IDEAS FOR HOUSEWIVES HOME DEMONSTRATION

- Before you open a bottle of milk, wash and wipe the outside of the cap with water and a clean cloth. The little depression at the top of the bottle collects dust or water, or milk, which may attract flies. Lift out the cap with a pointed instrument, so that the outside of the cap, which may be contaminated, will not be pushed down into the milk.
- Clean and seal the refrigerator where milk is stored, regularly with hot sal-soda solution. See that the drip pipe is kept clean and open.
- Even in the cleanest refrigerator, never keep milk in an open vessel. Milk absorbs odors easily.
- If there are babies or little children in your home, clean, cold, covered milk is absolutely essential.—V. D.

be able to distribute binding twine and carriage as far west as Echo, Oregon, a distance of 28 miles. Pendleton would be 73 miles from the wholesale territory by this route and all of the farmers living in that 73 miles would have to pay more for binding twine shipped through to Portland and then back over the same lines for their delivery—a double haul.

Farmers Penalized
However, this is not merely a matter of wholesale trade territory. If Pendleton is going to be charged $1.83 1-2 per hundred on binding twine it means that all farmers in the Pendleton territory will have to pay .53 31-2 cents per hundred more for their binding twine than will the farmers in the Willamette valley. There are thousands of pounds of binding twine used around Pendleton every year and if there is any justification for the farmers in Pendleton being taxed .53 1-2 cents per hundred more than the farmers who live 300 miles further on in the Willamette valley, I am not able to find it. It is a clear case of taxation without representation. It ought to be patent and self-evident that if the railroads can afford to haul this binding twine through Pendleton and on to Portland for $1.30, they surely can afford to drop it off at Pendleton, on their way through, at the same rate and I don't believe that the farmers will stand for this kind of taxation.

Here is another case that will be interesting to the farmers and wheat-growers of Pendleton. This proposed schedule of the carriers makes a very decided change in the rates in fencing. Taking a 150 acre field to be fenced with 25 inch hog tight fencing, figuring the weight of that fencing we find that under the new rate this fencing will cost the farmers at Pendleton $28.28 more than it will the farmers in Portland or in the Willamette valley. This does not provide either for any cross fencing. Every farmer who wants to put up any fencing in the Pendleton or eastern Oregon territory, if this schedule goes into effect, is going to have to pay $28.28 more for every 150 acre field and the farmer in the Willamette valley will get the benefit. Trusting this will give you some information of value to you I am, Sincerely yours, J. A. FORD, Secretary.

TAKES CARE OF 5 CHILDREN

Mrs. Taylor's Sickness Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Roxbury, Mass.—"I suffered continually with backache and was often despondent, had dizzy spells and at my monthly periods it was almost impossible to keep around at my work. Since my last baby came two years ago my back has been worse and no position I could get in would relieve it and doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have found great relief since using it. My back is much better and I can sleep well. I keep house and have the care of five children so my work is very trying and I am very thankful I have found the Compound such a help. I recommend it to my friends and if you wish to use this letter I am very glad to help any woman suffering as I was until I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MAUDE E. TAYLOR, 5 St. James Place, Roxbury, Mass.

Backache is one of the most common symptoms of a displacement or derangement of the female system. No woman should make the mistake of trying to overcome it by heroic endurance, but profit by Mrs. Taylor's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
