VISITORS PLEASSED WITH MUSIC DURING SHOW BY LOCAL BAND

out whose services something vital would be missing from the parades, marches and during the time when the different events of track and arena are under way. A musician from Everett, Washington, commented highly on the work done by the Round-Up band and declared that its appearance and the quality of its offerings made it stand out in bold relief among the rock organizations that were here from all over the state. "That made the boys of the band feel mighty good," Director Lundell declared in speaking of the incident. "When it is remembered that all of the other bands here were either made up by picking the best musicians from many communities, or as in the case with the band from La Grande, supported directly by the city, and that our own organization has no regular financial backing from any source except what we can make in the work we do, it shows a fine spirit on the part of the boys in keeping the Round-Up band to this high standard."
