FARRAR-HARVEY WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Marian Farrar, of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Joseph Harvey of Pendleton, was solemnized in Twin Falls on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Farrar with Rev. W. W. Burks of the Christian church officiating.

The ceremony was read amid a lovely hower of pink and white cosmos, used with ferns. In the living room, a color scheme of yellow was used and the dining room was in autumn tones. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. James Hall sang "Because," with piano accompaniment by Miss Gladys Orr. The bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Orr.

Little Helen Cliff, in white organdie frock with sash of pink, was flower girl and scattered pink and white rose petals in the path of the bride. Miss Farrar looked charming in a wedding gown of white tulle and satin. She carried a shiver bouquet of roses, lily and ribbon.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served, Miss Neva Claire, Miss Hazel Parish and Miss Martha Farrar, in dainty frocks of organdie, assisting in serving.

Guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Farrar, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Harvey, Miss Martha Farrar, George Harvey, Ruth Harvey, Agnes Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Patrick of Boise, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Patrick, Mrs. J. D. Farrar, Miss Minnie Farrar, Miss Louise Patrick, Mrs. Anna Patrick, Mrs. Josie

Scott, Mr. and Mrs. James Hall, Miss Gladys Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Wall, Mrs. Chester Cliff, Mrs. E. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Burks, Misses Neva Claire and Hazel Parish.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Farrar and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patrick left by motor for Shoshone, where Mr. and Mrs. Harvey left for Pendleton.

For her traveling attire, the bride chose a gown of navy blue, worn with hat of burnt orange.

The bride is a charming girl and socially popular in Twin Falls. Mr. Harvey is city editor of the East Oregonian.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED.

Mrs. Eliza Patrick entertained at a party Monday evening, honoring Miss Marian Farrar, bride-elect. The evening was spent informally. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patrick, Mrs. Josie Scott, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Farrar, Miss Martha Farrar, Miss Marian Farrar and Joseph Harvey.—Twin Falls Times.

MISS THOMPSON CHOSEN.

Miss Helen Thompson of this city, who is attending University of Washington, has been chosen as a member of the University Home Coming committee. Home Coming week will be held the week-end of the Pennsylvania-Washington game, December 1 to 3.

MRS. SMYTHE RETURNS.

Mrs. Dan P. Smythe returned this morning from Portland where she was called by the illness of her mother Mrs. L. E. Kern.

PIONEER PARTY GIVEN.

The pioneer days of Pendleton, when the city was a small hamlet of only a few houses, were brought back to the memory of two hundred fifty guests who last night attended the annual Pioneer Party, for which the Pioneer Ladies' Club were hostesses at the home of Mrs. W. F. Matlock, on Garden street.

The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated in autumn foliage, Halloween symbols being used most effectively. Witches and ghosts flitted about the room in the mellow light cast by the jack-o'-lanterns.

The program for the evening was most delightful. Mrs. Mary Lane gave a song and dance from the days of the past, and Mrs. W. B. Mays gave two character sketches, one in which she impersonated a farmer and another in which she was the ancient spinster indulging in "The Old Maid's Soliloquy." Mrs. W. F. Matlock sang a quaint tune popular years ago. All three ladies are prominent pioneers.

By a coincidence, the party last evening marked the sixty-sixth birthday of Mrs. Mays. She was honored by the presentation of a great white birthday cake, lighter with candles and presented on a tray.

The stately Virginia reel and the intricate figures of the old-fashioned square dances were among the diversions of the evening. Frank Frazier and Arthur Gibson "called" the dances, which were followed by some of the modern steps.

Cider was served from an ivy-hung barrel, and in the dining room refreshments were served with Mrs. Mays and Mrs. Frank Frazier presiding at the table.

DELPHIAN CLUB MEETS.

Mrs. H. D. Sayer and Mrs. G. W. Byers were hostesses yesterday afternoon for an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Sayer.

For the program Mrs. J. T. Richardson discussed "Younger Edda," Mrs. Jennie MacMaster gave a talk on "Thor and the Giant," Mrs. Fred Lieualten spoke on "The Death of Balder," and Mrs. L. M. Spalding addressed the club on "Fripplor of Angantyr." Mrs. E. B. Aldrich sang two pleasing solos, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," by Cadman, and "Little Rosebud Joe," by Hamilton, Mrs. Alger Fee proving a skilled accompanist.

Pink chrysanthemums were used in decorating. During the tea hours, Mrs. G. W. Phelps and Mrs. Aldrich presided at the tea table.

ENTERTAIN WITH PARTY.

Mrs. M. S. Kern and Mrs. Walter Adams entertained this afternoon with the second of a series of bridge parties, at the home of Mrs. Kern on Riverside. Halloween decorations were used, the color scheme being carried out in chrysanthemums. A great basket of the fall flowers was used most effectively for the centerpiece in the dining room, where Mrs. Edwin Winter, Mrs. Westey Matlock and Mrs. Fred Lieualten assisted the hostesses in serving. Guests sufficient to make up seven tables of bridge were present, additional guests calling for tea. Mrs. Kern and Mrs. Adams entertained with a similar party yesterday, six tables being in play and Mrs. Roscoe I. Keator winning the high score trophy.

PARTY IS GIVEN.

Carolyn Thompson and Harold Thompson, children of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Thompson, were hosts last evening for an enjoyable Halloween party at the home of their parents on Ruley street. Appropriate decorations were used for the rooms, where games were enjoyed during the evening. Guests for the affair were: Sylvia Lonergan, Barbara Lieualten, Grace Mason, Jane Winter, Marion Averill, Minnie Welch, James Ferguson, Howard Jacobson, Charles Albert, Edgar Averill, John Williams and Darwin Benson.

LEGION WOMEN 9,000 STRONG, WILL MEET

BY THOMAS WRIGLEY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 29.—While the members of the American Legion through the streets of Kansas City to greet Marshal Foch, Admiral Beatty, Generals Diaz, Jacques and Pershing at the organization's third annual national convention here October 31-November 2, the Legion's Women's Auxiliary will hold a meeting of almost equal importance.

Organized only one year ago, the Auxiliary is preparing to hold its first annual national convention in conjunction with the Legion gathering. More than 1000 delegates and 8000 guests, representing every state and Hawaii, will attend. The Kansas Auxiliary department one has made reservation for a delegation of 3600.

The accomplishment of a national organization is the main purpose of the Auxiliary gathering. Only a few months ago the Women's Auxiliary had no permanent organization. It was an intangible, miscellaneous assemblage of relatives of ex-service men who desired to aid the American Legion in its work in behalf of veterans of the World War. It was one of a number of similar organizations.

At the first convention of the American Legion at Minneapolis, in 1919, a number of women's organizations sought recognition as the official "little sister" of the Legion. The convention delegates voted to consolidate these groups under the name of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion as the official organization of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of Legion members and of men who died in the service. Its field was declared to be the same as during the war and its principles to be based on those of the Legion.

The growth of the Auxiliary was so extensive that greater freedom in its workings became necessary. The second convention of the Legion at Cleveland recognized this situation and voted a hands-off policy, but agreed to back it with all the machinery of the Legion. Authorization for the formation of state departments, the holding of state conventions and the eventual assembling of a national convention was granted by the Legionaires. The result of this action was that the Auxiliary membership has grown more than two hundred per cent during the past year, and the number of its units has increased since January

1 from 1342 to 3600. It is organized by departments in thirty-five states, and ten other departments are in process of formation.

Argue Name Changing.
Two vital questions which will be considered at the Kansas City convention are the name for the organization and qualifications for eligibility. Some departments desire that the name, "Women's Auxiliary," be retained, but others wish to have the organization assume the name of "The Women of the American Legion." A large group of Auxiliary workers feel that the limitation for membership to the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters is too severe and that the more remote relatives should be included. National officers, to serve for the coming year, will be elected and a national organization effected.

The delegates for the Auxiliary from the state department organizations have been determined by the size of membership. One delegate is allowed for each thousand paid-up members. Five delegates at large will be accredited from each department. The unorganized departments will have five delegates, who will have the privilege of the floor, but no vote.

Club and Auxiliary members in Kansas City are making extensive plans for the entertainment of the visiting women. They will be housed in the best homes; business and social clubs will be opened to them; automobiles will carry them through the beautiful parks and boulevards of the city.
