NEW JAP PREMIER IS RATED CHINA'S FRIEND

TOKIO, Nov. 12.—(U. P.)—Baron Korekyo Takahashi was made premier of Japan today, succeeding former Premier Hara, who was assassinated. Takahashi was finance minister in the Hara cabinet. He is considered China's friend and opposed to Japan's militarists in China. His appointment is a victory for the Japanese liberal element, and is a militarist concession to popular opinion. Takahashi believes Japan can strengthen herself as a world power by making China her friend. The late premier Hara also thought this, but lacked the strength to carry it through.

STRONG PATRIOTIC SERMON BY HENSHAW

(By W. A. Gressman.)
Before a large audience last night at the Christian church, Evangelist Henshaw gave a most inspiring and forceful sermon on the subject, "Better Citizenship." He said: "Americans ought to be proud of their citizenship. In every crisis we have been able to meet the situation. No nation is greater than its citizenship, and its citizenship is determined by the ideals it holds. Americanism is more than the waving of flags or the shouts of resentment against things disliked. It is a fundamental principle of Americanism that law shall be supported; also, that men should be unselfish and just, and should conserve that which is beautiful, good and true. For these same things the church of Christ stands. With the present tendency of crime and the present philosophy of life, we are advancing toward ruin. Infidelity's philosophy is selfish and where infidelity prevails we find a sea of anarchy. Infidel philosophy led Germany to war and ruin. But Christian philosophy will make a Christian citizenship. Since the fundamental principles of our constitution center in Jesus Christ, every American ought to be a Christian American. The only hope of America lies in the church. Three persons united with the church at the close of the sermon. The children did splendidly with their singing and Bible exercises, and their presentations were warmly received by the audience. A duet by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis also added much to the other strong features of the music. Sunday is to be a great day with Bible school at 9:45 and sermon at 11. In the afternoon at three o'clock that day Evangelist Henshaw will give a lecture entitled, "Beautiful Queen Vashti." A large crowd is expected to hear this lecture. At the evening service at 7:30 he will speak on the subject: "Why Be Baptized?" The ordinance of Christian baptism will be administered before the sermon. (No services Saturday evening.)

WHEAT MARKET IS SOME STRONGER TODAY

With December wheat closing at $1.09 1/4 and May wheat at $1.13 3/8, the wheat quotations in the Chicago grain market show strength after yesterday's holiday. Thursday's quotations were December wheat $1.04 3/4 and May $1.09 1/4. The quotations are as follows:
Wheat:
Dec. 1.05 1/2 High 1.09 1/2 Low 1.04 3/4 Close 1.05 1/2
May 1.10 1/2 High 1.14 1/2 Low 1.04 3/4 Close 1.10 1/2
Corn:
Dec. .46 3/4 High .47 1/2 Low .46 1/4 Close .46 3/4
May .52 1/2 High .53 1/2 Low .52 1/4 Close .52 1/2
Wheat—The strength on foreign markets was the chief stimulus here with the close at a net gain of 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents over Thursday's. The extreme advance was in the December delivery which was reflected in development in food milling demand for all grades of wheat. Stocks of contract wheat in Chicago are not large and any broadening of outside milling improvement might easily create a strong position before the end of December. Bearish news from Canada was without influence. A Winnipeg message reported bids out of line, and said it looked as if Winnipeg prices were to come to working basis under the United States markets which would enable their wheat to come into this country duty paid. The pronounced strength in securities has created a feeling of optimism as to commodity values especially in the east and buying of wheat from that section of country of short proportions, and prices are apt to work irregularly higher, although we would like to see an improvement in the export situation before taking an aggressive position on the buying side of futures.

Princeton's turn came in the second period when a double forward pass, Cleves to Snively to Garrity, gained nine yards, and a gain by Laurie placed the ball in Princeton's possession on the Tiger 14 yard line. AMPLIFIER USED. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Thousands of persons here this morning heard President Harding deliver his Armistice Day address to Washington. The exposition auditorium was jammed by those anxious to hear the president's message in his own voice. His words came clear and strong over 2000 miles of wire. They were amplified by a war invention known as the magnavox until his tones carried to every corner of the building. Moreover, for the thousands who could not get inside, instruments were also installed on the cornice of the auditorium, throwing the chief executive's words out over the Civic Center plaza.

San Francisco thereby really heard the president better than if he had spoken here in person, unaided.

PRESIDENT HARDING ASKS THAT WAR GOD BE SEEN AS OUTLAW

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Outlaw war and cut armament, President Harding urged in opening the great conference on the limitation of armament in Continental Hall here today. "One hundred millions frankly want less of armament and none of war," he told the assembled delegates.

President Harding offered no specific program. He devoted himself entirely to impressing on the delegates the world hunger for peace and relief from the crushing burdens of big armaments.

Standing at the head of the conference table, he pleaded for frank, straightforward exchange of views without suspicion and resort to intrigue.

No pride need be humbled and no nationality need be submerged in the effort to reach world peace, President Harding said. But, he warned, "there can be no cure without sacrifice."

America, he explained, goes into the conference with unselfish hands, suspecting no enemy, harboring no fears, neither contemplating nor apprehending conquest—bent only upon doing that "finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone."

Civilization, President Harding declared, has today come to its crucial test. The address was one of the shortest set speeches he ever made.

The conclusions of this body will have a signal influence on all human progress—the fortunes of the world, the president said, admitting that it is impossible to over estimate its importance.

He expressed gratification at addressing representatives of the nations with whom the United States was associated in the world war.

The conference, he believes, "is an earnest of the awakened conscience of twentieth century civilization."

PEACE PROCLAMATION TO BE ISSUED SOON

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVED

Armistice Day was observed all over Umatilla county yesterday with special programs. At Pilot Rock a barbecue was held, and a big steer was roasted in a specially prepared pit. After the services in the morning which included an address by Harold Warner, everyone in the town joined in the feed. A special invitation to ex-service men of Pendleton to attend the barbecue was extended by telephone, and more than 30 men, some of them in uniform, were taken to Pilot Rock in special cars. They formed in a body at the edge of town and marched through the streets singing, "Hail, Hail, the Gangs All Here." At Hermiston special services were also held. Rev. Alfred Lockwood delivered the address of the afternoon at the theater which was packed to the doors. A huge crowd was present at the Apple Show which was given by the Milton-Freewater communities.

U.S. OFFERS TO ABANDON WORK NOW UNDERWAY

Proposal Contingent Upon Similar Action by Britain and Japan; Old Ships to Go.

BATTLESHIP HOLIDAY FOR 10 YEARS ASKED

Hughes Chosen Chairman of Conference; Session to be Resumed at 11 Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(A. P.)—America's concrete proposals for limitation of naval armaments, the crux of the arms conference, was presented today by Secretary Hughes at the very opening of the first session. A naval holiday, in which all building programs should be abandoned and older ships of the present navies be scrapped, was the keynote of the American proposal. Hughes laid down four general principles:

1.—That all capital ships building programs, either actual or projected, should be abandoned. This included the scrapping of vessels on which the United States had spent over $300,000,000. A commensurate action by Great Britain and Japan was proposed.

Hughes Is Applauded. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—(U. P.)—Applause interrupted Hughes when he said with emphasis, "Competition in armaments must stop."

When he said the conference had been called for action rather than for mere resolutions, the house and senate rose in a body from the balcony seats and uttered the famous "rebel yell." When Hughes finished talking, the galleries shouted for Briand, greeting him with tremendous applause when he rose from where the French delegation sat.

Briand Is Cautious. "When President Harding invited the nations to this conference," said Briand, "My country instantly answered 'here,' my country was actuated first by gratitude, they by aspirations for peace. If it is possible to obtain the security to which she is entitled, France is ready to say 'Down arms.'"

"Japan," then the crowd demanded, Prince Tokugawa, head of the Nippon delegation, speaking in English said: "Japan is here to promote honest friendships among the nations, to carry out the plain dictates of common sense."

To Sink 66 Ships. WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(A. P.)—The American plan presented to the armament conference proposed a ten-year naval holiday and the immediate destruction by the three great powers of sixty six capital fighting ships with a total tonnage of 1,875,042. Within three months after making the agreement the navies would consist of designated and agreed upon ships as follows:

United States, 13. Great Britain, 22. Japan, 10. In total this would be, United States 500,650. Great Britain, 604,450. Japan 292,700.

Subject to a ten year holiday the capital ships would be replaced when twenty years old. No replacement ship would have a tonnage exceeding thirty five thousand.

Scrap Old Ships. That a further reduction be made through scrapping certain old ships. That in general, regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers concerned. That the capital ship tonnage should be used as measurements of the strength for the navies and the proportionate allowance of the auxiliary combatant craft prescribed. The United States would scrap all capital ships which this government now has under construction, 10 in number and 15 of the older battleships. As a replacement program Hughes proposed no more ships be laid down for the next ten years and that the maximum replacement tonnage figure be fixed providing eventually for half a million tons for the United States, half a million tons for Great Britain, and 200,000.

HOWAT WOULD CREATE LABOR-POLITICAL UNION
