Hogs Drop In Price At Portland

(From The Oregon Journal.)
 North Portland did its usual flop in the hog market, again reflecting weakness; cattle were about steady while sheep were on a nominal basis. Total run for Tuesday included eight cars but only slightly more than half were for the market.
 In the hog alleys, despite the fact that less than a carload came forward, the Tuesday market reflected weakness at North Portland. It appears that packers paid the price Monday for a few head and this gave them the chance to hold their dressed values aloft. The former extreme price of $9.25 disappeared quickly and the market was weak even at $9. It later dropped back to $8.75 for extreme tops.

Stocks Show Lack of Settlement

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—Stock market prices reflected fresh unsettledness yesterday, although the disturbances of Monday which were attributed to the disarmament proposals, seemed to exert less influence. Shares of companies likely to suffer reduction of operations from a naval holiday made partial recoveries. Equipments strengthened in spots on prospects of early announcement of the Pullman-Haskell merger and rumors that large contracts are soon to be awarded.
 Foreign oils were under attack, beginning with the European group and extending to Mexicana, the latter being affected by rumors that Mexico intends to add a heavy impost to its present export tax.
 Bails made a better showing than any other group, notwithstanding the unrest manifested in labor circles as a result of the proposed wage cut. More than a half score of high-grade issues made gross gains of 1 to 4 points, coal-ers and transcontinentals leading. These were partly impaired in the late selling pressure. Sales were 790,000 shares.
 Release of large sums in connection with the November 15 liberty interest payments created unusually easy money conditions. Call loan rates dropped from 5 to 4 per cent on the exchange at mid-day and the minimum figures were shaded on prime collateral in private transactions.
 Foreign exchange was featured mainly by the further rise of sterling to its highest level in several months. This rate reacted later on offerings of food and cotton bills and most continental remittances eased moderately.
 Strong investment conditions were denoted by the enormous over-subscriptions to the $50,000,000 New York Telephone 6 per cent bonds and the $10,000,000 Rio Grande de Sul issue. The telephone bonds sold at a premium for the public offering price during the day. Total sales, par value, $17,275,000.

Lower Argentine Wheat Forces Prices Down

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(A. P.)—Reported sales of new Argentine wheat at 6 cents a bushel under the cost of United States wheat had a depressing influence on wheat. Prices closed unsettled, 1 1/2-2c to 2 1/2-3c net lower, with December $1.94 to $1.94 1/2-3 and May $1.97 1/2-3 to $1.97 1/2-4. Corn finished unchanged to 3/8c higher, oats down 3/8-1/2c, and provisions varying from 2 1/2-3c decline to $50c advance.
 From the start, wheat showed leaning to the bear side, with attention of traders focusing largely on Argentina and Australia, owing to the near approach of harvest there. Crop conditions in both countries were reported favorable.
 Brisk export call for corn, with sales totaling 1,500,000 bushels for today and yesterday, helped to give firmness to corn. Oats, though, reflected the weakness of wheat.
 Provisions fluctuated in line with hog values. All deliveries of lard and ribs touched lowest prices this season, but rallied.

FAT WOMEN WADDLE TO GYMNASIUM TO REDUCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(U. S. S.)—The big scale of the Health Department created and named when thirty tons of women came for a tryout for the "reducing squad" which is to be a feature of the Health Exposition to be held here November 13 to 19.

An army of 300 ladies with "surplus upholstery" invaded the department, eager for an opportunity to join the squad of fifty to be given a special reduction course with exercises, lute, diet and training under the tutelage of a professional prize fighter.

The dear girls average about 200 pounds apiece with the total tonnage slated above.

When the Health Commissioner advertised for applicants for the reducing squad he held out a hope that amounted to a promise that each of the fifty members might be able to leave from fifty to one hundred pounds behind them when the exposition was over.

The Employer and the Employee

It has been proven time and again that the efforts of employers to encourage thrift and saving amongst their help, brought to them big returns. A worker who has a home of his own and a bank account of his own, is always more industrious, and is apt to be careful in his work and the handling of property.

The officers of this bank will gladly converse with employers or employees about this phase of business, and tell them how to start and systematically keep up a Savings account.
