Special Insignia.
 To designate La Grande visitors who always come in large numbers to the Round-Up, the Ad Club this year is making arrangements to have special insignia worn by residents of the neighboring city. The pattern of the insignia has not been devised, but the club is planning something distinctive.

Need Cars and Drivers.
 Dean Tatom, in charge of accommodations during Round-Up, has sent out an S. O. S. call for several automobiles and drivers to aid in his department. Any car owners who want to assist in this service should get in touch with either Mr. Tatom or the Eastern Oregon Auto club and make the fact known.

Woman Forfeits Bail.
 Bail of $50 given last night for her appearance in city court by Carrie Smith, colored, was forfeited this morning when she failed to be present in police court. She was charged with immoral acts and practices. Three vagrants were found guilty and were given sentences of three days each by Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald.

Landers Expresses Appreciation.
 A letter from President J. S. Landers of the Oregon Normal School in which he expresses his thanks for the letter of congratulation sent him by the Pendleton Commercial Association has been received at the office of the association. President Landers expresses his satisfaction in again being in educational work in Oregon and he is looking forward to an opportunity of renewing his associations in Pendleton on account of the session every summer which is held of a summer normal school here.

To Facilitate Traffic.
 Assurance from the Houser Construction Co., now engaged in road work on the Columbia Highway, that everything possible would be done by the company to facilitate traffic to and from Pendleton during next week while the Round-Up is being held has been received in the form of a letter by Mayor G. A. Hartman. On a trip to Portland recently, President D. H. Nelson and Secretary Ernest Crockett of the Eastern Oregon Auto Club sought this promise from the company. At present there is a necessity for a detour of three miles, but this distance will be cut to one and one-half miles during next week, and special extra flagmen will be employed by the company to assist in moving traffic.

W. W. Caviness Chosen.
 W. W. Caviness, who is well known in Pendleton, has been assured the position of surveyor general of Oregon, according to word received by local friends. Mr. Caviness, who now resides in Vale, formerly engaged in the farming and livestock business here, later becoming identified with railroad construction. Mr. Caviness is known as a pioneer irrigationist and in recognition of his services the Oregon Irrigation congress in 1913 passed a resolution giving his first position on its honor roll. He organized what was known as the Columbia Valley Land & Irrigation Co. for the construction of a canal to reclaim 74,000 acres of Umatilla county land with the waters of the Umatilla river. He was involved in a series of suits over the waters of the stream but finally won, only to have the project collapse in the panic of 1893. Mr. Caviness was an intimate friend of Joaquin Miller, the poet, the two having become friends

YOUNG MEN LIKE THESE SHOES

They are full of dash and vim. Heavy enough to "stay with 'em" when the going is a bit hard. Yet the uppers are soft enough to shape comfortably to the foot. New fall styles are here.

Burial Services at 10.
 Burial services for the late W. R. Graham, of Vancouver, Washington, former Pendleton resident, will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Olney cemetery. Rev. Alfred Lockwood, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, will officiate. The body of Mr. Graham will arrive here tomorrow, accompanied by Mr. Graham's son, Aubrey Graham, of Camas.

Deer Meat Was Enjoyed.
 Fried venison formed the piece de resistance at the Rotary club luncheon today, thanks to the hunting prowess of J. V. Tallman and Louis Scharp. In telling of his experience Mr. Tallman thrilled his audience with a tale of adventure in the woods during which he saw six invisible deer in a black pine forest. Mr. Scharp told of fishing in Diamond lake and deer hunting on the Upper Umpqua.

Druggists Unite.
 The Umatilla County Druggists' Association was organized yesterday at a noon luncheon at the Elks club for which Pendleton druggists were hosts to the druggists in the various towns of the county. The purpose of the association is to create a closer bond of fellowship in a business and social way between druggists of this county. A. C. Korpsen of this city was elected president, M. D. Orange of Pilot Rock, vice president and M. L. Thompson of Pendleton, secretary. The next meeting will be held October 4 in Pilot Rock when the association will be guests at a game dinner given by the Pilot Rock Commercial Association. Present at yesterday's meeting were J. E. Haynie, of Freewater, T. H. Ghorpley, of Helix, M. D. Orange of Pilot Rock, C. L. McFadden of Athena, R. E. Mitchell of Hermiston, J. Frank Spinning of Echo, Z. H. Chase of Milton, Thomas Young, A. C. Korpsen, J. K. Thompson and M. L. Thompson, of Pendleton. J. V. Tallman of this city was unable to attend because of attendance at another meeting.

Mrs. McComb Here.
 Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, state leader of home demonstration agents, is here today for a conference with Mrs. Edith

G. Van Dusen, Umatilla county home demonstration agent. Mrs. McComb will leave for Portland tonight.

Ranger Is Here.
 Floyd Kendall, of La Grande, forest ranger, is here for a few days office work in the Umatilla National Forest office.

Cattle to Be Removed.
 Cattle and horses on the Umatilla National Forest will probably be removed about the middle of October, says J. C. Kuhns, supervisor. A few beef cattle are being removed, now. Mr. Kuhns received word today from William Kendall, ranger at Dayton, Washington, that there is eight inches of snow south of Godman Springs.

Leave for Dayton.
 R. A. Botcher, deputy forest supervisor, and George Clisby, forest ranger, left in a government truck today for Dayton, where Mr. Botcher will be in charge of a telephone construction crew which will complete a line from the Dry Gulch ranger station near Troy to Tucanon ranger station, thus establishing communication from Dayton to one of the most inaccessible portions of the Umatilla national forest.

UNCLE JOE CANNON SAYS AMERICANS ARE BLIND TO THEIR BLESSINGS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(I. N. S.)—Uncle Joe Cannon, eighty-five year-old youngster of the house, today laughed at pessimists who are worried over business recovery. "Americans today, in the rush for the almighty dollar, forget the blessings they enjoy," said the veteran of a hundred political battles. "Why, back in Danville, long years ago, before the days of gas and electric lights, and other marvelous inventions that has brought comfort to the people, the folks of the town opened their eyes in amazement at the sight of an oil lamp in a store window. "Just look back at those days. Well do I remember when the people thronged down on the main street to see the first kerosene lamp burning in a shop window. It was in the days of the (allow dip candle. "Now, see what we enjoy today, in life's comforts and conveniences.

These are the happy days, but so few realize it. "The Gloomy Gus of business must wake up to the big future ahead. Most prosperous, most resourceful of all nations, the business men of these United States are blind to many advantages for which they should be thankful."
