

WE'RE PROUD OF OUR COMMUNITY THE YEAR ROUND—TELL IT TO YOUR VISITORS DURING ROUND-UP TIME.

"When Shall I Make My Fall Selections"

Naturally the question would be followed by the thought of where will be the shop that continually keeps its stocks "Right-up-to-the-Minute"—the shop that clears out its past season's wear—the shop where all chance is eliminated, the chance of its being a last season's garment.

Our carefully kept ready-to-wear department offer you the newest and nothing but that class of garments. At prices that are strictly in accord with good, reliable wear and prices that meet the popular demand.

During the Round-Up shopping visit our fine Ready-to-Wear Department.

Always New Clothes--

THAT HAVE THE BEST FEATURES OF STYLE AND LONG WEAR

"That sounds just exactly like Hart Schaffner & Marx advertising," said the father of the family. It's not even necessary to look for the picture for the reading of these advertisements goes exactly with the features of the Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes.

WHAT IS NEW IN MILLINERY FOR FALL 1921

The styles in millinery for this season tend to favor the large picture hat, though by no means are the small shapes discarded. In crowns alone, ideas are exceedingly varied; and in the majority of the shapes, the brims either roll gradually away from the face, or are flat and straight. Conspicuous is the black dressy hat with its large shape enhanced by its trimming of black or colored ostrich plumes. For coverings, satin, cre silk, hatters plush, duvetyne and plain velvets are used. In shades, they are as varied and smart as the styles themselves. They are here, and your early inspection of them is invited.

THAT YOU MAY NOT BE MISTAKEN IN YOUR SHOE SHOPPING—We buy shoes only from those houses that will make good our complaints that we may reimburse you for any failure of your footwear. We adjust our prices to the quality of the shoes. We do not order any substitutes for real leather that we may reduce any price. We guarantee every pair of shoes sold by T. P. W.

'MISSING LINK' OF DARWIN IS 'FOUND'

BY MICHAEL F. DACEY (International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

valuable specimens for several years, and they are now being investigated by leading scientists. Scott's latest find is a skull, which is apparently that of a huge reptile that experts say lived before man existed. The most startling feature of this skull is the "brain case," which exceeds in measurements anything previously discovered in fossils. Scott believes the reptile skull is a "missing link"—much older, however, than the "missing link" that has been sought for centuries in connection with the Darwinian theory. He believes this piece of bone, long preserved in the sand, tells the story of the development of the reptile into the mammal. Scott is also convinced that he has unearthed the skull of a prehistoric buffalo, which must have roamed the Western plains of America something like 125,000 years ago. The buffalo skull dug up by Scott is deeply curved, whereas, he declares, skulls of buffalo usually are perfectly flat across the forehead.

Paleontologic Lore

"I place this skull in one of the placid periods," Scott said, "and have no doubt that it is at least 125,000 years old."

In an effort to co-operate with scientists, Scott has opened his "farmhouse museum" to I. Allen Keyte, professor of geology at Colorado College, and Dr. Keyte has forwarded photographs of many specimens to Professor Maurice Mehl, of the University of Missouri, widely known paleontologist, for classification.

Scott himself has devoted much time during the last twenty-five years to the study of the many fossils he has unearthed and expresses the belief that the Pike's Peak region contains some of the most interesting fossils in the world.

"I really believe that in this peculiar skull which I recently found," Scott said, "I have the 'missing link' between the reptile and the mammal. The large brain case is the striking thing."

He said that he believed other specimens may be found in this vicinity that will throw more light on the "missing link" theory and develop the fact that the owner of the skull was possessed of a high degree of intelligence.

The discovery that the Pike's Peak region is probably rich in fossils has led to the addition of a class in paleontology to the curriculum at Colorado College this year.

PROMINENT EDITORS TO ADDRESS PRESS MEETING

HONOLULU, Sept. 24.—(G. N. S.)—B. W. Fleisher, publisher of the Japan Advertiser and Trans-Pacific Magazine, Tokio, and Henry Stead, editor of Stead's Review, Melbourne, Vic., have accepted appointments as chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the Pan-Pacific Press Conference, which will be made a part of the Press Congress of the World sessions at Honolulu in October.

Both Mr. Fleisher and Mr. Stead, are prominent in Oriental and Australian journalism, and, aside from delivering addresses during the congress sessions will take an active part in the proposed formation of a permanent organization of newspaper and magazine men residing in lands bordering the Pacific.

It is hoped that Prime Minister

Hughes, of Australia, who is now in Europe, will leave for his home in time to attend the Press Congress sessions here, and there is also a possibility that Prime Minister Massey, of New Zealand, will be in attendance.

Sir Arthur Rickard, president of the "Millions Club" of Sydney, N. S. W., and head of the branch of the Pan-Pacific Union in that city, has announced that he may attend the congress.

Hin Wong, of the Canton Star, will be a member of the Chinese delegation and will address the congress on "Why, Not Also a Journalistic Mission to China?" Other members of the Chinese delegation will be Dr. Tien Mu T. Wang, who will represent the Shun Pao, of Shanghai, and Jabin Shu, of the China Press.

J. B. Powell, editor of Millard's Review, Shanghai, will also be a delegate and will take part in the formation of a Pacific press organization. Philippe Millet, of L'Europe Nouvelle, Paris, recently was appointed a vice-president of the congress and will be a member of the French delegation.
