Round-Up Will Break Even.
 That the Round-Up Association will have just about enough money to carry it over until next year's show was the statement of George C. Baer, business manager, this morning. No check has been made on the net proceeds for the three days, according to Mr. Baer, but from the figures that are available it is probable that just about enough funds will remain after the heavy expenses are met for the maintenance of the grounds and stock until 1922.

Art Classes Increase.
 There is a remarkable increase in the number of students in art at the high school this year, says Miss Carol Wurtenberger, instructor in art. There are 27 pupils enrolled in this branch, as compared with the five enrolled last year. Miss Wurtenberger, who in addition to her work at high school teaches art in the grade schools also, is planning an art exhibit for the near future. It will be similar to that held last year. Gesso work, a new feature, will be taught by Miss Wurtenberger this term.

Forester Is Here.
 A. O. Waha, assistant district forester in charge of operation, is a Pendleton visitor and is conferring today with J. C. Kuhns, Umatilla forest supervisor. Mr. Waha, who recently returned after an inspection trip to the Ochoco forest and who is now on his way to the Wallowa forest, says that the season has been a fortunate one so far as forest fires are concerned. The danger from fires he states, is practically over. There are but few burners in the forest now, Mr. Waha says.

Bankers Go To Portland.
 Bankers of Pendleton and from other points in Umatilla county are in Portland today where a meeting is scheduled with the federal reserve officials. Among those who left last night from here are Judge J. W. Maloney, president of the Inland Empire Bank, J. B. McCook, vice-president of the American National Bank, C. W. Paulus, cashier of the bank of Pilot Rock, and Fred Moes, cashier of the Helly Bank. G. M. Rice, president of the First National Bank left Sunday for Portland.

Idleman Remembers Warren
 Sometimes it pays newspaper owners to have newboys with good memories, and it is possible that President Warren G. Harding will be glad that one of his former carriers now lives in Oregon when he receives a box of fancy Delicious apples which were shipped last night by Gray Bros. Grocery for P. L. Idleman. The apples were grown by John Rose on the upper Walla Walla river in the Milton district. Mr. Rose personally selected and packed the fruit contained in the box. Perry Idleman used to carry papers on the Marion, Ohio, Star in the days when the president was a mere editor.

UNEMPLOYMENT ISSUE IS SOLVED BY BANK

By H. C. HAMILTON
 International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Sept. 27.—Merchants and farmers of this section of Florida—known the world over mainly as a winter resort—declare there is no business depression for them, and one of the reasons, the chief one, in fact, is that T. T. Reese, president of the Farmers' Bank and Trust Company, has seen to it that the city's labor is kept busy.

The only employment bureau operated by a bank in the United States is what the people of West Palm Beach and Palm Beach call Mr. Reese's venture. Whether this is accurate Mr. Reese himself was unable to state, but he did say he did not know of any other similar agency for absorbing a community's labor.

The idea was born just after the armistice was signed, Mr. Reese told a representative of the International News Service. There came news of many men out of employment, and Mr. Reese wanted to help employes and labor to get together—with the added incentive of new friends for his bank and consequent increase in deposits. More than 500 men have been placed in positions since the venture began, and it is still in operation.

Most of the positions filled were those of stenographers, bookkeepers, cashiers, boat captains, pilots, engineers, cooks, butlers, laundresses, housekeepers, landscape gardeners, caretakers and mechanics of all kinds. The latter class is in greatest demand and keeps the bank in constant touch with the huge number of winter residents of this section.

Three Fourths Make Good
 Mr. Reese makes it a point to personally interview every person "placed," before that person takes up his new duties, and the record shows that more than three-fourths of the men and women have made good. The figures are accurate, because most of their open accounts with the bank, impression it makes on a man to be placed in a position through a bank," said Mr. Reese. "We believe here that the free employment bureau, if adopted generally by the banks, will go a long way toward solving employment problems."

Venture Successful.
 The employment bureau in reality is an offspring of a previous venture. When the war began to take Mr. Reese's stenographers, cashiers, tellers and other employes he had to cast about for men to take their places, and he found the market short, so he established a night school in the bank, and, with himself one of the instructors, began to give free instruction in these professions to young people. Seventy-two young men and women responded to his first call for pupils. Eventually he used up all the material at hand and had taught stenography, bookkeeping, typewriting, etc., to all those available. Having filled the market with the potential workers he employed as many as he could and then started out to find positions for others. The venture was so successful that he resolved to do what he could to find places for others.

"The night school has been discontinued, but Mr. Reese said he stands ready to renew it if occasion demands. He is a competent telegraph operator, stenographer and bookkeeper, professions through which he passed during the rise to his present position.
