PACIFIC COAST TO STRIVE TO MAINTAIN FOOTBALL SUPREMACY

Andy Smith's Team Looks Like Sure Winner Again This Year With Old Men Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—(U. P.)—Football in the Pacific Coast conference hopes to maintain the prestige it established over the middle west last year by California's overwhelming defeat of Ohio State, the western conference champion.

California looks to be sure of the championship again this year with practically the same team present that worked so well for Andy Smith last year.

Every effort will be made this fall to bring the eastern champion or one of the high standing teams from the Atlantic coast to meet the conference champion.

If the east is unwilling to come west the conference title winner probably will go east, if a game can be arranged.

The schedule for the conference and the biggest coast game follows:

September 24—California against St. Mary's at Berkeley.

Oct. 1—California against Olympic Club at Berkeley; Oregon Aggies against Chemawa at Corvallis.

October 18—California against Nevada at Berkeley; Stanford against St. Mary's at Palo Alto; Oregon Aggies against Multnomah Club at Corvallis.

Oct. 15—California against Pacific Olympic Club at Palo Alto; Washington against Gonzaga at Spokane; Oregon Aggies against Willamette at Salem.

October 25—California against Oregon at Berkeley; Oregon Aggies against Washington at Corvallis; Stanford against Santa Clara at Palo Alto; Washington State against Idaho at Pullman.

October 29—Stanford against Oregon Aggies at Palo Alto; Washington State against California at Portland.

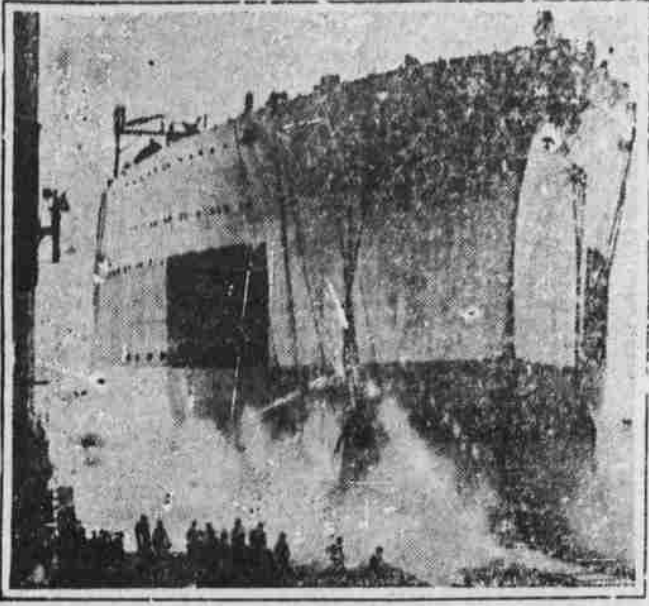

November 5—California against Southern California at Berkeley; Washington State against Oregon at Pullman; Washington against Stanford at Seattle.

Nov. 11—Oregon Aggies against Washington State at Corvallis.

Nov. 12—California against Washington at Berkeley; Stanford against Nevada at Holden.

Nov. 19—Oregon against Oregon Aggies at Eugene; Stanford against California at Palo Alto.

Christened With Water!

Old salts shook their heads when the superdreadnaught Washington, one of the four largest battleships of the U. S. Navy, was launched at Camden, N. J. That was because water was used to christen it. Jean Summers, 10, daughter of Congressman W. W. Summers of Walla Walla, broke a bottle of water from the Washington river on the bow.

November 24—Washington against Washington State at Seattle.
November 26—Oregon Aggies against Southern California at Los Angeles.
December 3—Washington State against Southern California at Los Angeles.
December 25—Oregon against University of Hawaii at Honolulu.
Jan. 2—Oregon against Hawaii A. C. at Honolulu.

MAY ASK PERMISSION TO DEFER TAX PAYMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—(U. P.)—Unemployment and poor business conditions are cutting into Uncle Sam's tax receipts. Many requests are coming from all over the country to defer payment of the quarterly tax due September 15. Many pleaded inability to pay.

Mostly those with small incomes are so affected, according to the report. Although the water of Niagara Falls is really clear, it appears green as it falls. This is said to be due to carbonic acid gas.

ARMY AND NAVY TO HAVE FAST FOOTBALL ELEVENS ON COAST

Old Stars Included in List of Those Who Will Don Togs to Uphold Honors of Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—(U. P.)—Football teams representing the army and navy on the Pacific Coast this season promise to be stronger than ever before and, it is believed, will furnish stiff competition to the university, college and club teams they meet. Players who formerly wore the colors of West Point, Annapolis and other big institutions of learning will be on the coast service teams this year.

An army team, which will be known as the Ninth Corps Area eleven, is being organized at Camp Lewis, Wash., with Col. William H. Jordan as managing coach and Captain Merrill, West Point, lead in 1912-14 as active coach. Captain A. W. Smith, former Michigan star, may be chief assistant coach.

To represent the navy a team has been formed by the officers and men of the Pacific Fleet, with Ensign W. A. Ingram, All-American player in 1918, as captain.

Among the men on the navy team are: R. A. Gardner, former Colgate star; E. E. Wilke, Annapolis tackle last year; "Country" Moore, former All-American player; Lieutenant W. McKreifel and others. Stars on the army squad will be Lieutenant M. W. Daniel, former West Point backfield player; Captain John C. Butner, Jr., former Brown end who coached the Third Army team in Germany; Captain Everett May, one time University of Oregon player; Lieutenant Wilcox, formerly of Cornell and Captain Thos. Roderick, once a Wooster college player.

Both the army and navy teams will play college and club teams early in the season and on Armistice Day, November 11, will meet in their annual game at Pasadena, Cal. Last year the two met at Berkeley, Cal.

The navy's schedule follows:
Oct. 1—University of Nevada at Reno.
Oct. 15—University of California at Berkeley.
Oct. 22—Stanford University at Palo Alto.

Nov. 11—Army at Pasadena.
Nov. 19—St. Mary's College at San Francisco.
Nov. 24—Olympic Club at San Francisco.
Dec. 2—Multnomah Club at Portland.

The army schedule follows:
Oct. 1—Multnomah Club at Camp Lewis.
Oct. 15—College of Puget Sound at Tacoma.
Nov. 11—Navy at Pasadena.
Nov. 19—Multnomah Club at Portland.
Nov. 26—Gonzaga University at Camp Lewis.

RIVOLI TODAY

"BOB HAMPTON OF PLACER" IS NEILAN'S BEST YET

What may well be described as a classic of the silent drama is Marshall Neilan's spectacular, colorful and stirring production, "Bob Hampton of Placer," which began at the Rivoli theaters last night.

Not since "The Birth of a Nation" has any subject with a portion of American history as a background been so splendidly made into a motion picture, and in many ways the Neilan masterpiece outrivals the Griffith production.

One of the most picturesque periods of American history figures in "Bob Hampton of Placer," namely, the Indian uprising which followed the "Civil War." And in the climax to this production, which is adapted from Randall Parrish's story of the same name, General Custer's famous last stand against the Sioux is reproduced and immortalized on the scene of a most fascinating and dramatic manner.

Interwoven skilfully in this thrilling background is an absorbing and beautiful story of faithful comradeship and love, as well as of adventure.

James Kirkwood, in the title role, gives a masterful portrayal of Bob Hampton, the gambler, who, dismissed from the service in an army scandal, is restored to a place of honor with Custer in the Battle of the Little Big Horn.

SMASHING SCENES IN NEW BILL HART FILM "THE WHISTLE"

A drawbridge tender asleep at his post; an open bridge and a motor crashing into the lily waters below; a child's scream and a man's brave plunge to the rescue!

This is one of the smashing scenes in "The Whistle"—a picture produced by William S. Hart and written by Lambert Hillier who also directed it. The original story is by Mary Wilton and Otto Lyman.

In this new Paramount offering, which will be shown at the Rivoli theatre Sunday, Mr. Hart has a new role—that of a factory worker, a man accustomed to "jump to the sound of the whistle."

His attempt to mete out justice to a man whose selfishness has resulted in the death of the worker's beloved child, develops a series of situations that come as a completely satisfying train of events which round out to a conclusion that is distinctly compelling.

In every way this is a powerful drama and one that should satisfy the most exacting. Three famous juvenile players appear in the cast. Frank Brownlee has the "heavy" role.
