PENDLETON POST OF AMERICAN LEGION MEET AND NOMINATE OFFICERS

Clem Werst, Fred Lieuallen and Charles Randall are Candidates for Post Commander.

Clem Werst, Dr. Fred Lieuallen and Charles W. Randall for post commander, Dr. C. W. Lassen and Leslie Gibbs for vice-commander, Cyril Proebstel for adjutant, Lyman Rice, treasurer, and Harry Owen, chaplain and Rudy Molner, historian, are the nominations made by Pendleton Post No. 25, American Legion at the regular meeting held last night.

The men nominated as members of the executive committee, of which five will be chosen, are Tom Keating, Tom Serrey, Jim Bowler, Ernest Crockett, Harold Warner, Harold Brock, Perry L. Idelman, Charles Despain, Joe Harvey and Charles Vintler. The election of officers will be held at the December meeting and these officers will be installed at the January meeting.

Plans were practically completed for the observance of Armistice Day in Pendleton. A parade including veterans of all wars, the Boy Scouts, the Red Cross, and other organizations, special exercises in the Rivolt theatre, and a football game in the afternoon between Baker and Pendleton high school teams are some of the attractions which will help to make for fun during the day.

Lyman G. Rice, member of the Veterans' State Aid Commission, was present and explained at length the provisions of the law which his commission is helping put into effect. Many questions were asked about the practical working of the law which Mr. Rice answered.

Following the business session the entire body of men repaired to the French restaurant where "cats" were enjoyed. A letter of congratulations was ordered sent to the newly organized post of the American Legion at Pilot Rock. The post there has been formed within the past few weeks, and a special program is being arranged for the observance of Armistice Day. Harold J. Warner will be the principal speaker of the day.

COUNTY COURT MEMBERS DRAW MILEAGE WHILE TRAVELING IN COUNTY CAR WITH COUNTY GAS

Criticism is being expressed against the members of the county court because they have been collecting mileage for the trips they have taken on road inspections, the trips are made in the county car which is driven by Roadmaster L. J. Shannon, and each member of the court and the roadmaster collect mileage of seven and one-half cents a mile. The county furnishes the gas and oil, according to the statement of members of the court. When asked what mileage is collected by the court, Judge L. M. Schanep and Commissioner G. L. Dunning declared this morning that they each collect 10 cents a mile but that collectively they turn back to the county 10 cents a mile for the use of the car. In other words, four men usually make inspection trips, and a reduction of 10 cents a mile is made to the county, and each of the four men are allowed seven and one-half cents a mile, while all expense is borne by the county. "Our action is in accord with a lengthy opinion which was furnished us by the attorney-general of the state," the two members of the county court said this morning. "The law covering this question of mileage went into effect January 1, and before we took any action we sought and received the opinion of the legal department of the state." Ask Budget Cuts. A letter is sent to all of the county officers by the republican central committee requesting them to cut their budgets 10 per cent below last year if possible, according to action taken last night when republicans foregathered at the court house in a session to thresh out questions which have arisen during the past week as a result of the trouble which has developed between the sheriff and the county court. All Not "Harmonious." This was the report made by prominent workers this morning of the (Continued on page 5.)

POLITICIANS WATCH 'OFFYEAR' ELECTIONS; ANXIOUS TO SEE IF REPUBLICAN TRIUMPH HAS LOST ANYTHING IN INTERVENING MONTHS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(U. P.)—Politicians here are watching the "off-year" elections. They feel that while the nations elections today have little effect on the general political situation yet the trend is worth watching. In Virginia, the republicans hold a strong hope of electing their candidate as governor, while the southern part of the state will probably stage a landslide for the democratic candidate. In Ohio, the soldier's bonus attracts the votes for or against. In New York City, Mayor Hylan is running ahead of the fusion candidate in a bitter election. Politicians are particularly anxious to ascertain if last November's republican triumph has lost anything in the intervening months.

P.)—Six men were killed and five wounded in an election fight shortly after the polls opened at the Claypole voting precinct on Troublesome creek, Breathitt county, near here today. The dead are: Cleveland Combs, Leslie Combs, Ephren Allen, George Allen, John Roberts and George Macintosh. The fighting is reported to have started when Edward Combs, an uncle of the Combs boys, who was defeated in the primary as a candidate for the democratic nomination for county judge and had been supporting the republican nominee, entered the polling place and attempted to give orders to the election officers. His relatives remonstrated and the fight grew out of the argument, the shooting becoming general.

ATTORNEYS BATTLE OVER WHICH PRISONER TO TRY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—(U. P.)—Attorneys for the defense and prosecution are battling in court today over which shall be first tried for the murder of Helton Kennedy, Madalynn Olsenchalk, "the woman in the case," or Arthur Borch, who was ruled as sane yesterday in Judge Reeves court. Attorneys for both the defendants seem combined to bring Madalynn to trial first, on the grounds that she stands the best chance of acquittal, with the decision in the first case liable to effect the one tried later. The prosecution is insisting that Borch face trial first. Judge Reeves declared Borch sane yesterday after reviewing the affidavits on both sides. The defense had requested that Borch be tried for guilt before facing the murder charge. Borch insisted he was sane, objecting to his own lawyers attempt to prove him insane.

PROGRESSIVE CLUB OPPOSES USE OF STATE FUNDS ON WALLULA ROAD WHILE HIGHWAYS NEEDED BY OREGON ARE LEFT UNCARED FOR

Action in vigorous opposition to the building of the so called Wallula cut-off was taken today by the Progressive Business Club at the regular weekly luncheon of that organization. The action taken followed submission of a report by a committee of which L. L. Rogers is chairman. The report set forth that the proposed road is of no value to Eastern Oregon and that it would be very unjust to use Eastern Oregon's quota of the state road fund for such a purpose when there are other roads of real value to this section of the state needing construction.

Twenty-five years ago today Umatilla county was to all appearances moved into the polar region, at least insofar as weather conditions counted, because on November 8, 1896 a snow was falling which finally measured 24 inches in depth. And as soon as the snowfall was complete, at the mercury in the old thermometer went coasting down hill and never stopped until it reached the twenty-fourth notch below zero. Lot Livermore recalls the time very vividly because that was the coldest November that this section of the state has ever had a topic of interest to pale faces. Cattle died by the hundreds and thousands, and the Indians skinned and the carcasses of the beasts which sold at 25 cents each. One of the singular things about the freak of the weather was the fact that the temperature rose decidedly toward the end of the month, and the rest of the winter was very mild. Mr. Livermore, in talking about the weather, declared that a more striking contrast in the weather could not be easily imagined than that existing then and now.
