Bullish Influences Control Market.

NEW YORK Sept. 22.—(A. P.)—Using the lower rediscount rate of the federal reserve bank as a lever bullish interests dominated the stock market yesterday.

Early advances of 1 to 3 points among the usual favorites comprising the rail, industrial and special issues were canceled at midday by bear drives, but a vigorous rebound at the day's best quotations accompanied the net finish.

Mexican Petroleum was the pivot around which the day's business mainly revolved. After registering a 2-point advance and a 2-3-4 point decline the stock closed at a gain of 2 1/4 points. Affiliated stocks were virtually unchanged, but net advances of 1 to 2 3/4 points were made by Baldwin & Crucible and United States Steels, Reading and Northern Pacific.

Southern Pacific, United States Rubber, Allied Chemical, Famous Players and various other unclassified issues. Weakness of several secondary specialties, such as United States Food Products, which established a new low record and further omission of the dividend on American Agricultural Chemical preferred directed renewed attention to the doubtful financial status of relatively obscure companies. Sales were $75,000 shares.

Contrary to expectations the reduced federal reserve rate exerted no influence over the open money market. Time quotations were unaltered and call loans remained fixed at 5 percent against yesterday's high and low of 5 1/2 and 4 1/2 percent.

Except the Italian rate, which eased slightly, substantial improvement was shown by all important foreign exchanges. Sterling was 3 cents over the week's low and French, Belgian and Dutch bills gained 10 to 15 points. Bar silver's further rise again strengthened far eastern exchanges, the Shanghai rate rising 2 cents.

Domestic rails and some prominent industrial and utilities figured in the enlarged dealings in the bond market. Liberty and Victory issues also made additional gains, but the foreign division was featureless. Total sales, par value, aggregated $15,800,000.

Export Revival Helps Boost Wheat Prices.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(A. P.)—Something of a revival in export business helped to give wheat prices an upward turn yesterday. The market closed firm, 1 to 1 1/4 net higher, with December $1.25 3/4 to 1 1/2, and May $1.29 1/2 to $1.29 3/4. Corn gained 1/4 to 1/2 and oats a shade to 1/2. In provisions, the outcome varied from 1/2 decline to 7c advance.

At first wheat had a downward slant, owing largely to evidence that there was no present stringency of supplies, even though exhaustion of stocks might come later. Bearish sentiment, however, lost its hold when word passed that export interests had taken 400,000 bushels of hard winter wheat to be shipped by way of the Gulf of Mexico. Other sales to Europe were noted later, but the quantities were withheld. Meanwhile, crop damage advices from the northwest counted somewhat as a bullish factor, gossip being current that as a result of two weeks' rain a large amount of wheat had been rendered unfit for milling.

Belief in some quarters that a rally was overdue tending also to stimulate the upward swing of values, especially at the finish. Corn rose with wheat and in consequence of crop damage reports from Iowa. Oats followed corn.

Provisions averaged lower, reflecting declines in the hog market. The small packers were sellers of nearby deliveries of lard.

COLORED SHERIFF VOWS TO EXECUTE LAW IN ALL OF ITS NAKED SPLENDOR

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 22.—(I. N. S.)—You've got to hand it to Constable H. B. Allen, of Cass district, this county, for being on the job. Allen is a negro who was recently appointed to the position of constable. His field of operation includes part of the famous Scott's run sector of the county. After he had duly qualified for the job Allen armed himself with an eight-inch Colt revolver, a sawed-off shot gun and a serrated horse, on which he travels up and down Scott's run preserving the peace and dignity of that part of the State.

But that's not all of it. Allen decided that his work was to be thorough in every particular. So he went to a printing office and had some hand bills struck off. They read as follows: "H. B. Allen, Constable for Cass District. Is any one bothering you? "Is there any trouble going on anywhere that you can't stop? See me, I'll show you a thing or two. "We have laws in this State and we have men who know how to use them. We have officers who fear nothing but God, and we will go anywhere in the world to get a man. "I am your friend; the law is your friend. You can't get along without the law. "Then why don't you have a talk with people who know the law? "I am located at Ossage, West Virginia. Phone 7137-r3. "See me at night; see me in the day; see me any time. "H. B. ALLEN."

WAR HERO CELEBRATES NINETY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

BY H. K. REYNOLDS

(International News Service Staff Correspondence.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Major Junius Thomas Turner, veteran of four wars, who commanded a body guard which escorted President Lincoln from the White House to the Soldiers' Home here, is ninety-five year old and ready to die.

"I am drawing to the close of my career," the major remarked casually on his ninety-fifth birthday anniversary. I have no qualms about death. As a matter of fact, I'm perfectly indifferent about the whole thing—don't care whether I'm living or dead—but I wouldn't commit suicide."

Major Turner's first visit to Washington was during the administration of Andrew Jackson, and he remained in the Capital long enough to witness the inauguration of Martin Van Buren. Washington was a dirty little city sunk in a mud hole in those days, and the major wonders sometimes at the transformation that has taken place in the span of his own life. The major's record of active participation in four wars is believed by him to be unequalled. He served in the Mexican War, 1846-48; the Rogue River, Oregon Indian War, 1853; Confederate tribes of Oregon and Washington Indian War, 1855-56 and the Civil War. He was awarded the title of colonel for his bravery in the Civil War, but has never assumed the rank. "I'd rather be a major—I won that rank," he explains. When Major Turner served as commander of President Lincoln's body guard he became acquainted with Brady, the famous Civil War photographer. Brady gave him a photograph of Lincoln, and when the President's carriage drove up Turner asked the Executive to autograph the picture, which Lincoln did. The photograph now hangs in the headquarters of Grant Post, G. A. R., in Washington.

OFFICE CAT

BY JUNIUS

Put the Car Back in the Garage, Joines.

We got a big kick this morning when we heard that one of the stores was advertising a "little bare demonstration." Thinking this meant a showing of the new fall styles for ladies we investigated the matter, only to find that it was only a "Little Bear" refrigerator system. We turned away, with a shiver.

The little wife next door says she can't understand why the Round-Up Association has decided upon the Round-Up derby for Saturday. She thinks the Round-Up sombreros are much more becoming.

Geography Made Easy.

May we ask the gentleman who sat three rows behind us last night at Happy Canyon where "North Dakkling" is? His remarks concerned a conversation between the governors of North and South Dakkling. Can it be that the Dakotas and the Carolinas have consolidated and that we haven't been advised of the change?

Giddap.

In closing, we remark that no matter what his faults may be, we always have a soft spot in our heart for the person we can have a good time with.

CLAIMS GALE STARTS REVOLUTION IN I. S.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 22.—(I. N. S.)—According to Las Noticias, an afternoon newspaper here, Linn E. Gale is busy at work upon a plan to start a great revolution in the southern states of the United States. The remarkable story was given considerable space. Gale is the radical agitator and draft dodger who was expelled from Mexico a few months ago and taken into custody by United States agents when he crossed the border. As he had some secret source of income during the four years he spent in Mexico and was able to publish a monthly radical magazine, he has paid large sums regularly by means of the United States, including Germany. During the years of the World War, his importance as an industrial trouble-maker was apparently still supposed to be great among the members of the circle in which he was a leader while in Mexico.
