PLAN TO GIVE MARRIED WOMEN'S JOBS TO MEN STARTS AN ARGUMENT

Employment Ideas of Detroit Mayor Openly Combatted by Head of Women's League.

BY MARGERY REX (Written for International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Mayor James Couzens, of Detroit, wants to take married women out of office and simultaneously remove loafers from park benches.

This is his proffered solution of the present problem of unemployment.

While many men are out of work, numbers of married women are earning good salaries. Whether or not apportioning one salary to a family or giving up a married woman's job to a single man would be feasible has aroused some discussion.

Miss Rose Schneidermann, head of the Women's Trade Union League, questions the advisability of the plan, while Dr. Rudolph M. Binder, professor of sociology at New York University, is more in sympathy with Mayor Couzens' ideas.

"I am opposed to the idea of ousting these married women from their jobs to make way for idle men," Miss Schneidermann declared.

"The argument that they may not (have to) work is no more sensible than to say that there are many married men who don't have to work."

"Women's work as housewives and mothers has not been recognized or paid, and until the State does offer such recognition, why should not women have the right to seek employment and be self-supporting if they want to?"

"Married women have as much right to jobs and independence as single men have."

How Dr. Binder Views Case

We were wondering if some of the park bench idlers might not be the husbands of the married women with the good jobs, and if a wife's success in business doesn't often stultify a man's desire to achieve. With these questions we approached Dr. Binder.

"There is a good deal in the idea that a couple often does not get ahead in the world when both work," he said.

"Married women ought to be supported by their husbands, in any normally constituted society."

"It should be a man's job to look out for his wife and his children."

"Any society in which a married woman has to work presents an abnormal industrial condition."

"Women who look after their homes are amply employed. Houses require plenty of work to be presentable and comfortable homes."

"But I believe that there are few women working who don't have to be wage earners. If a married woman needs her job she should be allowed to keep it. It would not be right to take it away from her and give it to a single man who might be a 'bum' and not deserve it, nor be able to fulfill the requirements as well as the woman already in the position."

"That wouldn't be good for employers or employees."

"As for the married woman who works for mere pin money—or clothes money—to get finery with which to stir her neighbors to envy—she ought to be spanked."

Have Regular Spending Race

"If women earn money they feel they have the right to spend it. Then a husband with a salary-getting wife feels that he is freer to spend, too. Result—they both spend to the very limit of their resources."

"There is nothing left. They have no right to live that way."

"If a woman decides to marry she should be willing to have children and care for her home."

"The pioneer women of this country raised big families, worked for those families, and conserved the result of the husband's labors."

Miss Schneidermann's Opinion

But, in opposition to Dr. Binder's theories, Miss Schneidermann emphatically states:

"If society women want to work, they also have the right. It is good for people's souls to have steady occupation. Of course, they don't have to work as far as finances are concerned but rich men don't have to go down to offices and take up professions either, except for the satisfaction and self-respect they get out of honest endeavor."

"In many cases where married women work, when they don't need the money, there are circumstances existing that we don't know about. There may be something behind it."

"We have got to have a remedy for industrial conditions that produce idleness, but the only one so far—and it is only a palliative, not a remedy—is the unemployment insurance" proposition now widely used in Europe, where it has been tried and found effective. A small amount is given the unemployed—enough to keep them from being destitute."

"That would put the burden on the State and the employer. Without it the burden is all on the individual when business is slackened."

AMUSEMENTS

The announcement that "Yon Yonson" is soon to appear at the Alto Theatre in this city will be cheerful news, not only to the Scandinavian population, but to all theatre patrons who have a love of good clean comedy presented through the medium of such a charming story as "Yon Yonson."

It has been many years since this great Swedish-American play was first produced and its revival comes at a time when there is a great demand for plays of this character.

FIVE MILLION CHILDREN GET IMPROPER DIET

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(I. N. S.)—Over 5,000,000 school children in the United States are suffering from malnutrition, according to a bulletin issued by the National Tuberculosis Association recently. Malnutrition when carried far enough becomes plain starvation. The vast majority of these millions of little ones are malnourished as a result, not of insufficient food, but of improper food.

To relieve the situation a plan for instructing the children in correct health habits has been devised by the National Tuberculosis Association in co-operation with Dr. W. R. P. Emerson, of Boston, the nutrition expert, and will be inaugurated in schools throughout the country as soon as possible.

The plan will by no means be an experiment, since it will follow the lines of the Modern Health Crusade, in which over 6,000,000 school children of normal weight are now enrolled. In determining what children should be classified as malnourished, Dr. Emerson has decided, as a result of long study and careful observation, that a child more than 7 per cent under normal weight for his age and height is clearly suffering from malnutrition. It is on this basis that the estimate of 5,000,000 little ones of school age suffering from insufficient nourishment in this country has been made.

In the plan specially prepared for the benefit of the malnourished children each child will be required, through his teacher and parents, to keep a "chore record" card. This card, which is to be submitted at regular intervals to the teacher, indicates the performance of the following health chores, particularly adapted to the requirements of children suffering from malnutrition:

1. I was weighed this week on the day checked (x).

2. Besides a good breakfast and the noon and evening meals, I ate mid-morning and afternoon lunches, as directed.

3. I ate only wholesome food today, including vegetables, fruit, and drank at least a pint of milk, as directed, and tried always to eat and drink slowly.

4. I drank four glasses of water, some before each meal, and drank no tea, coffee nor any injurious drinks.

5. I went to the toilet at my regular time.

6. I was in bed last night ten or more hours, as directed; windows open.

7. I rested lying down not less than twenty-five minutes both this forenoon and this afternoon.

8. I played in the fresh air to-day, exercising for the time and in the way directed.

9. I washed by hands before each meal today.

10. I brushed by teeth thoroughly after breakfast and after the evening meal.

11. I took a full bath on each of the days of the week that is checked (x).

The chore records will also supply a table showing the normal weight that the child should have. His actual weight and normal weight will both be plotted on the chart on curves, so that children and parents can graphically picture the change in physical condition.

By doing the eleven chores faithfully four periods of not less than five, ten or fifteen weeks the child becomes a squire, knight or knight banneret and is entitled to wear the insignia of the Modern Health Crusade. When he gains normal weight he may earn advanced honors by performing standard Modern Health Crusade chores and be admitted to the Health Round Table through physical fitness tests.

With these chore records will be supplied information on nutrition clinics and nutrition classes for the training of children and mothers. "A malnourished child is an easy subject for tuberculosis," says Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, in the National Tuberculosis Association. "We shall try by means of these special chore records and with the co-operation of our State and local tuberculosis associations to bring as many of the millions of malnourished children as possible up to a proper standard of health, so that they may better resist the onslaughts of tuberculosis."

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(A. P.)—"Big Tim" Murphy, former state representative and gang leader and president of the gas workers and street sweepers union, has been sentenced to six years in Leavenworth, and fined $50,000 by Judge Landis today for his part in planning the $285,000 Dearborn Station mail robbery last April.

MOTORMAN NOT LOSING ANY TIME

"I don't think anyone ever suffered more from stomach trouble and bloating than I have. I had to lay off my run more than half the time and could get no help from prescriptions or medicine. One of my friends advised using May's Wonderful Remedy, which I found to be the greatest remedy ever put on the earth. I have not lost a day since taking it. It is worth its weight in gold." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—At druggists everywhere.
