

News Notes of Pendleton

CALENDAR OF EVENTS
 Oct. 4.—Entertainment Union...
 Oct. 10.—Seventh Annual Dairy and Hog Show, at Hermiton.

Race Strains to Boise.
 The strings of horses which appeared here in the racing events during the Round-Up have gone to Boise where they will appear there this week. The strings include the Drumheller, McCarty-Landrum and other stock. The horses were loaded Saturday night.

Happy Canyon Successful.
 The financial returns from the four nights of Happy Canyon will make the show a success this year, a preliminary estimate made by Mark Barthel, in charge of checking the accounts, indicates. The full report of the receipts and expenditures will not be ready for several days, according to Mr. Barthel, but enough data was available this morning to make the financial success of the night show asured. The dance, under the new plan adopted this year, has paid better than it did last year, much more space being available than formerly.

Fire Chief to Convention.
 W. E. Ringgold, chief of the fire department, left Sunday at noon for Vancouver, B. C., where he will be for a week in attendance at the convention of fire department heads. During his absence Arthur Keenan, assistant chief, will be in charge of the department.

Excursionists Never Stopped.
 The home-seekers' excursion, carrying farmers from the Middle West, did not stop in Pendleton this morning. The party was so small that it was considered inadvisable to take the members over Umatilla county. The excursion was put on under the auspices of the state chamber of commerce.

Camp Stove Overturns.
 No property damage resulted from a fire in a shack owned by Mrs. Powles at the corner of Lillesh and Court streets Sunday morning. The blaze had its origin from the overturning of a camp stove, but neighbors succeeded in extinguishing the fire before the fire department arrived.

Taking Stock Home.
 It will take most of this week to return the stock used here during the Round-Up to various parts of the county. The work of sending the horses home was begun yesterday and in a considerable task.

Holman is Visitor.
 Alfred Holman, owner of the San Francisco Argonaut, was here Saturday for the Round-Up. He was formerly editor of the Portland Oregonian. Mr. Holman attended the peace conference and met many world famous men, among them Lloyd George.

Boys Are Hurt.
 Ben Smith and Waldo (Bus) Byers, who hold the end positions on the Pendleton high school football team, are both crippled and will not be out for practice for several weeks. Smith suffered a strained vertebra during practice, while Byers has a sprained ankle as the result of an auto accident yesterday when he was hit by a Ford.

Miss Monroe Visits.
 Miss Anna Shannon Monroe, Oregon woman who has gained a national reputation for her work as an author, was here Saturday for the Round-Up. Miss Monroe is author of "Happy Valley," and other books and stories with a Western flavor, as well as numerous articles on women's sphere. She has written many stories about Pendleton.

Boy Scouts Are Successful.
 Members of the Boy Scout troops cleared about $800 through their selling of programs during Round-Up. The boys, in uniform, conducted their work in an orderly manner and were a contrast to the usual program vender. Rev. J. M. Cornelison, one of the scout masters, praised the work of the boys and says that he considers them a credit to Pendleton.

Injured in Auto Accident.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Young, and Charles Towne suffered injuries Saturday evening when Mr. Towne's car skidded on the pavement on Webb street, throwing the occupants out. Mr. Young was bruised and his shoulder blade broken, and he is at St. Anthony's hospital as a result. Mrs. Young was bruised, and Mr. Towne's arm was dislocated. Miss Irene Ita, another passenger, was uninjured.

Police Court Business Brisk.
 The aftermath of the Round-Up was settled this morning in police court when the cases of persons arrested Saturday night by the city officers and special deputies were settled. More than $100 in fines accrued to the city strong-box, a majority of the offenses being for drunkenness. Some fighting was reported, the shower about 2 o'clock, however, cooling the ardor of the hysterical crowd. Several physicians are said to have had special work in the way of taking stitches in head wounds, but no serious accidents were reported.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR WAR HERO WILL BE HELD IN PENDLETON SUNDAY

The remains of Frank C. Parkes, Pendleton soldier who was killed in France, were forwarded from Hoboken Sunday night, information received by his mother, Mrs. Jennie Fisher, indicates. It is thought that the date of arrival will be Friday.
 The funeral services will be held Sunday at the Episcopal church, with the American Legion in charge, and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Alfred Lockwood, rector of the church. All ex-service men have been requested by Commander P. L. Idleman to be present at the services, in uniform if possible. Troop D men are especially urged to turn out in honor of their former comrade. His comrades will serve as pall bearers.

POLICE REFUSE TO EXPLAIN
 SEATTLE, Sept. 25.—(U. P.)—The police refused to explain the arrest of Frank Irvin, customs inspector, and L. C. Alberta, a salesman, on open charges. Irvin was arrested yesterday and Alberta today. The authorities hint that the arrests are the results of a mysterious probe.

MARK UP ANOTHER ONE
 NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(U. P.)—Ruth made his 57th homer in the Yankee-Cleveland game today.

IDEAS FOR HOUSEWIVES HOME DEMONSTRATION

- * One of the articles of food with which the waste is greatest is bread.
- * In almost every household quantities of this are "left over" every day.
- * Frequently they are put into the garbage pail; more rarely they are made into bread pudding or a few are used in scalloped dishes or in similar ways.
- * It is not generally known, however, that dried bread can be ground in a coffee mill or food chopper and used in place of part or all of the flour called for in gingerbread, cookies, pancakes, and biscuits, or in thickening soups, sauces, etc.
- * This fact has long been familiar to commercial bakers and there is no reason why the housewife should not practice the same economy that they do.—E. V. D.

SAN FRANCISCO ARTIST DONS ORIENTAL COSTUME AS STROKE OF ECONOMY AND IN ORDER TO APPEAR 'NATTY' AS WELL

BY WILLIAM G. CAYCE
 (International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 26.—Dress reformers and style crackers found themselves blinking in the sunlight of reality, and Miss Doris Bothwell, talented artist and a member of San Francisco's Greenwich Village "coterie" set certainly started something when she appeared on the streets in a costume entirely new and novel to Americans in the line of woman's wearing apparel.

Miss Bothwell's garb is nothing more than the costume of an Oriental woman of the better middle class and solves the enigma for her as to the high price of clothing. She wears coat and trousers just as the women of San Francisco's Oriental section do. "My change from the American style was the result of necessity," said the coy little miss in explaining why she took up the new clothing idea.

Punch the Clock, Mr. Congressman

Representative Kiesel of New York is pushing his bill to have congressmen paid on an attendance basis. He would have a time clock, with a card for each member of Congress, installed at the Capitol. Here he is, on the right, demonstrating such a clock to other congressmen.

Underclothing Unnecessary
 Miss Bothwell's costume consists of trousers, coat and top-jacket of silk, without sleeves and usually of some pleasing color. For an oriental wardrobe is very compact, and several changes of clothes can be carried in the same space as can a fewer number of changes of American clothes.
 The wardrobe of Miss Bothwell consists of about four suits and will answer for every occasion, she says.
 "Another feature is that no underclothes—in the way of skirts—are needed, and they are very comfortable, more so than anything I've ever worn before," she said. "And the thing that tickles me is that I do not have to wear hat or gloves."
 So far Miss Bothwell has not taken wear hat or gloves, but announces she is having shoes—or rather, sandals—made to order, which will cost only $1.75 per pair.
 "When it is cold all you have to do is put on a couple of extra suits," she explained, in answer to the query as to how she kept warm on cool evenings.
 Not only is the young artist Oriental in her mode of dress, but also arranges her hair much as do the women of the Orient, and wears heavy jade earrings.
 Her plan is fast spreading to other American girls, for Chinese materials wear like iron, and the cost is a great deal less.
 "It seemed unusual at first, I admit, but I had to solve the high cost of clothes, and rather like the idea," she said, and announced concluded.
