owd to Be in Grandstand Spectators at the Pendleton-Baker Spectators at the Pendleton-Baker high school football game on Armis tice Day are to be kept in the grand stand, as the field has been wired off to keep the crowds off the grounds. For the fans who must see the play at close range, additional bleachers have been provided near the bleachers reserved for high school rooters, on the north side of the field. Dick Hanley, high school coach, says that the matter of patrolling the wires will be in the hands of members of the American Legion Post. Officials for the game will be Homer Angel, of Baker, former University of Oregon football player, referee; and Tracey Baker, of Pen-dieton, former University of Washingon captain, umpire:

A $20 PAIR OF SHOES REDUCED TO $1

Much to their surprise, she offered these shoes, which she had worn but a few times, to anybody who would take them, for one dollar. The shoes had cost $20.

She gave as the reason for her strange offer the fact that she was suf-fering terribly from come and could find no comfort when she were these

One of her Liends suggested that if she tried the A. D. S. New Method Corn Treatment her corns would disappear and her heautiful $20 shoes could again be worn.
