Wheat—It was a weak wheat market from the start, gathering momentum as it declined into new low ground, and bringing in heavy liquidation of long contracts. Bull news was hard to find until shortly before the close when it developed that a fair export business was being done on the break. It was reported early that both Greek and Portugal orders had been withdrawn for the time being. Conditions of wheat at the Gulf was again brought to the attention of the trade, together with advices from Canada telling of embargo being likely in the near future. Today's decline was somewhat abrupt and a little rally tomorrow would not be surprising.
